Learn From Danny.
How Rich We Might Be.
The Baby's Ears.
Why Not Dwight Morrow?

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

Copyright, 1927.

FATHERS and sons, learn something from Danny McMahon. His father, one of the Tammany "big three," Murphy, Haffen and McMahon, gave his son a good education, died and left him $250,000. Now Danny, only 36 years old, having spent his money being a "good fellow," dies in Bellevue Hospital, New York, penniless, no friend with him.

To leave your son money, without having taught him how to use it, is to make misery your executor.

FIRE burns more than $559,000,000 a year in this country. The loss is $5.02 per capita for the United States, against 72 cents in Britain, 49 cents in France, 28 cents in Germany, 25 cents in Italy, 11 cents in Holland, etc.

YESTERDAY United States District Attorney Tuttle said: "The cost of crime is ten billions a year, according to the National Surety Company survey. Fences, receivers of stolen goods, alone take in three thousand million dollars' worth of private property."

How rich should we Americans be, if we were all careful, intelligent and honest?

MRS. SMITH had a baby in a Cleveland hospital. She and her husband said it was a boy, when they gave her a girl baby to nurse. The father says: "They can keep that girl, so far as I am concerned, unless they prove it is mine." Something of a predudice against girl babies in that, perhaps.

One proof offered is that the girl baby's ears are exactly like those of the mother. That is most important. Human ears and the "Darwinian tubercle" that sometimes goes with them are often inherited from generation to generation, and prove heredity at a glance.

Anyhow, ANY girl baby will re-

FIGHTERS AWAIT OPENING BELL

BULLETIN.

CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—(AP.)—Jack Dempsey tipped the beam at 192½ pounds this afternoon when he weighed in officially before the state athletic commission for tonight's 10-round battle with Gene Tunney. This was nearly four pounds less than the experts figured the ex-champion would scale, and was accepted as an indication of excellent condition. Tunney was to weigh in later.

By HARRY KECK,
Sun-Tele Sports Editor.

CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—Fight-mad Chicago tensely awaits the flashing of fistic arms at the Soldier Field Stadium tonight, when a crowd of 150,000 to 170,000, the greatest in the history of the sport, will look on and mililons of others will tune in on radios as Gene Tunney, heavyweight champion of the world, makes his first defense of his laurels against the thrusts of Jack Dempsey, the man from whom he won it, just a year ago, lacking one day, at the Sesqui-Centennial Stadium in Philadelphia.

Fight-mad Chicago is correct. Everywhere one language is being spoken, the language of the prize ring. Women and children, as well as men, are talking Tunney and Dempsey to the exclusion of all other topics. There is hustling and bustling such as this town has not known since the Army-Navy football game, which was played in the same stadium last fall, and such as never before has been known for a fistic event here.

RUMORS FLY.

Street corners, hotel and club lobbies, private homes are swarming with humanity, and a frenzied humanity it is. There is talk of betting odds, physical condition, rumors of sharp practices, reports that the principals have met with last-minute mishaps that will impair their chances, talk of ticket scandals, talk, talk, talk—all fight talk. It is the Bedlam of

ARMED TRIO HOLD HER CAPTIVE

Torn from the side of her sweetheart and brutally attacked by three armed Negroes early this morning, Miss Frances Klein, of Midway, Pa., 20, is in a serious condition in Montefiore Hospital, where she is in training to be a nurse.

A posse of city detectives scoured the Hill and Oakland districts for the attackers, who left their victim unconscious in a lonely spot, after the outrage was committed. The girl staggered into the hospital four hours after the attack, too dazed and exhausted to give a clear account of her experience with her abductors.

According to Charles Connor, 22, 3482 Webster avenue, he and Miss Klein were sitting in his automobile in the rear of Pitt Stadium shortly after midnight when a Negro, whom he describes as about 3. years old, five feet eight inches tall, and wearing a brown felt hat and a black suit, approaching the car.

He drew a gun and ordered them both from the car and into the adjoining field, where two companions awaited him. As they were walking ahead of the assailant, Connors said, he succeeded in escaping and he made his way to 322 Darragh street, where he telephoned Oakland police.

Police were sent to the district, but no trace of the girl's abductors could be found. Nearly four hours later Montefiore Hospital authorities called the Oakland station to notify police that Miss Klein had returned. She was in a highly nervous condition, they said, and was unable to give a connected account of her experience.

Lieut. Martin O'Toole was sent to the hospital in an effort to get information which might aid in the capture of the Negroes, but hospital authorities, he reported, refused to permit him to see her.

FRANCES KLEIN
Taken from her sweetheart by three armed Negroes, Miss Klein, a nurse, of Midway, Pa., was attacked and beaten in a field near the Pitt Stadium. Montefiore Hospital physicians said she was in a state of nervous collapse.

SECOND CHILD IN FAMILY STRICKEN IN JOHNSTOWN

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Sept. 22.—Robert Varner, 5, today was found suffering from infantile paralysis, the second member of his family afflicted. His sister, Winifred, 4, has been ill two weeks. Three additional cases were reported at Barnesboro. The schools there have been ordered fumigated.

THE WEATHER.

Mostly cloudy tonight and Friday; continued cool.

Heavy Vote Rebukes Gang

Revised figures from Tuesday's elections confirms earlier reports that three independents—Judges Richard H. Martin and James M. Gray and Frank P. Patterson—had broken the organization judicial slate.

Returns from all but seven of the 1,416 districts in the county show Judge Joseph M. Swearingen leading the ticket with 137,196 votes, 3,500 ahead of Martin, whose showing was the surprise of the primary. Without organization he not only upset the calculations of the slate makers, but forged his way close to the top of the ticket.

Unofficial returns from the same number of districts showed Gray, Marshall, Patterson, Ford and McVicar in the last four places on the ticket. Gray, another independent, fought his way to the top of this list to land in sixth place. Marshall, the returns show, is about 500 votes behind Gray.

Patterson followed Marshall by about 1,500 votes, Ford being 15 behind him. The revised figures show Mc-

HORNSBY SMACKS HOMER

By CHARLES J. DOYLE.

FORBES FIELD, Sept. 22.—The Pittsburgh Pirates defeated the New York Giants in the first game of today's double-header, thereby increasing their lead in the National League to four and one-half games over the McGrawmen.

ABANDONER OF CHILD FREED

The story of her struggle to care for her newly born baby won Mrs. Mercedes Courtney, 21, her freedom in Morals Court today.

She was arraigned on a charge of child abandonment following her arrest in the Kenmar Hotel. It was testified she had left her baby, Clara May, in the care of Mrs. Charles McDonald, [illegible] Fisk street, and had failed to return.

Then Mrs. Courtney told her story—a story of privation and desertion, of wandering about the city's streets during the last few weeks before her child was born. At the last moment, she gained admission to St. Francis Hospital and left with her baby without advising officials there of her financial condition. For several months she managed to carry on in cheap rooming houses but finally, about a week ago, came to the point where food and shelter were no longer obtainable.

Then she took her child to Mrs. McDonald, she said.

She was placed in custody of Miss Annie McFedries, social worker, and arrangements were made to keep the baby at the Presbyterian Hospital for 10 days. After that, Mrs. Courtney is to place it in a home, hoping that by that time she will find work so that she can pay the necessary expenses.

INSIST MEXICO PUNISH SLAYER

By Universal Service.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—The Mexican government is asked to insist upon a rigid prosecution of Javier Diaz, charged with the murder of Arthur Brewer of Boston, at Guadalajara, on June 1, last.

This is the third note which the State Department has handed the Mexican government in this case. The first two requested the arrest of Diaz, and charged that officials had made no effort to arrest, although Diaz's whereabouts were well known. The latest note charges that the Guadalajara courts are making an effort to "whitewash" the case.

LOCAL AGENT'S CAR ROBBED

WHEELING, W. Va., Sept. 22—(AP)—E. F. Vollbrecht, Pittsburgh electrical salesman, reported to police at noon today his car, left in the business section for two hours, had been broken open and robbed of jewelry and other valuables in three grips valued at $1,500.

MONON COAL OUTPUT SHOWS IMPROVEMENT

MONONGAHELA, Pa., Sept. 22.—The coal output in the central region of the Monongahela valley is improving. Shipments by both rail and river are increasing, operators say. The Vesta Coal Company and the Acme Coal and Coke Company are scheduled to start several large mines within the next week or 10 days.

8-Year Auto Toll Exceeds U. S. War Dead.

WASHINGTON.—More people have been killed by automobiles in the United States during the last eight years than the American soldier dead in the World War, according to the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce.

From January 1, 1919, to December 31, 1926, 137,017 persons were killed by automobiles, while the total casualties of the war in the American armed forces was 126,050. The injured, in automobile accidents, however, was 3,500,000 since the armistice.

Twenty-six per cent of the killed and injured were children under 15. Last year it was estimated 22,000 persons were killed, an increase of 1,000 over 1925 and the largest death toll ever recorded by automobiles for a year.

pay richly any one that takes care of her.

SOME senators oppose Dwight W. Morrow as minister to Mexico. Why? Mr. Morrow is able, intelligent, has made his own career.

No senator can question his honesty. He was Mr. Coolidge's classmate at Amherst, and his nomination is based on long acquaintance.

NO ONE objected when President Harding selected Mr. Mellon, whom Harding described to this writer before he appointed him as "the second richest man in the world." It was fortunate that "the second richest man in the world" was willing to look after Uncle Sam's finances.

MR. MORROW, who has resigned from the firm of J. Pierpont Morgan and Company—a step not at all necessary—is well fitted for the work that the President gives him. He understands finance, international relationships and this country is interested in Mexico's prosperity, success and friendship.

ON all sides are evidences of increasing business activity, says Mr. Hoover, Secretary of Commerce. The business barometer "indicates prevailing gratifying prosperity."

Ten-cent stores, important as evidence, show gains of 11 per cent in 1927, against the first eight months of 1926. Nothing to worry those that attend to business, refrain from gambling, sleep regularly, breathe deeply, avoid bootleggers and "cultivate a disposition to be pleased."

IN Little Rollo's day, a good boy would stoop to pick up a pin. The rich, observant banker would notice him, employ him, marry him to his daughter, leave him his fortune. Economy was the watchword.

Modern James McStowe of Canton, Ohio, says it is an exploded watchword. In Chicago he picked up a dime from the floor and as he stooped someone stole his pocketbook with $100. His motto reads: "Look after your $100, and the dimes will look after themselves."

THE American Legion in Paris yesterday adopted the report of its national defense committee, demanding establishment of a national air force as a separate department, with an "air force secretary" in the cabinet. Common sense.

The man that had employed a coachman got a chauffeur when the automobile came in. Intelligent nations will add to their secretary of war and secretary of the navy a secretary of the air, now that flying machines have come.

YOUNG William B. Leeds, son of the "Tin Plate King," started his Fokker three-motor engine flying machine for Chicago yesterday with six passengers and a relief pilot. They were to stop at Cleveland last night, then on to Chicago. Young men with money can promote flying in this day as W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., and other young men with money promoted motoring 25 years ago.

SPLIT ATOMS WILL END ALL WORK, BRITON SAYS

In half a century or so hardly any one will have any work to do, says Dr. Percy Buck, professor of music in the University of London. "In 50 years every human being will have a vast amount of leisure on his hands," explained Dr. Buck to the university teachers attending the summer vacation course. "If once the atom is split—and that is bound to happen in a certain number of years—there will be no need for coal, gas, electric light, steam or anything else like that. Think of it! We will be able to run a train from London to Edinburgh for a half a penny and to light the whole of London or New York for less than one single penny."

The Wilmot Street Bridge, which handles the bulk of traffic en route to Forbes Field, was opened at noon today, a day ahead of schedule, according to an announcement by Director of Public Works Edward G. Lang. The bridge has been closed for several weeks while the roadway and sidewalks were being repaired.

WORLD'S BIGGEST TRAIN MILE AND A HALF LONG

WILLARD, O.—What is believed to be the longest train ever operated in the United States was run recently between Willard and Sandusky over the Wheeling-Sandusky line of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

Made up of two engines, 36 loaded and 147 empty cars, and a caboose, the train measured 7,686 feet, or 234 feet less than a mile and a half. The load totaled 10,250 tons.

Three hours and 15 minutes was required to make the run of 30 miles.

Yucatan Ruins Yield Rare Frescoes

MEXICO CITY.—A sumptuous chamber, the walls of which are covered with fresco paintings said to be very similar to those found in the prehistoric temple of horticulture in the archaeological city of San Juan Teotihuacan in the Valley of Mexico, is reported to have been discovered in the Maya ruins at Chichen Itza, Yucatan, by Dr. Sylvanus G. Morley, in charge of archaeological investigations in Yucatan under the auspices of the Carnegie Institution of Washington, D. C., and the Mexican government. The frescoes are said to be marvelously preserved and it is expected that when the picture writings are fully deciphered by scientists much new light will be shed on the history of Maya civilization.

FOUND MURDERED

Edna Mueller, 15, Hillside, Ill., found murdered in a lonely plot on the outskirts of Chicago. Police are holding a number of suspects, but the only clew found is a blood-stained boot which was lying near the body.

VOTERS HUMBLE GANG

Vicar apparently defeated, trailing Ford by about 1,400 ballots.

And although Controller Charles C. McGovern, candidate for re-election, was trailing by 25,000 votes Robert G. Woodside, the organization man picked for the job, the total of 82,884 which McGovern piled up showed plainly that the slate of 1927 was not accepted by the voters as its makers had predicted it would be.

LESLIE MAN BEATEN

Other than three slated judicial candidates, Judge Nelson McVicar, County Solicitor W. Heber Dithrich and Edward C. Chalfant, the organization lost one of its fledglings in the crash of the general slate. This was Albert T. Lorch of Allison Park, who was substituted for Harry H. Dixon, aspirant for re-election as director of the poor. Despite the organization indorsement and Senator M. G. Leslie's personal interest, Lorch was defeated by a margin which the few districts yet to be heard from cannot possibly overcome.

Controller McGovern called the attention of the officials in charge of the receipt of election returns at the county commissioners' office yesterday afternoon to the fact that three return sheets were defective. Although all of the sheets bore the signatures of election officials, two of them had no record of ballots cast for any candidates, while the other sheet contained only the vote cast for the Democratic candidates.

Former State Senator C. M. Barr, who was conducting a check of the ballots cast in the judiciary contest, took the names of the election officers in the three districts, the Nineteenth District of the Twentieth Ward, the Second District of the Eleventh Ward and the Fifth District of the Fourteenth Ward, stating that he would inquire into the matter.

Senator Barr also stated that after a complete check of the returns received at the commissioners' office in the judiciary contest, he could find no returns for all the districts of the Second Ward, from the Sixth, Seventh and Eighth districts of the Seventh Ward and from the Seventh and Third districts of the Nineteenth Ward.

Primary Vote Totals

The 12 leading candidates for judge, nine to be elected, with only seven of the 1,416 districts missing:

Swearingen	137,196

Moore	129,628
Carnahan	121,352
Gray	118,284

Patterson	116,221
Ford	115,216
McVicar	114,722
Dithrich	97,818
Chalfant	93,478

The vote for directors of the poor (three to be nominated) in 548 of 622 districts gives:

Henderson	70,259
Miller	66,703
Dixon	51,867
Lorch	45,357

County Controller Charles C. McGovern this m[illegible]sued subpenas for five department emplo[illegible]tion with his probe of [illegible]leged selling of county road material to a Brentwood resident by Joseph Gaussa, a road superintendent. "SUGAR BOWL" DAYS ONLY MEMORY NOW

In the days when candy was a rare treat, children clamored for sugar on their bread. A slice of home-made bread, generously buttered, with a layer of sugar on top, would fill every longing for sweets.

The sugar bowl, to meet its occasions, was tall, with a roundness that suggested the girth of an alderman. Always filled, it occupied a place of honor on the table. Behold the sugar bowl of today—a thing no larger than a baby's fist. The candy shop has swept away the large old-fashioned container.

PITTSBURGH AIR RACER MISSING IN WEST

SMITH'S FRIENDS WILL CONTROL UTAH PARLEY

By Universal Service.

OGDEN, Utah, Sept. 22.—Disappearance of prospects of a battle at the Democratic conference in this city beginning Friday, owing to McAdoo's withdrawal from the field, has not lessened interest in the gathering.

Acceptances received indicate that eight states will be represented, South Dakota, Colorado, Wyoming, Montana, Nevada, Idaho, California, and Utah. Oregon and Arizona may be added to this list.

Unless something unexpected happens it was admitted here the whole current of the proceedings will be in favor of the candidacy of Governor Al E. Smith for the Democratic nomination for president next year. One of the Democratic leaders who took a hand in sending out invitations to the conference frankly stated that some prominent Utah Democrats were not invited because of uncertainty as to their attitude toward Smith and that Senator William H. King was not asked to attend because it was thought he would be unwilling to be present at a gathering called in favor of a particular candidate.

King says that even though invited he would not go to the conference, although he would support Smith or any other candidate nominated at the Democratic national convention. His attitude, he explained, is due to a desire to see further consideration of candidates and not to opposition to Smith.

The informations were sworn to by Mrs. Ford, who alleged that the officers entered and searched her residence without a warrant. NEW DEVICE AVERTS SEA COLLISIONS

A new direction finder has been perfected which enables captains of ships using the equipment to see the exact position of an oncoming ship without resorting to the uncertainties of audible signals. The device is automatic in its certainty. When in action a dial swings until zero is reached and then the pointer indicates the exact position of the other ship. The distance from the oncoming ship is easily calculated and thus collision is avoided.

Wins Nomination On Printer's Error

By International News Service.

WARREN, La., Sept. 22.—Through a typographical error, James S. Berger, youngest attorney ever admitted to the Warren Coun-Bar, was nominated county auditor at the primaries Tuesday, it was revealed today.

Berger's grandfather, James H. Berger, was seeking the post, but through error the middle initial "H" was changed to "S," and the grandson received the nomination.

Court house officials stated that young Berger would have to run in the November elections. The belief was expressed here that he would resign should he be elected, in favor of his grandfather.

It was expected that in the event young Berger resigned, Judge D. U. Ariad would appoint the grandfather as the young man's successor.

Healthy Siamese Twin Saves Dying One

By Universal Service.

HOLYOKE, Mass., Sept. 22.—"Blood will tell," goes the old saying. It "told" by saving the life of the Gibbs twins, Margaret and Mary, joined since birth by the freak of nature that made them what are called "Siamese" twins.

For days Mary had been at the point of death from bronchial pneumonia. During that time Margaret, joined to her sister by a lesion at the ribs, has been forced to lie beside her, though Margaret was perfectly well.

During those days in bed, Margaret has spent her time in administering to her sometimes delirious twin, and in cheering her on the dual fight for life.

And Mary's heart has nearly stopped beating several times in the last few days while she lay with a temperature of 103 degrees beside her well sister. It was Margaret's health and vitality, the purging of Mary's blood in Margaret's veins, that saved the sick girl, physicians believe.

"We are not sure yet that the girls are out of danger," the chief consulting physician said tonight, "but we are quite sure that they—meaning Mary in particular—have a much better chance than they had yesterday. We are very happy to report that the crisis has passed."

"But perhaps it speaks well for my physicians," he added.

SPOKANE, Wash., Sept. 22.—(AP.)—Four planes in the national air derby races which were due here yesterday were listed among the missing today, and searching aircraft were sent out in the hope of finding some trace of two of them.

In the coast derby Verne Bookwalter, Vancouver, Wash., and Art Horne, Los Angeles, were unheard from since they left Medford, Ore., yesterday in the Pacific coast race.

PORTLAND FLIER SAFE

James Rinehart, Portland, Ore., who for a time was reported missing, was located at Roseburg, Ore., where he repaired his plane after making a forced landing. He took off today in search of Bookwalter and Horne.

C. W. Holman, of St. Paul; E. C. Balough, of Chicago, and N. B. Mamer, Spokane, were unofficially declared winners, respectively, of first, second and third places in the Class A derby yesterday. Three planes were believed to be still heading for Spokane. In this event 15 planes started. John P. Wood, Wausau, Wis., came in fourth, and behind him came E. K. Campbell, Moline, Ill.; E. H. SCHILLER OVER CANADA

GARDEN CITY, N. Y., Sept. 22.—Direct word of the progress of the Stinson monoplane Royal Windsor, dropped from the air by the fliers themselves, was received today by the Rogers air line.

One message was from Stratford, Ont., and the other from Bay City, Mich. The Royal Windsor passed near Bay City at 10:30 last night.

C. A. (Duke) Schiller, pilot, and his mechanic, Eddie Bohn, were provided with weighted manila envelopes before the start. The envelopes directed the finder to take them to the nearest telegraph office and file the contents to Garden City.

The Stratford message said:

"Still going. All's O. K. Just eating. Weather clear now. Had some rain.

"DUKE AND EDDIE."

RACE TO SPOKANE

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—(AP.)—Four men in two huge monoplanes presumably were speeding westward today over a new non-stop transcontinental air trail, with fame, a share in $15,000 in prize money and Spokane as their goal.

Their course lay over a 2,300-mile bee line from Roosevelt Field, N. Y., where they took off yesterday in the last and most exacting of the Spokane air derby races.

If the airmen were on schedule they spanned the Eastern states yesterday and last evening, passed over the Middle West during the night and headed for the vast Rocky Mountain territory.

Their trail was across hills and valleys in the East, plains in the Middle West and mountains nearer the Pacific coast. It was 400 miles longer than the ocean jump of Lindbergh, Chamberlin and Byrd, and 100 miles shorter than the course of the Dole trans-Pacific fliers.

Rival pilots in the nonstop derby event were Edward Stinson, considered one of the country's greatest fliers, and C. A. (Duke) Schiller, who recently abandoned a projected trans-atlantic flight when a storm of public opinion arose against such hops as a result of the loss of life. They were flying almost identical planes, both designed and built by Stinson. Both carried 400 gallons of gasoline.

GROOM GIANT GERMAN PLANE FOR OCEAN HOP

SECRECY VEILS PREPARATIONS FOR FLIGHT

BERLIN, Sept. 22—(AP)—Despite vigorous denials by directors of the Junkers airplane works it was learned from an unquestionable source that the G-24, a three-motor plane, has been made ready at the Junkers branch plant at Malmoe, Sweden, for a transatlantic flight and may arrive any time at Norderney, the North Sea island which was a German airplane base during the war.

The plane, it was learned, will be piloted by Friedrich Loose, one of the Bremen's pilots on the recent unsuccessful Junkers transatlantic venture, and by Herr Starke, who is regularly employed at Lufthansa's testing station at Kiel, but who has taken a leave of absence to make the transatlantic crossing.

MAY BE VIA AZORES

The flight is planned to proceed in stages by way of Lisbon and the Azores and then probably to Bermuda, although it is possible that the route may shift to Newfoundland. Junkers engineers have been dispatched to the Azores, the Bermudas and Newfoundland.

The Associated Press was informed that the enterprise is purely a Junkers one, as the North German Lloyd has definitely withdrawn from the project and Lufthansa, which had been approached, declined participation. It also was learned that the request for passports and diplomatic visas has been made in the name of the Junkers works.

The G-24 is a new machine just out of the factory and many machines of this type already are in commercial use. In the machine for the transatlantic crossing, space otherwise used for 12 passengers will be devoted to gasoline tanks.

WINTER WINS SECOND RESPITE FROM DEATH CHAIR

SANITY OF TOTS' SLAYER TO BE RE-TESTED

By International News Service.

HARRISBURG, Sept. 22.—Gov. John S. Fisher today issued respites for Raymond Winter and William Meyers, Allegheny and Philadelphia murderers, who were to be electrocuted Monday. The date for their electrocution, if they are adjudged sane, was fixed for November 28.

The respite today was the second for Winter, a street car conductor, who was convicted of the murder of two small children near Pittsburgh. The Board of Pardons has received a report on tests made of Winter's mentality but wants to continue observation of the case.

The board at its session yesterday agreed to the appointment of a commission to determine if Meyers is sane. Meyers was convicted of the fatal shooting of a Philadelphia patrolman.

BABY MIXUP TRIAL TODAY

MOTHER HAS GIRL, CLAIMS BOY

Common Pleas Court Judge Carl V. Weygandt, Cleveland, today assumes the role of modern Solomon when the "baby shuffle" case comes up in his court. Mrs. Sam Smith charges that the Fairview Park Hospital has given her a baby girl when a boy was born to her last week. Judge Weygandt is comparing the features of the baby girl with those of Mrs. Smith.

JUDGE CARL WEYGANDT MRS. SAM SMITH

FOUR INJURED IN 3 AUTO CRASHES

Three automobiles were wrecked and four persons were injured in Forbes street last night. A. J. Judge, 33, of 1697 Birmingham avenue, alleged driver of the machine said to be responsible for the crashes, was arrested.

Judge was captured after his machine crashed into another driven by Joseph Benchoff, of 45 Albert street, in Forbes street, Oakland. A short distance away, police say, Judge's machine had wrecked one driven by Oliver C. Penn, of 3324 Webster avenue.

Those injured, all occupants of the Benchoff machine, are: Mr. Steinberg, 46; Mrs. Anna Collins, 55; Frank Wagner, 13, and Roy Wagner, 6, all of 100 South Nineteenth street.

"LIQUOR" MADE "WIFE" IN PLEDGE TO KEEP AWAY

An old blank pledge to abstain from liquor was retrieved from a dusty storeroom and put to a new use in police court in Baltimore. The case was that of a husband separated from his wife. In administering the pledge the court inserted the word "wife" instead of "liquor," and the man swore that he would "keep away" from his wife for six months.

MORROW FACES OPPOSITION IN SENATE

By ARTHUR HACHTEN,
Universal Service Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee will make a thorough investigation into the qualifications of Dwight W. Morrow for the ambassadorship to Mexico.

Morrow plans to leave for Mexico City shortly after October 1, under the recess appointment made by President Coolidge. Conferences on the Mexico policy are scheduled to be held between Morrow and Secretary of State Kellogg next week, when Kellogg returns from a vacation.

Assistant Secretary of State R. E. Olds, in charge of the Mexican division, also will go over with Morrow the issues in dispute with Mexico.

Democratic and insurgent Republican opposition to Morrow's appointment foreshadows a major battle on the question of Senate confirmation.

The investigation of Morrow's fitness for the post will center upon an inquiry as to whether his resignation from J. P. Morgan & Company is to be permanent, and whether his views on the policy that should be pursued by the United States toward Mexico in the land and oil dispute, are acceptable.

The Senate will need to be assured that Morrow has completely severed his connection with Morgan & Company and that he is not going to Mexico to obtain preferment for the Morgan bankers, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said.

Morrow may indicate his views on Mexico during the next few months through his official acts and thereby obviate some of the Senate inquiry, it was believed. But views of enough Senators were obtained to indicate that President Coolidge will be faced with a fight to obtain confirmation.

The New CADILLAC

has met a great, nation-wide reception from an appreciative motoring public. It is acclaimed everywhere as the most beautiful of all Cadillacs—the greatest value in fine cars ever offered.

Much was expected of this new car. It had to meet the critical approval of the smartest motorists in America. It had to surpass the highest attainments in beauty, in luxury, and in performance known to fine cars. It had Cadillac's own greatest past accomplishments to transcend.

On every score, the conquest was decisive. And more: There was victory, equally great, in the new Cadillac price—which might easily and justifiably have been an advance. Instead, the new line represents values that are overshadowingly the greatest ever offered—and within a price range more moderate than before.

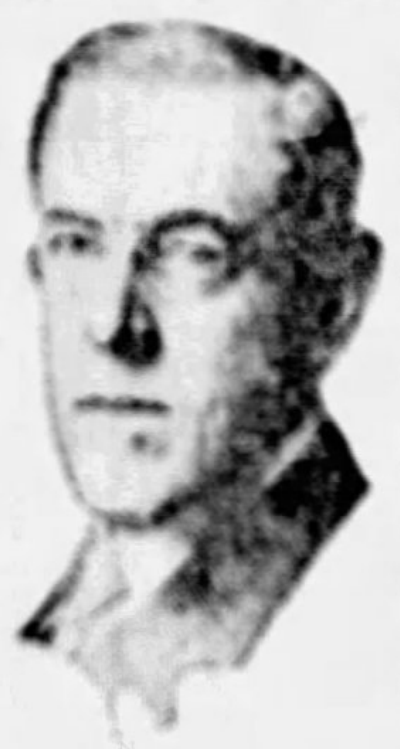
Wilson Life Embodies 5 Tons of Letters

Five tons of letters!

That is approximately the weight of the letters, papers and memoranda that Ray Stannard Baker, official biographer to Woodrow Wilson, embodied into his swinging, chatty, and historically monumental "Life and Letters of Woodrow Wilson."



WOODROW WILSON

Beginning next Sunday in the Sun-Telegraph, the vivid history of the War President will exemplify what Mr. Baker did with that great bulk of correspondence, how he harvested wheat from the chaff—how he built this tremendous amount of international and national material into an immortal tale.

The historical story is complete. Taking the boy Wilson, the biographer trails him through the highways of an eventful life to the doors of the White House. He follows the active mind of the War Executive through its trials and complexities before, during and after the great catastrophy. And he emerges with after-the-war anecdotes, information, news both startling and lasting—the thoughts and worries and pleasures of a broken President.

"The Life and Letters," to appear Sunday for the first time, and in daily installments until its conclusion, is not a bulky, academic treatise of a great leader. It is more a sympathetic, simply-told account of the actions and reasonings of an unusual man, one whom many call a genius of statesmanship. It deals with great events and letters of a man to his friends and relatives. Intimate and open are these—always. And such are the letters of Woodrow Wilson.

Start the first installment Sunday in the Sun-Telegraph.

Hundreds Rush to See "Divine Miracle"

Hundreds of persons are making a pilgrimage to the home of Mrs. Christina Amend, 4063 Cabinet way, where on one of the walls, the figure of the Virgin Mary is said to have appeared as in a "divine miracle."

The outline is said to have appeared a week ago shortly after one of the Amend children overturned a statue of the Virgin from a pedestal. Since then many from all parts of the city, including nuns and priests, have gone to see the outline. Police were called out last night to disperse the crowd and are guarding the house.

Chicago Bank to Cut $50,000,000 Melon

CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—The Continental and Commercial National Bank of Chicago will declare a $50,000,000 stock dividend shortly, it was learned here today. The amount represents one of the largest "melons" in the history of American banking.

The dividend will represent a [illegible] per cent stock on the bank's capital stock, following consolidation of the Continental and Commercial National Bank with its auxiliary—the Continental and Commercial Trust and Savings Bank. The capital stock of the latter, amounting to [illegible], has been held in trust for the stockholders of the National Bank for some time.

The new McFadden law, permitting broader scope to national banks, made the consolidation possible. The law grants national banks the advantages heretofore enjoyed by state banks, and prior to its passage, many of the national banks supported trusteed state banks, not being allowed to own such establishments outright.

Life Savings of Civil War Vet. Stolen

Two hundred dollars which he had laid aside from month to month from his pension was stolen from David Buchanan, 87, a veteran of the Civil War, 604 Arch street, who reported his loss at the North Side Police Station this morning. He said that he had locked the money in a trunk, but that a thief had procured a key, unlocked it and had taken the money.

Put it OUT!

—being another vital health lecture by "The Doctor In Candy Form"

GREAT concern is felt by many when an infernal machine (bomb) is discovered hidden under some structure, sizzling, ready to destroy life at a given time. Yet few people pay attention to another kind of "internal machine" that is sizzling with dangerous, poisonous bacteria that will surely destroy health and life if not put out in time.

This "internal machine"—seething with millions of disease-producing germs—causes System Poisoning, professionally called TOXEMIA. Constipation keeps it sizzling. Nervousness, sleeplessness, weak and dizzy spells and forty other symptoms tell you the bomb is getting ready to explode your health and happiness. Ordinary laxative pills and waters do not put it out. But if you will just take Partola, the internal antiseptic and laxative (The Doctor in Candy Form) you will clean out the poisonous toxins that cause it, and thereby prevent bodily disaster. Partola is fast becoming the National system cleanser and health preserver. Safe, pleasant, economical. All good druggists sell regular box 30¢, double size 60¢.

Now Mary Shaw Knows What Willa Cather Thinks About Her Friend's Stage Work

By GEORGE SEIBEL

GEORGE SEIBEL

Every actor has a pet ambition, like Eddie Foy, who yearned to play Hamlet. Mary Shaw's pet ambition is not so incongruous. She would like to play Lady Macbeth. She has played the role in the course of her career, but only as a stop-gap. Some day a manager with imagination will present Mary Shaw in this great "Bowery melodrama," as Charlotte Cushman used to call it—and she was one of the greatest that ever played the Thane's much better half. Mary Shaw would give us a Lady Macbeth such as we have not had since Helena Modjeska.

But Miss Shaw will not talk much about herself, her achievements and her ambitions. She was more in the mood to talk about a Pittsburgh writer who is her close friend. Years ago she was made acquainted with Willa Cather by Mrs. David Kirk, of Pittsburgh, and shortly after that Miss Cather edited an article Miss Shaw had written for McClure's Magazine. The two women, each now near the top in her sphere of art, became fast friends and have remained so ever since. Being in Pittsburgh, Miss Shaw was reminded of Miss Cather, whom Pittsburgh claims as its own, though conceding a slight interest to Nebraska.

"It is a coincidence that the play in which I am now appearing, 'The Cradle Song,' revolves around Catholic institutions and traditions, and so does Miss Cather's new book, 'Death Comes for the Archbishop.' There is a rich mine of material in this field, but it has seldom been worked. Outside of 'Richelieu' I now remember only one play, 'The Cardinal,' by the author of 'Pomander Walk.' Louis N. Parker wrote that play, and E. S. Willard played in it. When a keen analyst of the soul, gifted with a subtle literary style like Willa Cather's, takes up such a theme, it's a revelation. And Miss Cather knows the mode of human character better than any other woman writing today, to my mind, and can put words together with more potent magic than any other woman writing today, to my mind."

"Have you ever told Miss Cather that?" I asked.

"Why, no—I would not want her to think I was flattering her, and my opinion would sound too much like flattery."

"Has Miss Cather never told you what she thinks of your acting?" I asked Miss Shaw.

"Why, no—perhaps she doesn't want to hurt my feelings."

Then I told Miss Shaw that years before she met Miss Cather, when Miss Cather first came to Pittsburgh, she had two stage idols, Richard Mansfield and Mary Shaw. Mary Shaw was to her the great interpreter of Ibsen's women—of Hedda Gabler, Rebecca West and Mrs. Alving. I first heard of Mary Shaw from Willa Cather.

"How strange," said Miss Shaw. "I have to come to Pittsburgh to hear what my friends think of me. And now I don't know whether I can be becomingly humble tonight when I play the prioress in 'The Cradle Song.' For I'm feeling almost ambitious and exalted enough to do Lady Macbeth."

Perhaps she'll play the Lady the next time we see her.

BERGMAN ORCHESTRA IN WEBSTER HALL

Dewey Bergman and his orchestra will play the program for broadcasting over KDKA and the collegiate dance Friday night in Webster Hall. If weather permits dancing will be held both in the Georgian room and in the Spanish Garden, with novel lighting effects giving a moonlight atmosphere in the Georgian room.

Dempsey Fan -:- Stage Artist -:- With Husband -:- Getting Better

CARMEL MYERS was among the group of film notables in Hollywood signing a testimonial in behalf of Dempsey against Tunney, sent to Chicago by airplane.

MARY SHAW, noted dramatic actress who is in Pittsburgh this week, has views about the stage which are valuable because of her prominence in her profession.

DORIS KENYON returns to the screen as leading woman for her husband, Milton Sills, now engaged in filming scenes for the picture, "The Valley of the Giants."

PATSY RUTH MILLER, who had to leave a "location" camp because of illness, made speedy recovery in her Hollywood home and was expected to resume work this week.

BOOKINGS HAVE NEW PLAYS

Arthur Hammerstein, producer of "Rose-Marie," will present "Golden Dawn," his new musical show, in the Alvin for one week beginning next Monday evening. Mr. Hammerstein is presenting Louise Hunter, from the Metropolitan Opera House, in "Golden Dawn," marking her debut in light opera.

Willard Mack, author of "Weather Clear, Track Fast," the comedy drama coming next week to the Nixon, has three new plays which will be produced in New York this season. They include "Free Soul," which William A. Brady will produce; "Outsmarted," which A. H. Woods will do; and "Michael of the Mounted," which will mark Mr. Mack's return to the stage as a star.

For "The Monster," announced for presentation next week in the Pitt, Manager George Sharp has engaged Jack Willard, whose characterization of Count Scipione Varelli in "Love in a Mist" was seen in the Nixon last season. Mr. Willard's home is in Sheridan avenue, Pittsburgh.

"White Cargo" is making a second tour of the Columbia wheel and is coming to the Gayety next week with the same company, headed by Christine Cooper, as Tondeleyo, and Robert Burns, as Wetzel.

The Keith-Albee vaudeville program booked for the Davis next week features Alma Neilson and company in a dance allegoric. "Dance Magic" will be on the screen with Ben Lyon and Pauline Starke.

Reports of the Tunney-Dempsey contest in Chicago will be received in the Academy tonight. This feature will not interfere with the performance of the burlesque, "Happy Hour."

Mary Astor is William Boyd's leading woman in the Penn's screen presentation next week, "Two Arabian Knights."

The Biltmore Boys, in a cycle of songs and instrumental syncopation, will be featured on the stage in the Grand next week. On the screen will be Emil Jannings and Phyllis Haver in "The Way of All Flesh."

"The Blood Ship," sea drama from Norman Springer's novel of the same name, comes to Loew's Aldine next week. Hobart Bosworth, Jaqueline Logan and Richard Arlen are the featured players.

ANY ROLE FOR KOHLER— JUST SO HE CAN BE BAD

Any kind of role, just so it's a bad man, such is the motto of Fred Kohler, heavy of Paramount pictures. In quick succession he has had such parts in "The Rough Riders," "The Way of All Flesh," "Underworld" and "Open Range." Now he is beginning his old tricks in "The Gay Defender."

Miss Elder Preparing To Hop Tomorrow

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—(AP.)—Ruth Elder, the "real American girl" pilot of the monoplane American Girl spread out her nattiest flying costume before her and packed a toothbrush and a vanity case today, and hoped the weather would permit her to start a sky ride to Paris at dawn tomorrow.

The same runway mound at Roosevelt Field where Lindbergh, Chamberlin and Byrd took off on their flights across the Atlantic was reserved for Miss Elder's plane. Gas and oil sufficient for the 3,610-mile journey were provided.

There was a pronounced low pressure area over the transatlantic air lane, but Miss Elder and her co-pilot, Capt. George Haldeman, said they expected this to lift before tomorrow morning.

"We will go as soon as it is light enough to take off down this runway," Haldeman said, "and that way we should be at Newfoundland just as dark falls over the water.

"We should make the 1,150 miles to Newfoundland in 11 hours. I probably will take the plane off here and after it has gained altitude Miss Elder will take the stick. She is the pilot, you know, in an effort to be the first girl to pilot a plane, not merely fly in a plane, to Paris."

MERCURY BOWS TO AUTUMN

Preparing for the advent of autumn, which will be ushered in tomorrow night at 9:17, daylight saving time, the thermometer has been registering low temperatures for several days, the lowest for today being 43 degrees at 6:40 o'clock with a light frost reported in low-lying sections of the Pittsburgh district.

The frost was not heavy enough to cause damage, according to officials at the local weather bureau. Yesterday was the coldest day since last May 27, the mean temperature for the day being 52 degrees.

EMORY CHURCH PLANS ANNEX

Trustees of the Emory Methodist Episcopal Church, Highland avenue and Rippey street, have authorized the building of an annex to the church to provide facilities for Sunday school, brotherhood and other church activities. The new addition, which will cost $100,000, will be started as soon as plans have been approved by the zoning commission.

BRADDOCK STEEL VETS' CORN ROAST SATURDAY

The eighth annual corn roast of the Veteran Employes' Association of the Edgar Thomson Works, Carnegie Steel Company, Braddock, will be held in the plant gymnasium from 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon. O. J. H. Hartsuff, general superintendent, will act as head waiter, assisted by department heads.

LEGION DOWNS IMMIGRATION DICTATOR PROPOSAL

KEYSTONERS TAKE LEAD IN FIGHT

By GEORGE R. HOLMES.
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

TROCADERO PALACE, Paris, Sept. 22.—A sharp conflict on the immigration question featured the closing business session of the American Legion convention today.

After a bitter debate, the legionnaires declined to approve a proposal to make the President of the United States an "immigration dictator" empowered to raise or lower the barriers of immigration at will.

The proposal was contained in a report presented by the Americanization Committee of the Legion, urging Congress to grant this power to the President.

Delegates from Illinois and Pennsylvania condemned the proposal as an effort to grant the nation's chief executive a [illegible] and grave delegation of power.

After a verbal battle lasting half an hour, the Pennsylvania and Illinois delegates won their fight to have the resolution sent back to committee for revision.

A mixture of business and horseplay occupied the delegates on the closing day of the convention. With solemn ceremony, the Legionnaires elected Jay Ward, 5 years old, of Mancock, Pa., official mascot of the Paris pilgrimage.

Thirty-nine resolutions dealing with various aspects of hospitalization and compensation for disabled veterans were passed by the delegates.

Awards in several of the Legion's contests were announced today.

The Illinois delegation won the first prize for its male quartet, with Wisconsin second. The California delegates were awarded the Galbraith medal for having traversed the greatest number of miles to reach the convention site. Florida was second in this unique contest.

Free Wine For Legion In Dry Law Assault

By International News Service.

PARIS, Sept. 22.—The French have forgiven America almost everything except prohibition. They cannot understand the Volstead law and have no sympathy for Americans in the matter. The closing of the American market to one of France's principal products was a severe blow, for it meant the loss of millions annually, not only to the winegrower, but for all the people who handle the product.

Hence France has seized upon the American Legion convention, which has brought 20,000 Americans to France, as a golden opportunity to prove to Americans from the "dry belts" that there is nothing inherently terrible about the juice of the grape.

French wine-growers have staged a week's exhibition of their product solely for the benefit of the Americans. Samples are being distributed generously. There is the keenest rivalry between the different sections of France regarding the excellence of their product, and the exhibition days have been apportioned accordingly during the Legion's visit.

For example, Sunday was given over to an exhibition of Anjou and Alsace wines, and all American visitors received souvenirs of Benedictine. On Monday, the producers of medicinal and tonic wines held sway, also with appropriate souvenirs.

Tuesday was champagne day, with Cliquot, Pommery, Heidsieck, Mumm, Pol Roger and others being exhibited. On Wednesday, the red wines of Bordeaux received their recognition, and there were souvenirs for American visitors in the shape of small bottles of Hennessey.

Today is Burgundy Day, and souvenirs of Martel's famous cognac were presented to the visitors. Tomorrow will be the last day of the exhibition, which was held with the approval of the French government. The final day will be given over to the display of mineral waters.

Needless to say, the exhibition has been generously patronized by the American veterans. They all were aware that it was being held, for its sponsors had decorated the Trocadero Palace with colorful posters portraying the delights that the exhibition promised.

Clearfield, Pa., Boys Get Trophies

PARIS, Sept. 22.—Curtis and Max Smith, brothers, bass drummers in the American Legion Band of Clearfield, Pa., have obtained a prize collection of autographs.

They have requested, and received, the signatures of Gen. Pershing, Marshal Foch and hundreds of other celebrities on the broad white expanse of their drumheads.

The brothers are displaying their trophies with pardonable pride, and expressing the conviction that the names will "go over big" with the folks back in Clearfield.

Legion Elects E. E. Spafford Commander

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

TROCADERO PALACE, PARIS, Sept. 22.—Edward E. Spafford, of New York City, was unanimously elected national commander of the American Legion for the ensuing year at the closing session of the Legion convention here today.

Mr. Spafford was placed in nomination by the North Carolina delegation and his name was seconded by Washington, Tennessee and Virginia.

Denver, Miami, Detroit and Louisville entered strong bids for the 1929 Legion convention. The 1928 convention was awarded last year to San Antonio, Tex., Boston, Seattle and Washington, D. C., were campaigning today for the 1930 convention and Hot Springs, Ark., wanted the Legion in 1932.

Your Smile and Your Teeth

To Firm Tender Gums and Restore "Off-Color" Teeth

DINGY teeth and toneless gums are a needless handicap today. Off-color teeth can be restored to gleaming whiteness. Tender gums are firmed, given healthy coral color. One's whole appearance may thus be changed.

Famous $100,000 stars of the movies use this new method as a "make-up" before going on a scene. That is why movie smiles are so gleamingly white. Leading dentists widely advise it because it protects the teeth and gums.

It is called Pepsodent—a new-type tooth paste that works by removing the dingy film coat from teeth that old-time dentifrices did not clear off successfully. That's why brushing has failed you.

Run your tongue across your teeth and you'll feel that film. A slippery coating that absorbs discolorations and keeps your teeth off color, that breeds bacteria and invites tooth decay, gum troubles and pyorrhea.

Remove it and you will be amazed at what you see. Discard old ways now. Get Pepsodent at any drug store. Or send for 10-day tube.

Are You Thin, Weak, Nervous, Run Down?

To have plenty of firm flesh and strong muscles, "pep" and ambition, and the ability to do a big day's work and feel "like a two year old" at night, you must eat three good meals a day, relish your food and properly digest it. If you can't eat, can't sleep, can't work, just take a teaspoonful of Tanlac before meals.

Mrs. Sarah A. Vose, of 63 S. Welles St., Kingston, Pa. "Five years I had been going down in health—couldn't sleep or eat, and could barely walk. Now at 71 years of age I do all my housework and laundry, and feel Tanlac has put many years ahead of me."

Tanlac is wonderful for indigestion and constipation—gas, pains, nausea, dizziness and headaches. It brings back lost appetite, helps you digest your food, and gain strength and weight. It contains no mineral drugs; it is made of roots, barks and herbs, nature's own medicines for the sick. The cost is less than 2 cents a dose. Get a bottle from your druggist and give it a thorough trial. Your money back if it doesn't help you.

FILM STARS AND MILLIONAIRES IN FIGHT RUSH

NOTABLES JAM CHICAGO FROM ALL PARTS

By Universal Service.

CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—The nation's spotlight was focused on Chicago today as tens of thousands of fans, ranging from big industrial captains, noted professional men, governors, mayors, political leaders and mere fight "bugs" trailed in steady streams, by trains, automobiles and airplanes from all parts of the country, converging upon Chicago at all points.

The stadium in Grand Park—the field dedicated as a memorial to the World War heroes, was the lodestone of interest.

With hotels packed to the holding point, with private residences and apartments also housing guests, Chicago's population was that of much more than one large city.

Among the many notables here, with tickets safely tucked away for the big affair today—or else on their way, were:

Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., president of the General Motors Corporation, Walter Chrysler, president of the Chrysler Motor Company, both of New York; Jesse Livermore, Wall street financial wizard, New York; Spencer Penrose, Colorado Springs, Col., capitalist; "Big Bill" Edwards, former New York internal revenue collector; Mayor William E. Kendrick, Philadelphia.

Also Joseph Schenck, husband of Norma Talmadge; W. G. Clyde, president of the Carnegie Steel Company; Gov. Fred Green of Michigan, expected in the plane of Maj. Thomas G. Lanphier; Mayor George E. Leach of Minneapolis; Mayor James O'Keefe of New Orleans.

AND SCREEN STARS

Two passenger planes loaded with fans, among them William B. Leeds, Jr., son of the tin magnate, and a party of friends, were winging their way here after taking off from Curtiss Field, New York.

And the stage and screen stars—hundreds of them—who wouldn't miss this fight at the cost of a "fat" star's role, came in from New York, from Hollywood, from other points along the coast, by train and by air.

Al Jolson, famous black-faced comedian; William "Buster" Collier, Jr., William Russell and Tom Moore, noted stage and screen stars, were among the early arrivals, as were Al Cohn, scenario writer for Jolson; Madonna and Jewell Devaney, movie actresses from Hollywood.

Other notable business leaders who laid aside their cares for the fistic carnival are Gerard Swope, president of the General Electric Company; Frank A. Bond, vice president of the United States Forging Company, Pittsburgh; R. H. Allison, Amarillo, Tex., general manager of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad; P. A. Maginnis, Los Angeles, first vice president of the same road; J. Norman Claypool, vice president of the Lima Woolen Mills, Lima, O.; C. W. Davis, vice president and general manager of Dallas Power and Light Company; Gen. A. A. Atterbury, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

And the judges and political leaders: Circuit Judge Charles Briggle of Springfield, Ill.; Judge David B. Samuel, Shreveport, La.; State Senator John Dailey, Peoria, Ill.; Senator Peter A. Cruise, Providence, R. I.; local and state notables from Illinois, of course, including Gov. Small, Mayor Thompson and others.

From the West also came James Stack, millionaire sportsman; James Wood, wealthy hotel owner, Los Angeles; Bert Stoddard, Western head of the Standard Oil Company; Claude S. Spreckels, millionaire sugar king, and his wife, Coronado Beach, Cal.; J. Stuart Blackton, screen pioneer; Francis P. Shanley, president of the Southern California Hotel Men's Association.

Others were Mr. and Mrs. John Coogan, parents of the inimitable Jackie; James W. Coffroth, owner of the Tia Juana race track; ex-Gov. James Cox of Ohio and his wife.

PLENTY OF MAYORS

Other mayors, who arrived late today, to be the guests of Mayor Thompson, were Larry Hudgson of St. Paul; James Dahlman, Omaha; James Rolph, San Francisco; W. O. Rigby, Topeka, Kan.; Rowlett Paine, Memphis; Victor Miller, Milwaukee.

Earlier arrivals were Phil Ball, owner of the St. Louis American League Baseball Club, who came in an airplane with W. R. Cody of St. Louis.

Names of eminence in various pursuits were registered at the hotels. The entries at the Blackstone Hotel included such as Amon G. Carter, Texas publisher; Henry G. Hunnewell, Boston millionaire; P. W. Gundlefinger, dean of the University of Pennsylvania; B. F. Phillips, Philadelphia millionaire.

At the Stevens Hotel were Gov. A. L. Rodriguez of Lower California; Conde Nast, New York publisher; Bernard Gimbel, New York department store owner; J. Fletcher Farrell, Standard Oil Company secretary.

Congress Hotel "fight registrations" included those of A. M. Bedell, owner of the Bedell stores; J. O. Bush, vice president of the Equitable Trust Company of New York; Sid Grauman, Los Angeles theater owner; George M. Cohan, who needs no identification; Will Hays, L. P. Fisher, president of the Cadallac Motor Car Company; H. H. Brooks, president of the Marmon Motor Company; Dr. Charles Mayo of Rochester, Minn.; John Ringling, New York; John H. Bowman, hotel owner.

Held for Court

BETTY FAIR

Betty Fair, 25, cashier of Gammon Waffle Shops, was held for court in Morals Court on charge of larceny after her employer, R. L. Gammon, testified that in 20 months, he believes, she has stolen about $5,000. He watched for a year, he averred, to learn her method and said she has been substituting punched checks.

GRANT CHARTER FOR LANGLEY BEACON

A final decree granting a charter to the Langley Beacon Association of Pittsburgh, for the erection of a memorial aviation beacon to the pioneer of aviation at Pittsburgh's historic Point, was issued yesterday in Common Pleas Court by Judge Joseph M. Swearingen.

Clyde, president of the Carnegie Steel Company; A. W. Robertson, president of the Philadelphia Company; Richard K. Mellon, of the Mellon National Bank, and Thomas A. Dunn, general manager of the Consolidated Ice Company. Mr. Humphrey is chairman of the organization and Mr. Mellon is treasurer.

Other incorporators are A. W. McEldowney, A. E. Braun, William L. Munro, Lawrence E. Sands, William G. Costin, Malcolm McGiffin, Henry D. Shute, Francis A. Keating, E. T. Whiter, William H. Robinson, A. H. Burlhfield, John F. Casey, Maurice Falk, Harrison Nesbit, Walter Rosenbaum, A. W. Robinson, Edgar J. Kaufmann, Thomas A. Dunn, James M. Magee, John Y. Chidester, Col. Harry C. Fry, Jr., Raymond M. Marber, J. Rogers Flannery, Capt. Thomas S. Voss, John J. Feery, Reuel W. Elton, E. W. Cleveland, A. R. Flinn, Ralph E. Flinn, Arthur A. Rohrick and Walter Chambers.

The corporation will have perpetual succession under the charter, but upon the completion of the memorial, which is to be turned over to the city of Pittsburgh in behalf of the citizens of Allegheny county, it is to be dissolved.

MINNEAPOLIS BANKER SUCCEEDS CRISSINGER

YOUNG NAMED BY COOLIDGE TO BOARD

By M. L. RAMSAY,
Universal Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—Roy A. Young, for eight years governor of the Minneapolis Federal Reserve Bank, has been selected by President Coolidge as a member of the Federal Reserve Board.

Young will fill the vacancy created by the resignation last week of D. R. Crissinger of Ohio, governor of the board, which followed closely an uproar in the reserve system and the banking world over the forced reduction of the Chicago rediscount rate.

Although no formal announcement was made, it was the understanding at the Treasury that Young will become governor of the board upon his confirmation by the Senate. Meanwhile, Vice Governor Edmund Platt of New York, who fought the Chicago reduction, is expected to continue as acting governor.

Young's appointment was regarded as a victory for the Chicago reserve bank and its sympathizers. Not only does he come from a nearby territory, with similar views in rate matters, but his own bank was the last of the 12 in the system to fall into line with the board's low rate program.

It dropped its rate from 4 to 3½ per cent on September 12. The board's program, which it has described as having the dual effect of aiding American crop movements and business and of helping the international financial situation, has found its strongest support in the East.

By becoming a member and probably the head of the banking system's central governing body, Young will crown a romantic career in banking. Born in Marquette, Mich., he started as a bank messenger at the age of 16. Climbing successively through jobs as collector, bookkeeper, and assistant manager of various banks, he came to be vice president of the Citizens' National Bank of Houghton, Mich. This office he held from 1912 to 1917.

Two years later he was made governor of the Minneapolis bank. The post on the board pays $12,000 a year.

The President was said to have selected Young from a list of bankers proposed for the place, without consideration of politics.

By Universal Service.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Sept. 22.—Word of President Coolidge's appointment of Roy A. Young as member of the Federal Reserve Board clinched hopeful anticipations of his friends here.

Young is 45, and his rise in financial circles has been rapid. Born May 17, 1882, in Marquette, Mich., he started his banking career immediately after leaving high school.

In 27 years he has advanced from a job as messenger in the First National Bank at Marquette, Mich., to the Federal Reserve Board, the highest position in the American system of finance.

In May, 1900, he became a bank messenger, but it required only a year to win his first advance. He was rapidly advanced in several Michigan banks until 1917 when he came to the Federal Reserve Bank in Minneapolis and the following year he was made assistant to the governor. Early in 1919 he was appointed deputy governor, and when Theodore Wold resigned as governor in october, 1919, Mr. Young was appointed to succeed him.

French Bet on Tunney Because He's Unwed

By WILLIAM HILLMAN,
Universal Service Staff Correspondent.

PARIS, Sept. 22.—Gene Tunney will win from Dempsey tonight because he is a bachelor. That is the opinion of L'Intransigeant, France's leading evening newspaper, which adds:

"That is something big in his favor. He is a bachelor while Dempsey is married to a beautiful movie star. We are betting 3 to 1 on Tunney."

The big fight is stirring considerable interest in Paris, the papers devoting many columns to it. Quite a bit of French money is being wagered with Tunney the favorite at odds anywhere from 3 to 1 to even money.

The American betters, however, are equally divided between Dempsey and Tunney at even money, though at the last minute the "wise money" favors Dempsey at 6 to 5 with considerable cash back of the odds.

What causes this "YELLOW MASK"?

Is there no way to remove it? Yes, by this new method.

When your teeth have a yellowish tinge—and faithful brushing has failed to remove it—here is the cause:

In your saliva is a "liquid cement." It flows ceaselessly over the teeth. And like all cement, it clings — then hardens slowly. Soon the natural whiteness of your teeth is enshrouded by a thin, glassy mask. Tobacco, food and coffee stain this mask an unbecoming yellow.

Old-fashioned dentifrices fail to remove this repellent yellow mask—you know that from experience. For, in truth, there is only one substance that will—a substance foremost dentists use for cleaning teeth. It is known as "Tri-Calcium Phosphate." Therefore, to regain the lost splendor of that glistening white enamel you must brush your teeth with a tooth paste containing this magic substance.

Which means—ORPHOS Tooth Paste. For the makers of ORPHOS succeeded, where others failed, in composing a pleasant, tasty tooth paste from "Tri-Calcium Phosphate." We invite you to try it. To banish that "yellow mask". To observe beauty effects in teeth that bewitch and delight. Without harm to the softest enamel—for "Tri-Calcium Phosphate" is enamel's best friend or a dentist wouldn't use it. Buy your first tube of ORPHOS today—or mail coupon below for FREE 20-time Tube.

LOOK FOR THIS! Note the "brush cling" when you use ORPHOS—also the utter absence of that nauseating foam.

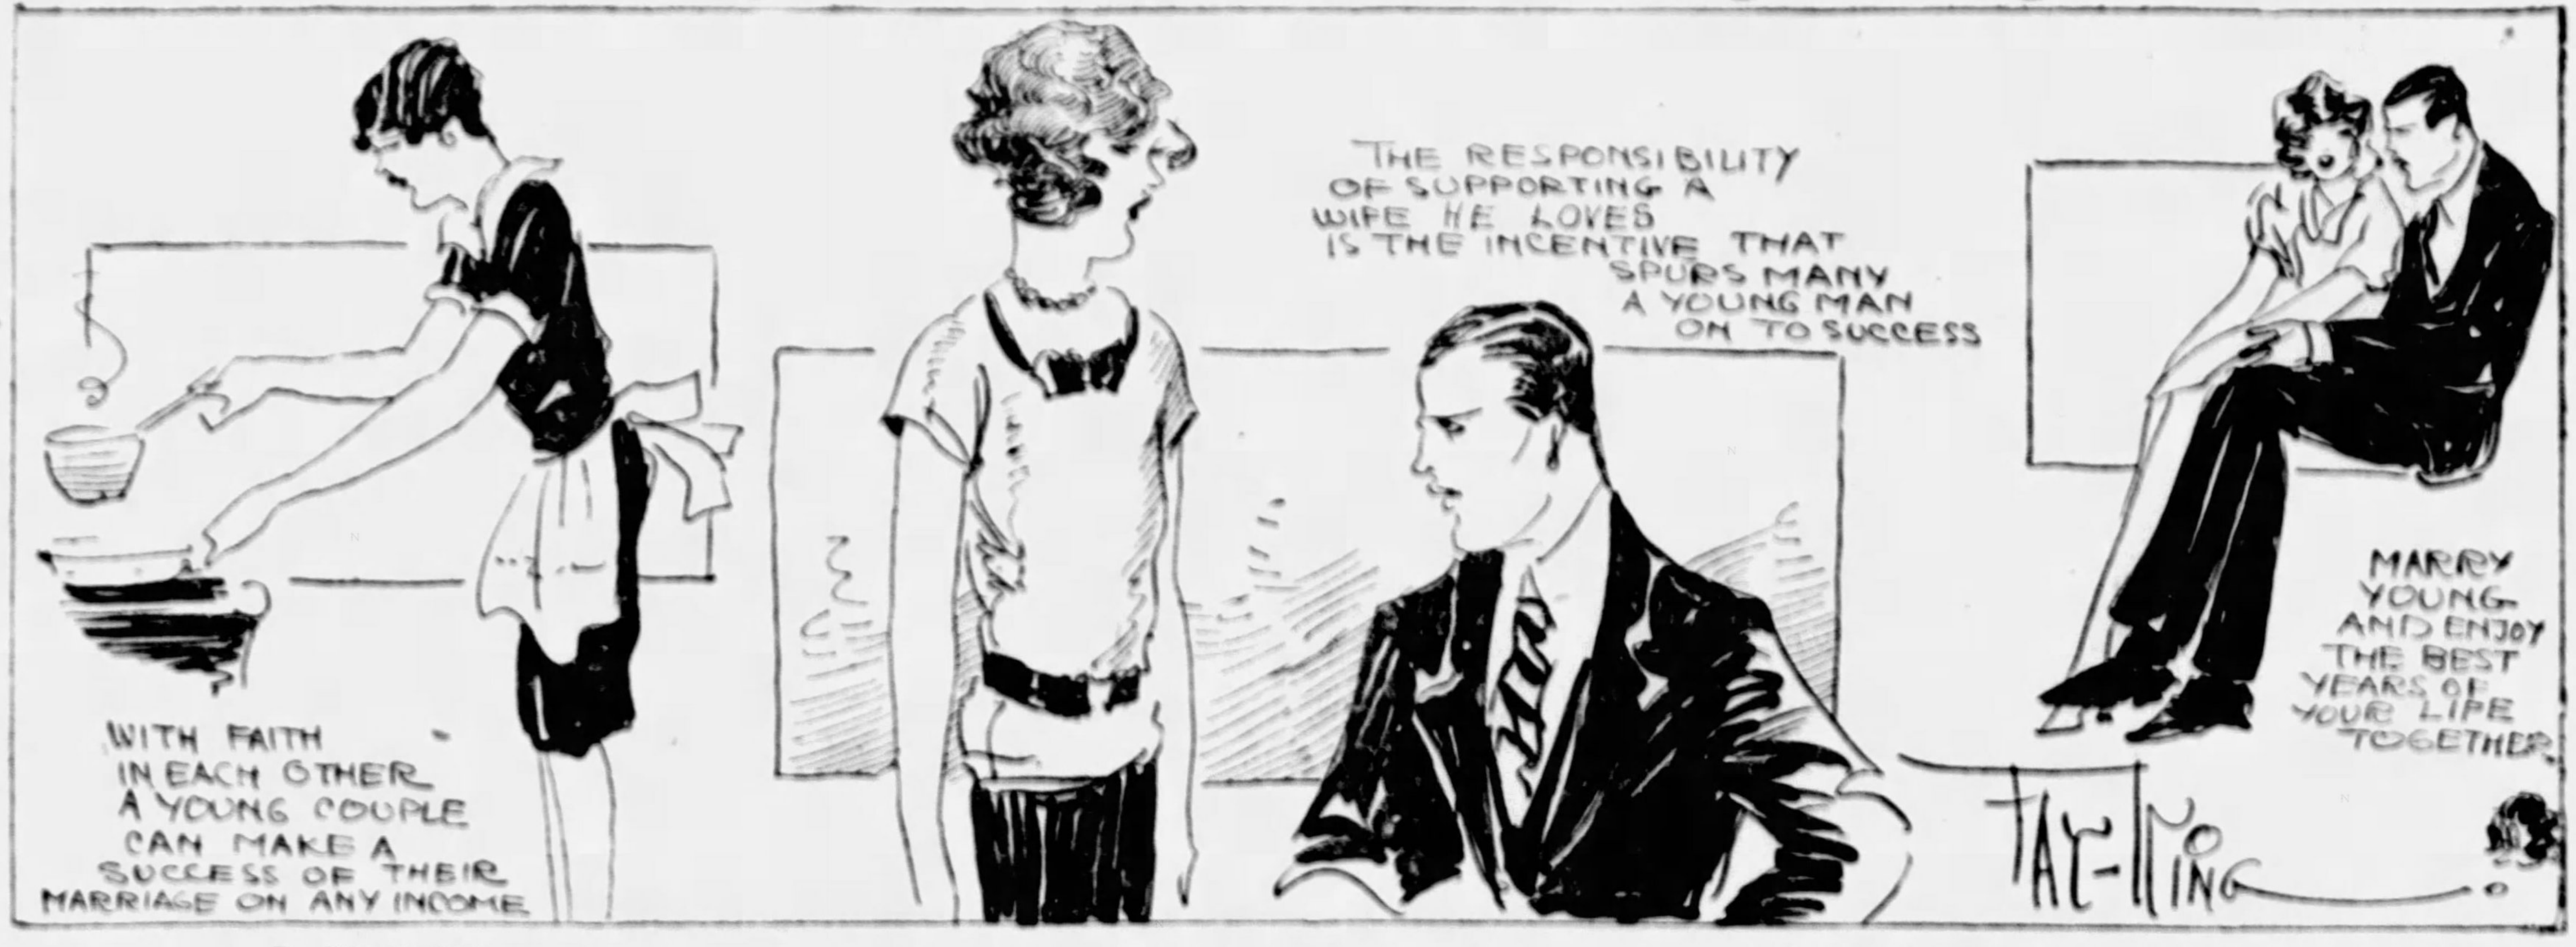
Marry Young, Even if Poor, Fay King Advises



THE RESPONSIBILITY OF SUPPORTING A WIFE HE LOVES IS THE INCENTIVE THAT SPURS MANY A YOUNG MAN ON TO SUCCESS
WITH FAITH IN EACH OTHER A YOUNG COUPLE CAN MAKE A SUCCESS OF THEIR MARRIAGE ON ANY INCOME MARRY YOUNG AND ENJOY THE BEST YEARS OF YOUR LIFE TOGETHER
FAY-KING

By FAY KING.

MANY young couples put off wedding indefinitely because the young man says he does not want to marry until he can support a wife right!

By that he means renting a pretty apartment in a nice neighborhood; buying attractive furniture; owning a car; engaging a maid; providing his wife with pretty clothes, trips and entertainment!

No young couple who are really in love should put off marrying on account of income!

Better to marry and start life together on no matter how small a salary, for they will get ahead!

Love can do wonders and the glow and happiness of love and youth can make the humblest surroundings a joy forever.

Many a young man would save more marrying and making a little home than he does wasting his money with pals and having no incentive and responsibility to spur him on.

The most successful men have married early in life and started their successful careers in a very humble little home indeed.

A good girl who makes a comfortable home for her young husband is the very finest responsibility a young man can have.

Only those who have gone through the struggle of making a little start together and planning and saving together know how this can be truly more of a happiness than a misery.

In later years, when money has been plentiful and things have come their way, they have often admitted that the happiest years of their life were those first ones when they made the fight for their happy future together.

It is surprising how well a young couple can manage when they will!

The man who waits until he can support a wife in luxury is apt to get the wrong wife. The girl who is willing to take him and share his lot in life when it is little is the right girl!

Strong Pulse, Exercise, Proper Food Nature's Best Hair Tonic

WHEN you find hair falling out what do you do about it? I know what you do. You run to the drug store to get a bottle of hair tonic. You go to have your hair singed.

What is the cause of baldness? Is it due to some germ or to a failure of the nourishment within the hair itself? You will be surprised to learn why some folks don't get bald and others do. It all depends on the heart and the circulation of the blood.

DR COPELAND

You wouldn't expect a strawberry bed to grow fruit if it were dried up for want of water. Unless there is abundant rainfall or some provision for irrigation, there will be no moisture, no thriving of the plants and no fruit.

You can't have hair unless its roots are nourished by an abundance of blood. Nothing that you put on the hair itself, no treatment that you apply to the hair itself, is likely to keep you from baldness.

The vital part of the hair is what we refer to as the "root." On this, much as a strawberry rests on its hull or base, rests the hair. In a sense, the individual hair is a dead thing. It has no feeling, no impulses. It would have no growth at all if separated from the hair bulb, richly supplied with blood vessels and with rich, red blood.

If the heart is a soft beating organ, lacking force to pump the blood to the extremities, including the scalp, there is insufficient nourishment of the hair roots. Then there can be no growth of strong, vigorous locks and if something interferes with free circulation such hair as you have will fall.

The surest guarantee of permanent hair is a good strong heart. Then, if you will wear a light hat—large enough in the hatband—you may expect to have and to hold an abundant head of hair.

A heavy hat, a tight hat, worn all the time, will cut off the circulation of the blood vessels which run from below and are intended to carry a full supply of blood to the hair roots. Anything which interferes with the circulation or quality of the blood will have its effect upon the hair.

The best hair tonic you can have is the tonic of good health. Systematic exercise of such a nature as to stimulate and strengthen the heart is desirable. The eating of mineral-carrying foods, particularly the fruits and vegetables will help.

You realize, of course, that it is the training in early life and the beginning of the practice of right living, that are necessary to avoid baldness. When once the process has begun and particularly after the baldness is acquired, it is practically impossible to remedy the condition.

Baldness is only one of many ills which can be avoided by a lifetime of correct living.

It's a Pity To Stay Fat
In these days

Don't do it, when so many have found the right way to reduce. You see them in every circle—happy, healthy people who have lost that burden in an easy, pleasant way.

Since the year 1907, people have been fighting excess fat by scientific methods. They combat the cause. Were fat as common as it once was the dress styles of today could never have come into vogue.

That modern method is embodied in Marmola prescription tablets. Over-fat people have used them for twenty years—millions of boxes of them. Now you see the results wherever you look. Why not enjoy them yourself?

Users of Marmola are not forced to abnormal exercise or diet. Moderation helps, but starvation is taboo. One simply takes four tablets daily until weight comes down to normal.

Every box of Marmola contains the formula, also the reasons for the many good results. You know just what you are taking and how you get the effects. You will have no fear of Marmola when you know the scientific facts.

Go get a box today. Learn how it acts, and why. Then watch the results in new vitality and loss of weight. Then tell your friends. You can do no greater kindness to people who overweigh.

Marmola prescription tablets are sold by all druggists at $1 per box. If your druggist is out, he will get them at once from his jobber.

Every Woman Should Know About This.

It is as much your duty to be attractive as to keep a well-ordered house.

Why shouldn't every girl and woman strive to be attractive? It is not merely vanity: the modest knowledge of pleasant appearance is a mental prop that enhances whatever charms of personality its owner may have.

Let us suggest here, a recently discovered Toilet Accessory known as Mibalm Liquid Vanishing Cream.

Never before has there been offered a toilet preparation which fills such a long-felt want; never have women been so anxious to try a new product and never have they been so well pleased, and acknowledged its superior value over the old style solid vanishing creams.

MIBALM LIQUID VANISHING CREAM is a snow-white lotion, makes an ideal powder base, it is soothing, healing and mildly astringent; you can buy it at all the leading Drug and Department Stores; you can always get it at May's.

Milady Beautiful

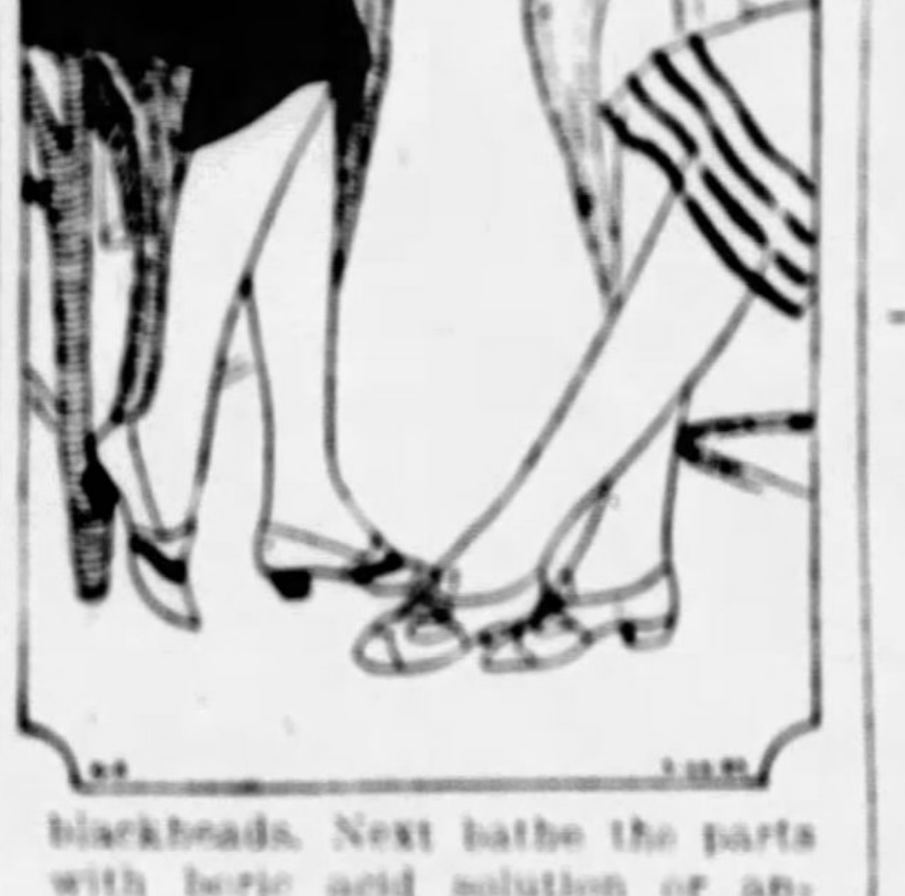
By Lois Leeds

Beauty Questions Answered

DEAR MISS LEEDS—(1) Please tell us what colors we should wear. We have dark brown hair, brown eyes and brunette complexions. (2) What style of shoes should one wear to make the feet look smaller? (3) How can one remove blackheads in a short time?

BROWN EYES.

Answer—(1) If you have an olive complexion you may wear dull pink, coral, apricot, bright red, rust, brick-red, pink-lavender in sheer fabrics, bronze green, reseda, darkest blue, ecru, deep brilliant yellow, mahogany, deepest brown, deep cream, black if trimmed with bright colors. If your skin is lighter than olive, that is, if it is medium, you may wear flesh, dull rose, peach, red tinged with yellow or brown, dull orchid, pink violet, taupe, dark green, bronze-green, blue-green, dark blue, dull yellow, browns and warm tans, deep cream and black if used with bright trimming. (2) Choose a shoe with a short vamp. A low-cut oxford style is good with one or two pairs of eyelets. Large feet look larger in light colors, so select dark hues for your footwear. (3) Steam the skin with hot towels, lather it well with soap, rinse it off and press out the blackheads. Next bathe the parts with boric acid solution or another mild antiseptic lotion and dry carefully. Apply an acne salve at bedtime. My leaflet, "Complexion Ills," explains treatments in detail. Please send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for it.



LOIS LEEDS.

Dear Miss Leeds—I am 28 years old, five feet five inches tall and weigh only 128 pounds. I have a good appetite and eat three hearty meals a day beside drinking half a pint of cream. I sleep well at night and take a nap in the afternoon. Shall I continue taking the cream, as it does not seem to be making me fatter? I have been taking it for two weeks, drinking half in the morning and the rest before I go to bed. I am thinking of taking yeast. Do you think this would help me gain about 20 pounds? I am nervous at times and suffer from constipation.

P. E. G.

Answer—You are 10 pounds below the average weight for women of your age and height. Keep on taking the cream, since two weeks is not long enough to obtain results. I feel quite sure that it is the nervousness that is preventing you from gaining weight. You must learn to relax instead of holding your body tense. The energy from your food that should go to build up your body is being wasted by this tense habit. When you sit or stand, practice relaxing all the muscles that are not actually needed to hold your body erect. The constipation is caused in part by your nervousness and, in part, perhaps, by your choice of foods. The yeast might be helpful in overcoming this trouble.

MEDITATIONS of a MARRIED WOMAN

by HELEN ROWLAND

MIXED GRILL

THE "love" that comes in a cocktail glass or a pocket-flask soon evaporates!

Most of the flapper's "wickedness" and sophistication are like the foreign pasters plastered all over the luggage of somebody who has never been abroad—just for show.

* * *

HELEN ROWLAND

One reason why we never hear of all the GOOD men there are in the world is because a man takes so much more pride and pleasure in bragging of his little vices than he does in advertising his big virtues.

* * *

When a man begs for your "love" what he really wants is your flattery, your kisses and your coddling—a combination quite as satisfying and a great deal less nerve-wearing.

In her dreams, every flapper fondly pictures herself as an island of sorcery completely surrounded by hopelessly infatuated men.

Flattering a man or reproving him is like after-dinner speaking; its whole effectiveness consists in knowing when to STOP.

* * *

The average man will make more fuss and noise over losing his penknife or his pet collar-button than over losing his heart or his reputation.

* * *

When a man marries his stenographer, he may not get the blind devotion of a domestic wife or the fascinating coquetry of a practiced charmer; but he DOES get someone who knows what it means to come home at night dead tired and yearning for nothing but food, silence and the hand-clasp of one who understands!

TOMORROW'S HOROSCOPE

Friday, September 23

This is a day unfavorable to many of the important activities on the planet Earth, according to astrology.

The rule is peculiarly threatening where labor is concerned and seems to presage excessive demands on employers.

Under this direction of the stars there may be some sort of severe dispute over wages and serious results are forecast.

The winter may bring many disturbing events, for mental unrest will be increased by strange weather conditions that bring loss and suffering.

The United States government is to undertake great projects for the benefit of the people, it is prophesied, and these will meet severe opposition from certain quarters.

All the tendencies among conservative leaders of the people will be toward thrift and protection of life, it is foretold.

Again London astrologers prophesy that the President of the United States is to astonish the country by a radical decision or policy.

The stars are read as presaging the organization of new religious cults and the success of many evangelists, while the orthodox churches are concerned with questions of long existing dogma.

Life is to continue to appear cheap in the face of many fatal accidents connected with transportation, astrologers declare.

Assassinations in Europe will be more numerous than in previous years, it is prognosticated, and for that reason public personages should be cautious, even in America, for special crimes are contagious.

This is not an auspicious time to speculate, but the stars may cause a tendency to risk money for sudden gain.

Persons whose birthdate it is may learn many secrets that will be beneficial in the coming year.

Children born on this day may be too much given to introspection. They should be taught to think clearly and along practical lines.

Defiance

I AM now going to speak upon a subject of which I have written often before, but which I want to drum into the heads of my readers—and that is the crass idiocy of cutting off the nose to spite the face! In almost every aspect of life this occurs. The business man loses business because he will not admit his judgment has been wrong—youth goes on with bravado—ruining its future prospects, all because maturity has pointed out that the chosen course is foolish and detrimental.

ELINOR GLYN

And when analyzed the whole thing is vanity—wounded vanity—flattered vanity—but vanity always! And can there be anything more paltry or pitiful than vanity!

George has been warned that a certain course of action will cause his employer to dismiss him. His "nose cutter" nature immediately causes him to continue the same more strongly than ever! No one shall tell him! He has no sense of humor of course, or he would see how pathetically comic he is. He is only demonstrating cheap vanity and merely hurting himself.

This weird spirit of defiance is so very much in evidence in these modern days that this is what makes me write on the subject. And I do implore sensible young people who may chance to read this to pause and ask themselves what they really want to achieve — success — happiness — wealth—or just to demonstrate foolish defiance and receive personal pain—and contempt.

BARE "TRIANGLE" EVIDENCE IN DOCTOR'S KILLING

WIDOW'S NAME LINKED WITH MAN

By International News Service.

HAMMONTON, N. J., Sept. 22.—An anonymous letter to authorities and an affidavit furnished by the postmistress at South Vineland combined to form the latest developments today in the search for the slayer of Dr. William Lilliendahl, 72, with an arrest predicted soon.

That the murdered physician suspected his 42-year-old wife, now under $25,000 bond, of carrying on correspondence with another man, was testified by Postmistress Mrs. William Tamberlain in a signed affidavit.

Mrs. Tamberlain declared, according to Police Chief J. E. Gebhart, that Lilliendahl came to her two months ago to verify his suspicions of his wife's correspondence with another man. "I did not know Mrs. Lilliendahl, and when he described her to me, I told him I knew her by the name of 'Peggy Anderson,'" Mrs. Tamberlain said, according to Chief Gebhart.

The name "Peggy Anderson" had been mentioned previously by authorities.

An anonymous letter, obviously written by a man of learning, and regarded as of genuine import, was the source of considerable speculation today. Chief Detective Harrold said the information in the letter was extremely valuable and has requested the writer to come forward and assist in the investigation.

Although an arrest was predicted for today, no hint was given as to the identity of the suspect nor the charge.

The postmistress in her affidavit also revealed that Dr. Lilliendahl had settled the identity of "Peggy Anderson" by bringing his wife to the postoffice. Mrs. Tamberlain identified Mrs. Lilliendahl as the woman receiving the "Peggy" letters, and asserted the letters were mailed from South Vineland, near the Lilliendahl home.

According to Chief Harrold, Mrs. Tamberlain also said Mrs. Lilliendahl frequently appeared at the postoffice with Willis Beach, a neighbor, who has been questioned.

The city planning commission was urged to plan for industries rather than a boulevard in the "Strip" district in a letter sent to Morris Knowles, chairman of the commission, by Gen. Albert J. Lindy at Studio Party of Marion Davies

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 22.—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh enjoyed a studio breakfast before he took off for San Diego.

Marion Davies, motion picture star, who had entertained the "Lone Eagle" at New York on his triumphal return from Paris, and who gave a tea in his honor at the Ambassador yesterday, was hostess at the breakfast at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio. The breakfast party was given in her bungalow at the studio.

At the breakfast table with "Lindy" were Victor Watson, of the Hearst newspapers executive council; William Randolph Hearst, E. J. Mannix, studio executive; E. B. Hatrick, head of International News-Reel and the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Newsreel; Harry Rapf, producer; Ramon Navarro, Gertrude Olmsted, William Haines, Ralph Forbes, Marceline Day, Robert Z. Leonard, George K. Arthur, Bert Roach, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Hyman and George McCarthy.

After the breakfast, "Lindy" and other members of the party posed for newsreel cameras in the picturesque bungalow patio.

The flier visited many of the sets at the studio, being followed by a throng of thespian admirers. He went to the stage where final scenes are being made for Miss Davies' lates picture, "The Fair Co-Ed."

The entire stage was occupied by a group of pretty young girls playing basketball in abbreviated gym suits. Here the shyness of the great flier manifested itself.

"Do the lights hurt your eyes?" someone asked Lindbergh, humorously.

"No, it's not the lights," he smiled in reply.

After making the rounds of the stages, Lindbergh went to the office of Louis B. Mayer, where he remained until time to go to the flying field.

MISSING PASTOR FOUND: ALLEGE BIGAMY

Flasks Appear and Couples Leave Aunt Em's Hotel; But Business Slumps

SALLY JEROME, pretty and clever, is the prop and mainstay of her family in the absence of her father, who does not live with her mother. MRS. JEROME enjoys poor health so Sally does the housework mornings and office work for MR. PEEVEY afternoons. The twins, BEAU and MILLIE, give little towards the support of the home, and the load falls on Sally. In the flat below the Jeromes lives TED SLOAN, an automobile salesman, who wants Sally to marry him and keep on working. But the only man who interests her is JOHN NYE, whose real estate office is across the hall from Mr. Peevey's. Millie is Nye's secretary, and he is blindly infatuated with her. Millie likes him, and says she will marry him for his money. But she really prefers DAVY DAVIDSON, a bond salesman, whom she met in another office where she worked. Davidson greatly admires Sally, who will have nothing to do with him. Beau and MABEL, his jazzy little wife, have come to live at the flat, but pay Sally almost nothing in the way of board. However, they have a second-hand car and Mabel buys a fur coat. Sally, who had hopes of Aunt Emily's business becoming a great success, begins to despair. On a New Year's eve, when almost every restaurant in the land is crowded to the doors, Aunt Em's is only half filled, and Sally is blue and downhearted. Millie comes in late in the evening, and says that she is with Davy Davidson, who is parking his car outside. She asks Sally for a secluded table and shows her a flask filled with Jamaica rum.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XLII.

SALLY eyed the glittering flask doubtfully. Then her gaze swept up to Millie's white-and-rose face.

"I don't believe Aunt Em will let you people drink liquor in this place," she said. "She put some people out last week for bringing it with them."

Millie laughed mockingly and glanced around the half-filled room. "Sally, you certainly were born yesterday, weren't you?" she asked scornfully. "Don't you suppose all these people here have something to drink with them? Of course they have! They aren't going to celebrate the New Year with cambric tea, you Round Heels!"

Sally's eyes followed hers around the big pale-green room. Most of the people who sat at the little tables were well-to-do, solid, middle-aged people—the kind that would be attracted to a quiet, dignified place like Aunt Emily's inn. The kind that wanted good food, comfort and peaceful surroundings.

Of all of them, Millie was the only one who looked as if she ever had seen the inside of a night club. Millie, with her short skirts rippling out over her silken knees, with her lashes darkened, her lips painted, and an enormous picture-hat jammed down over her bright yellow hair.

"Here's Davy now!" she exclaimed in her light, slow voice, and walked up to him with that swinging, graceful step of hers.

Sally saw her lips move as she said something to him under her breath, and then they came back to her table. "We aren't going to stay here," she said shortly, lifting her soft little chin. "We're going some place where we can get cracked ice and ginger-ale and no questions asked! By-by, Sister Sally. You and Aunt Em keep on with your little Sunday school and see how far you get with it!"

She was gentle and sweet in her manner. She always was when she was saying something particularly cutting and nasty. That was her way.

With her hand linked in Davidson's arm she turned to go. But he hung back, his gray eyes on Sally's face, in that intent look that always made her feel as if he were caressing it with his hands.

Still looking at her, he spoke to Millie. "We don't want to go, do we?" he asked her. "It's quiet here, and even if we can't drink, it's a nice place to spend the evening."

Millie gasped. "Why, what are you talking about?" she demanded. "You know this is the one night in the year when people DO want to have a drink! And that I had to drive you home one night when you didn't know the steering wheel from the spare tire, you were so tight! But, of course, if you're so gone on Sally that you want to stay here, cold sober, all evening long, far be it from ME to stop you!"

She faced him angrily, jealousy lighting up her face like a torch. "You can telephone for a taxi for me, and I'll go home by myself!"

DAUGHERTY DENIES STORY OF ATTEMPT TO RESIGN

Hint Three Brides as Pastor is Identified

By Universal Service.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Sept. 22.—The Rev. Willis J. Jordan, 55, Methodist minister, of Columbus, Ga., admitted his identity here last night in St. Mary's Hospital, where he was taken Saturday for treatment of typhoid fever.

He disappeared from his home the night of September 14, and a nation-wide search has been conducted for him.

Allegations from officials at Columbus are to the effect that he has had three previous marriages without obtaining a divorce.

He came to Grand Rapids to marry a woman here, he admitted. He is said to have first been married in Winona, Minn., then to a Mrs. V. V. Snyder, at Herndon, W. Va., and a third time to a Mrs. Emma Landridge, of Birchwood, Wis.

The last marriage is said to have been performed over long distance while he was in Birchwood and Mrs. Landridge in Washington. Another marriage was performed at Charlotte, N. C., in 1925, by J. M. Alexander, but is thought to have been a second marriage to Mrs. Landridge. His arrest has not been asked.

He admitted having a wife in Roanoke, Va., but an attempt to locate her failed, as she had moved.

Jordan declared he is the victim of amnesia and cannot account for his actions during the past few days. He declared that on the night of his disappearance two men accosted him and warned him to leave town or he would be killed.

SEALS ARE ASKED FOR VOTES

A cry of fraud was raised in the Sixteenth Ward today when a petition requesting the impounding of ballot boxes in the eleventh, twelfth, sixteenth and twenty-seventh districts was presented in Common Pleas Court. At the same time, criminal informations were sworn out before Justice of the Peace George Shields, of Wilkinsburg charging James Gala, judge of elections, with irregularities and five others with conspiracy to violate the election laws.

The court petition was presented by Attorney Franklin A. Ammon. It bore the signatures of Michael Conway, Joseph J. Klein and John Kornbauer.

Los Angeles Gets Credit for Pigs From Will

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Sept. 22.—Lindbergh has been welcomed in all his various old homes, but today I saw a sight worth remembering. It was the other half of "we" land on the field where she was made. San Diego can rightfully claim a great credit in the flight. But you can't beat Los Angeles. They had to get in on it somehow. They claim they raised the pigs that the ham sandwiches were made from that Lindy took to Paris. The pigs was raised in Hellman's ranch and cured by Joe Toplitsky.

Flasks Appear and Couples Leave Aunt Em's Hotel; But Business Slumps

She fairly threw the words into his face.

In the end they both went. Aunt Emily, who had come to the door that led from the kitchen, watched them go with puzzled, anxious eyes.

"Why didn't they stay?" she asked, and Sally told her.

"Well," she said very quietly, after a pause, "maybe that's the answer to a good many things. We may have to be a little bit more broadminded if we're going to get the crowds. After all, I've put every nickel I own into this business, and I'll make a go of it no matter what I have to do!"

Sally frowned up at her. "Surely you aren't going to let people drink here!" she cried.

Aunt Emily shook her head. "Of course not!" she replied with spirit. "But I'm going to do something to brighten things up. Maybe I can afford to hire a jazz band later on. I reckon young folks will go any place where there's good dance music."

"The House by the Side of the Road" did very little business that winter.

"Things will be better when the spring comes," Aunt Emily kept saying as month after month slipped away. "And then I can afford to hire my jazz band."

In the meantime she and Sally did all the work themselves, to keep expenses down. They fried the chicken and baked the pies. They set the tables and cleaned the house. They waited on table and checked the wraps.

In the little car that Aunt Emily had bought from Ted Sloan they went to market and brought home great baskets of vegetables and fruits and young chickens.

They cut the price of the dinner from $2 to a dollar and a half and so, by hook and crook, they managed to stay in business.

Each of them took $10 a week as salary, and they counted themselves lucky to make that much during the dull season for country inns.

Every day Sally managed to go home to the flat on Trellis street to do as much work as she could crowd into two or three hours.

And every day it seemed to her that the little place grew more and more dingy. For she no longer had time to keep the silver shining like plate glass, to scrub the dining room rug with carpet soap once a month, and to do all the little extra things that had made the flat so attractive in spite of its old furniture.

On Sundays Mrs. Jerome, with Mabel and Millie and Beau, would come out to the "House by the Side of the Road" for dinner.

They never offered to pay for it. They simply came and ate it and went away again without a word of thanks. Once Mabel even went so far as to complain because they always had the same food.

"Why don't you ever have duck for a change?" she whined. "I'm so tired of chicken and apple pie and so on, that I can hardly swallow them."

"Well, if you don't like what we have here, you know exactly what you can do, my girl," Aunt Emily told her grimly. "There are lots of other restaurants where you can go and pay for what you eat."

After that Mabel and Beau stayed away for two weeks. But on the third Sunday they were back again, hungry as ever.

On the first Sunday night in April Mrs. Jerome drove out with Ted Sloan.

She had had Sunday dinner there as usual, and Sally and Aunt Em looked at each other with surprise when she walked in at dusk.

"I just can't stand it any longer!" she wailed the minute she was inside the door of the dining room, which luckily happened to be empty.

Tears sprang to her misty blue eyes as she spoke, and she put her hand on the back of her chair wearily.

"Stand what?" snapped Aunt Emily, who never had any sympathy for her or any pity, either.

"The way I live," moaned Mrs. Jerome in answer. "Goodness knows I've kept my mouth closed for four months, but I've got to speak out now! There's no one to turn a hand for me at home. No one to get a decent cup of coffee for me in the morning, or a glass of hot milk for me at night. Beau tries to get breakfast in the morning, but he burns the toast every day of his life! And Mabel and Millie have chipped every dish in the house and broken the rest!"

She gave a gulp and went on tearfully. "They've all gone out now, and left me alone with nothing but the ticking of the clock for company, and I can't stand it. I can't stand it!" She broke into frank and loud sobbing.

Sally made a move towards her, but Aunt Emily laid a firm hand on her arm and pushed her back into the corner where she was standing.

"I'll settle this," she said under her breath, and then looked straight at her unhappy sister-in-law.

"Well, what do you want to do about it?" she asked, both hands spread out on her knees, and her whole attitude one of warlike defiance. "I suppose you want Sally to come back home and give up the only chance she'll ever have to make some money."

To Be Continued.

WHAT'S the ANSWER?

1. What is Plimsoll's line?
2. Who said "God's in his heaven, All's right with the world?"
3. Who is the Nicaraguan rebel leader?
4. What was the first nation to pay its war debts to the United States in full?
5. Who was the "Ettrick Shepherd?"
6. How did the dormouse get his name?

8. To whom did the magic sword Ascalon belong?
9. What makes a bee hum?
10. What was the Old Guard?

The answers to these questions may be found in tomorrow's paper.

Here are the answers to yesterday's questions.

1. "Lb." is a contraction of the Latin "libra," a pound.
2. "Ye" in Anglo-Saxon or Middle-English was pronounced "the," as it still should be when it is used i nthat sense. The Y in this case is the Anglo-Saxon "th," or thorn.
3. Celt, pronounced Kelt, means the race. Celt, pronounced selt, means a flint instrument.
4. Mont Blanc is not in Switzerland, but on the boundary line of France and Italy.
5. A dromedary is usually the one-humped Arabian camel. The Bactrian camel is two-humped.
6. Sun-spots are places in which the sun is cooler and does not give out quite so much heat and light. They are believed to be caused by great whirling storms in the surface layers of the sun.
7. Poetically, the welkin is the vault of the sky; the region where clouds float. Thus, to make the welkin ring is to make the heavens ring.
8. The horses of a team are distinguished by the terms near and off.
9. J. M. Barrie wrote "Sentimental Tommy."
10. The stars are hot and shine by their own light while the light of the planets is mostly sunlight reflected back by them to us. They do not shine for the same reason.

"Well, my dear, I honestly WISH you could have beHELD those odd souls, ARab and NOIsy, STAG'ring round VAGUELY under this simply tiTANic TRUNK effect of ARab's which they have been sort of THROWing things VIolently INto all WEEK in the frantic HOPE that they will have CLOTHES enough for two DAYS or so when they arRIVE at this HOUSE party—can you BEAR it, my dear? I mean I was SIMply conVULSED because I mean this TRUNK they have suddenly produced is honestly so perfectly treMENdous that they will prob'ly have to hunt for HOURS to FIND anything after they OPen it. Do you know what I mean? But, my dear, it was SIMply SCREAMing because I couldn't reSIST the tempTAtion to sort of get BACK at ARab for being so conTEMPtshush about MY luggage the other day, so I sort of gazed adMIringly at this huge TRUNK and remarked that I trusted he hadn't had any trouble getting everything INto it. Well, my dear, he took me PERfectly SEriously, if you please, and remarked that YES, he HAD, whereupon he SUDdenly produced these TWO large-sized SAXophones which he announced he would have to CARry—can you BEAR it, my dear? Love's Embers

Absorbing Sequel to "Revelations of a Wife"

By Adele Garrison

Noel Veritzen Looms as a Suitor for Mary Harrison's Hand

AS MARY finished outlining her program for her future career, I looked squarely at her, this time making no attempt to hide a smile. I saw that the child had made an obsession of her remorse and was planning such sordid schemes of atonement that she needed the saving grace of a bit of ridicule.

Not that I disapproved of a course in home economics for any girl. But in Mary's case it ought to be a brief and sketchy one. She was—and I had Philip Veritzen's trained judgment back of my opinion—that rarest of all creatures, the possessor of unmistakable genius. To put her into a routine of domesticity would be like harnessing a racing colt between the shafts of a milk cart. Even if she married, her husband would have to possess a mind big enough and broad enough to leave her comparatively untrammeled by home ties and to share her with the public to which inevitably she would belong.

So I let my amused smile change into a light laugh as I answered her.

"Well, that might be the wisest course for you to pursue, after all, Mary, judging by the activities of a certain young man during the last week or two. I imagine Noel would particularly approve that determination of yours."

She flashed a startled glance at me, flushed adorably, tried unsuccessfully to pout, and finally broke into an echo of my laugh.

"I guess he would," she admitted, dimpling. "Oh, I don't mean that he wants to pin any especial tag on me himself, but ever since that happened he's been talking about the terrible sacrifice a woman has to make to gain fame, how it takes her youth, her beauty and her good times, and that a girl would be so much happier if she never had a career at all."

"That's a very good 'line,' Mary," I said, deliberately using one of her own slang expressions, "but you haven't any idea that young Mr. Veritzen is handing it out as an impersonal contribution to the world's philosophy, have you? No, I don't expect any answer to that, but I do expect that you'll go straight to your room now and get your beauty sleep while you have a chance. You know very well that before the afternoon is over the youthful lecturer upon woman will put in an appearance, and you want to be rested in order to listen to him, if not to answer him. Off with you, now; I'll send Katie up with a nice luncheon for you. You're altogether too fagged out to have to sit through luncheon downstairs."

The rose flush which my raillery concerning Noel Veritzen had brought to her cheeks deepened into carmine as she again threw herself impetuously into my arms. I reflected that in no wise had the self-sufficient, somewhat hard little "modern" changed so much in her demonstrations of affection toward me. When she came to me she patently had been trying to pose as a self-contained woman of the world. But since the night when her world had come crashing around her head and we had rescued her from Jack Leslie, she had clung to me in an emotional, childish fashion, which called forth my tenderness and my pity.

"You're so good to me, Auntie Madge!" she exclaimed. "I don't deserve you. I wonder if a bad girl ever had so good a friend before. But you're an awful tease, and you know what you say about Noel—isn't a bit true. He only—"

"Did you ever hear of the lady who protested too much?" I answered, laughing. "Don't copy her, but come along with me. I see that you're not going to obey me, therefore I'm going to put you to bed as I would Junior."

Still laughing at her, I went with her to her own room and helped her get into a negligee. Then I tucked her up in bed, opened the window, drew the shades, switched on the reading lamp at the head of her bed and gave her a magazine.

"Now," I said authoritatively, "you may read until Katie comes up with your luncheon tray. When you have eaten and she has taken it away I shall expect you to switch off your lamp and go to sleep. I will call you in plenty of time to dress and receive any chance visitors."

Tomatoes Stuffed and Baked.

Wash and boil a quarter pound of calf's liver and, when done, chop fine. Add a heaping tablespoonful of fine crumbs, a teaspoonful each of chopped celery leaves and red pepper, a grated onion, a teaspoonful of Worcestershire sauce. Take the needed number of large half-ripe tomatoes, wipe them and hollow out the stem ends. Brush over with butter, then stuff with the liver mixture. Put on a buttered pan, sprinkle with a quarter cupful of the water in which the liver was cooked and bake until the tomatoes are done, but not soft, and lightly browned.

For the Lovelorn

By ELEANOR GALE

A School Girl

DEAR MISS GALE:

I want to thank you for your help which I received under the name "[illegible] Amore" and also ask you for more. I am a senior in high school and during my past year at school I became rather friendly with one of the younger teachers. Sometimes I talked with him after school in his room or in the hall. He seemed to like me, but he liked another girl better and sometimes called on her. He showed his liking for her too plainly in school, and a great deal of talk circulated about it. I told him this, but it did no good. He even seemed to hold it against me for telling him. Did I do right? When it came time for vacation I said goodby to him and invited him to call sometime during the summer, and he said he would. As yet he has not even telephoned, and I take it as a hint as to how much he thinks of me. What I wish to ask is: How shall I act toward him when I return to school. He always seemed to like me quite a lot—for even other people noticed it a little. This new attitude bewilders me. I liked him very well. Do you think I have lost his friendship entirely?

A SCHOOL GIRL.

It was, of course, not up to you to tell this teacher about the gossip and I have no doubt he did resent it. Treat him just as you do the other teachers this year, my dear, because he is obviously not interested in you other than as a pupil.

Hugh and Ralph

DEAR MISS GALE:

We are two boys in our teens and are in love with two girls but do not think they love us, as they go out with other fellows. Do you think they can love us if they do not go steady? We do not agree with you on the kissing question, for how does a fellow know if he loves a girl until he kisses her? Wishing you all the luck in the world, we are,

HUGH AND RALPH.

These girls, no doubt, feel they are too young to settle down and they are quite right. Is a kiss the only test of love?

"Works Like Magic!" This Millvale Woman Says:

"I often wonder what I'd do if I couldn't get Rinso for my washer. Why, it works just like magic. It makes our water so sudsy that all the dirt comes right out of the clothes, and in no time at all they are ready for the line—whiter than ever. The clothes last much longer, too, this way, now that they get so little rubbing. Rinso also washes dishes, floors and tiles just as nicely as it washes clothes. No wonder every woman in town is talking about it."

Mrs. Barbara Schneiderbocher,
121 Lippert Street,
Millvale, Pa.

Millions use Rinso. Thousands write us letters like this.

Whiter, brighter, sweeter
yet this wash wasn't scrubbed or boiled

IT'S really amazing the way clothes soak spotless, without one bit of hard work. Why, there's nothing at all to washday any more.

Now you just soak the whole week's wash in safe Rinso suds. This famous granulated laundry soap gives thick, creamy, lasting suds even in the hardest water.

In these cleansing suds, dirt and stains float off by themselves. The grimiest cuffs, hems and edges become snowy with little or no rubbing. You don't even need to boil the wash, for Rinso suds cleanse and whiten without boiling—and sterilize, too!

So all you need to do is soak, rinse—and hang out the whitest, brightest wash ever! Thousands upon thousands of women have written to tell us they can't scrub clothes as white and sweet as Rinso soaks them.

Saves clothes—saves hands

Of course the gentle Rinso way saves the clothes, for cuffs, hems and edges aren't scrubbed until they're thin and frayed.

Saves the hands, too. They're in water so much less—they don't become red and washworn.

No soap is kinder to you and your clothes than Rinso. Millions know it's safe. Contains nothing to harm your finest cottons and linens. Be sure to get the big package in time for next washday. It's all you need—no bar soaps, chips or powders. For economy and best results, just follow the simple directions on the package.

In washers, too

Rinso is just marvelous in washing machines. More than 32,000 demonstrators of leading washers use it to show their machines at their best.

And the manufacturers of 31 popular washers advise women to use Rinso for safety, and for a whiter, brighter wash. Try it!

Ever-Ready Razor and 2 Blades Free!

10 Singing Shaves free to introduce the greatest blade in the history of edge making

THE new Ever-Ready is a vastly superior blade. If it were not, the offer we are making would be financially impossible. No matter what razor you are using we can prove to you that the new Ever-Ready Blades represent the last word in shaving ease and luxury.

We challenge any other blade to shave as well as the new Ever-Ready. To the great army of men who for years have been enjoying the Ever-Ready Razor and Ever-Ready Blades, this announcement of our new blade with its wonderful shaving qualities is naturally interesting.

For users of razors other than Ever-Ready— we make it doubly easy to try the new Ever-Ready Blades. It would be unfair to ask you to buy a razor to make this test. Just buy a package of 10 Ever-Ready Blades, no matter what razor you now use. Without cost to you, we'll supply the razor—a handsome new triple-nickeled self-adjusting Ever-Ready Razor with two extra blades. If we do not prove our case, the test costs you nothing.

Our challenge is the boldest and most fearless to which a razor manufacturer could subject his product. At the same time, it is the easiest and fairest to the shaver, because you don't pay if we don't prove.

© A.S.R.C. 1927

CHALLENGE OFFER

For a period of two weeks, your dealer will sell you a package of 10 of the new Ever-Ready Blades for 69c.

With it, he will give you the finest standard Ever-Ready Razor, and 2 additional new Ever-Ready Blades, FREE. Some people hesitate to return merchandise after they have opened a package; for this reason we have added these two gratis blades so that you will not hesitate to use them first, to prove the superiority of our product.

Then, if in your opinion, we have not proven our case, return the package of 10 blades intact and get the entire purchase price back.

In towns where we have run this remarkable offer, we have converted hundreds and hundreds of men who had been using another brand of razor for years past. These men were so in the habit of buying blades to fit their old razor that it was hard to get them to try a new razor through an out-and-out purchase. Year in and year out these men had been accepting poor blades and poor shaves as a matter of habit because they "never knew that self-shaving could be any better than that which they had experienced". They accepted the Challenge Outfit and convinced themselves.

You, too, may think you are satisfied with your present razor and blades. You, too, may be putting up with bad shaves from force of habit because you imagine you are shaving with the best.

It is just such men as you that we hope to interest in this offer, because we know that we can prove our case 100 per cent. After all, if you don't agree with us, we pay for the trial.

As this challenge offer is for a limited period, take advantage of it at once—now—while you think of it. You will gain a new conception of clean, quick self-shaving.

ONE ORDER FOR TWO MILLION RAZORS FROM ENGLAND

Britishers Prove They Know What's What in Razors.

CROSS SEAS FOR EVER-READY

LONDON, England.—One of the largest single orders ever placed for razors or blades has been sent to America. This order calls for a shipment of two million Ever-Ready Razors to England.

This order is most significant when it is remembered that England—especially Sheffield—has been the world center for fine cutlery for generations.

Americans can be justly proud that smartly turned-out Englishmen send to the United States for Ever-Ready Razors and Blades.

PRESIDENT GIVES REASONS

In a recent interview, the English director of the American Safety Razor Corporation told why the English are so partial to Ever-Ready.

"You must remember," he said, "that the Englishman pays especial attention to personal appearance because of continuous social activities. Not infrequently he shaves twice a day so that his face may be absolutely clean at all times.

NO SCRAPES—EVER

"Shaving as often as this, he must have a blade which does not scrape—otherwise his skin would quickly get very tender. He finds that Ever-Ready has an edge so exceptionally keen that it takes off every hair right at the base. He doesn't have to go over his face but once with this exceptional blade. And it never scratches, scrapes, or pulls.

"As a matter of fact, he can actually shave less frequently with an Ever-Ready because it doesn't leave any quick-growing fuzz behind it.

THE SECRET OF THE STEEL

"It took us years of experimenting and scientific study to achieve an edge with this miraculous keenness. Our metallurgists were not satisfied until they forged a steel with just the proper temper to take the ideal shaving edge. The steel we use in Ever-Ready Blades is absolutely controlled and never changes down to the smallest fractional variation.'

UNDER THE MICROSCOPE

"You would be positively amazed if you compared different blades under the microscope. The edge of the new-process Ever-Ready is just as straight as a die—not a single nick in it—not a single waver or depression. If you could see the saw-like edges of some blades, you would appreciate what a gift to humanity this inflexibly straight edge is. You would understand why some blades tear into the skin while an Ever-Ready glides over it with ball bearing smoothness.

TRIPLE-TESTED PERFECT EDGE

"You see these blades. They are tested three times before they are packaged. A bad blade simply cannot get by. People used to think that bad blades were due to a necessary deficiency in blade making. They thought occasional bad blades had to be. But our uniform-control has absolutely eliminated the bad blade as a factor in shaving. Ever-Ready Blades run 100% perfect to the package."

Newspaper Attacks Shadowy Salesmen

COLUMBUS, Ohio.—Starting a campaign for "clean" selling and cleaner salesmen, the Columbus Dispatch has placed in the business office a large mirror which every salesman must see as he starts out in the morning.

Above the mirror is a sign with the following statement: Your appearance will have either a favorable or an unfavorable reaction upon every prospect you meet today. Look yourself over.

Selling organizations wishing to convey the same message to their staff in a subtle fashion are presenting their men with Ever-Ready Challenge Outfits. The suggestion is appreciated—and so is the Challenge Outfit.

Russian Badgers Taken by Storm

Badgers, badgers, badgers—thousands of them are captured in Russia every year to make the morning shave pleasant for America. The fur of thousands of these animals is brought over to America every year to make Ever-Ready Brushes.

The important process in handling the bristles is sterilizing them. As the brushes are in use for years—touching the cheeks every morning, they must be safe and clean as a surgeon's instruments. The latest approved sterilizing machines are employed for Ever-Ready Brushes so that each one leaves the factory absolutely clean—stamped and guaranteed "Sterilized".

The bristles of Ever-Ready Brushes are held in a vise-like grip in a base of vulcanized rubber. They can't come out. In this respect Ever-Ready Brushes are vastly better than imported brushes—for in the latter, the rosin base soon loosens under hot water and the bristles do not stay in.

CHAMP AND CHALLENGER

Here are Gene Tunney, the champion, and Jack Dempsey, the challenger, who meet tonight at Chicago in a 10-round bout for the heavyweight championship of the world.

Champion, in Pre-Fight Statement, Says He Is at Peak of Form.

CITES HIS IMPROVEMENT

By GENE TUNNEY.

CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—I'm ready to fight. And I hope Gene Tunney is in the same mood. I am supremely confident of victory. I'm hopeful of scoring a knockout, And doing it in a hurry. But if I fail in that I have a firm belief that I will be declared the winner if both of us are on our feet with the final bell.

Never since 1921 have I felt surer of myself; never have I been more anxious to get into action and never

NEVER FELT SURER

By JACK DEMPSEY.

LAKE VILLA, Ill., Sept. 22. There is very little I care to say today before I step into the ring with Jack Dempsey. Too much has been said already. As I understand it, this is to be a boxing contest and not a tournament of words.

One thing is absolutely certain—if I lose to Jack Dempsey tonight I will have no excuse to offer. I have never been in better condition in my life and I will never be a better boxer. In my opinion, when I step through the ropes at 9:30

PRELIMINARY CARD TO BIG FIGHT SHOW

CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—(INS.)—Preliminaries to the Gene Tunney-Jack Dempsey card tonight are: George Manley, Denver, vs. Yale Okun, New York; Chuck Wiggins, Indianapolis, vs. Jimmy Byrne, Louisville; Big Boy Peterson, New Orleans, vs. Johnny Grosso, New York; Armand Emmanuel, San Francisco, vs. George La Rocco, New York; Benny Kreuger, Chicago, vs. Martin Burke, New Orleans.

The bouts will be six rounds each. All fighters are heavyweights. The first preliminary will start at 8:15 p. m.

TO INSPECT DUCATS

Expert engravers will be at many gates to inspect tickets as a precaution against the $500,000 worth of counterfeit pasteboards which Tex Rickard believes are in circulation.

JACK CERTAIN TO WIN, SAYS ESTELLE

By ESTELLE TAYLOR DEMPSEY,
Wife of Jack Dempsey.

(Written Expressly for the Chicago Herald and Examiner and Universal Service.)

CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—Jack Dempsey will be heavyweight champion of the world before midnight tonight. I am certain of it. And through all the years of my life, at home, in Hollywood and elsewhere, I have been noted for the accuracy of my "hunches." People who claim to be able to recognized the psychic in others have long proclaimed me "sensitive."

If that be true, I can only say that I never was more sensitive in my life about anything than I am about the deserved victory of my Jack in this fight. I am "sensitive" to a most pronounced hunch. I am sensitive to the fact that, in condition, he is as perfect an athlete as the ring has ever known.

In brief, I am sensitive of the fact that the finest man I ever knew, and

Flynn, Gibson Predict K. O.'s for Jack, Gene

By LEO P. FLYNN,
Manager of Jack Dempsey.

CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—Dempsey is the greatest heavyweight I ever saw and he is fit to fight tonight like the real Dempsey. I predict a knockout in his favor in three rounds if Gene is man enough about that open letter to start fighting from the first bell, and a knockout in seven rounds even if Tunney takes the defensive from the start. Dempsey has not been handicapped in his training this time. He has had no mental worries and is full of fight and confidence.

Dempsey is better now than he has been at any time since he whipped Billy Miske in 1920. Realize what that means. It means he will be the only heavyweight champion that ever came back by 11 o'clock tonight.

All I ask is fair refereeing and correct judging. With that the fight is in now.

(Copyright, 1927, by Universal Service.)

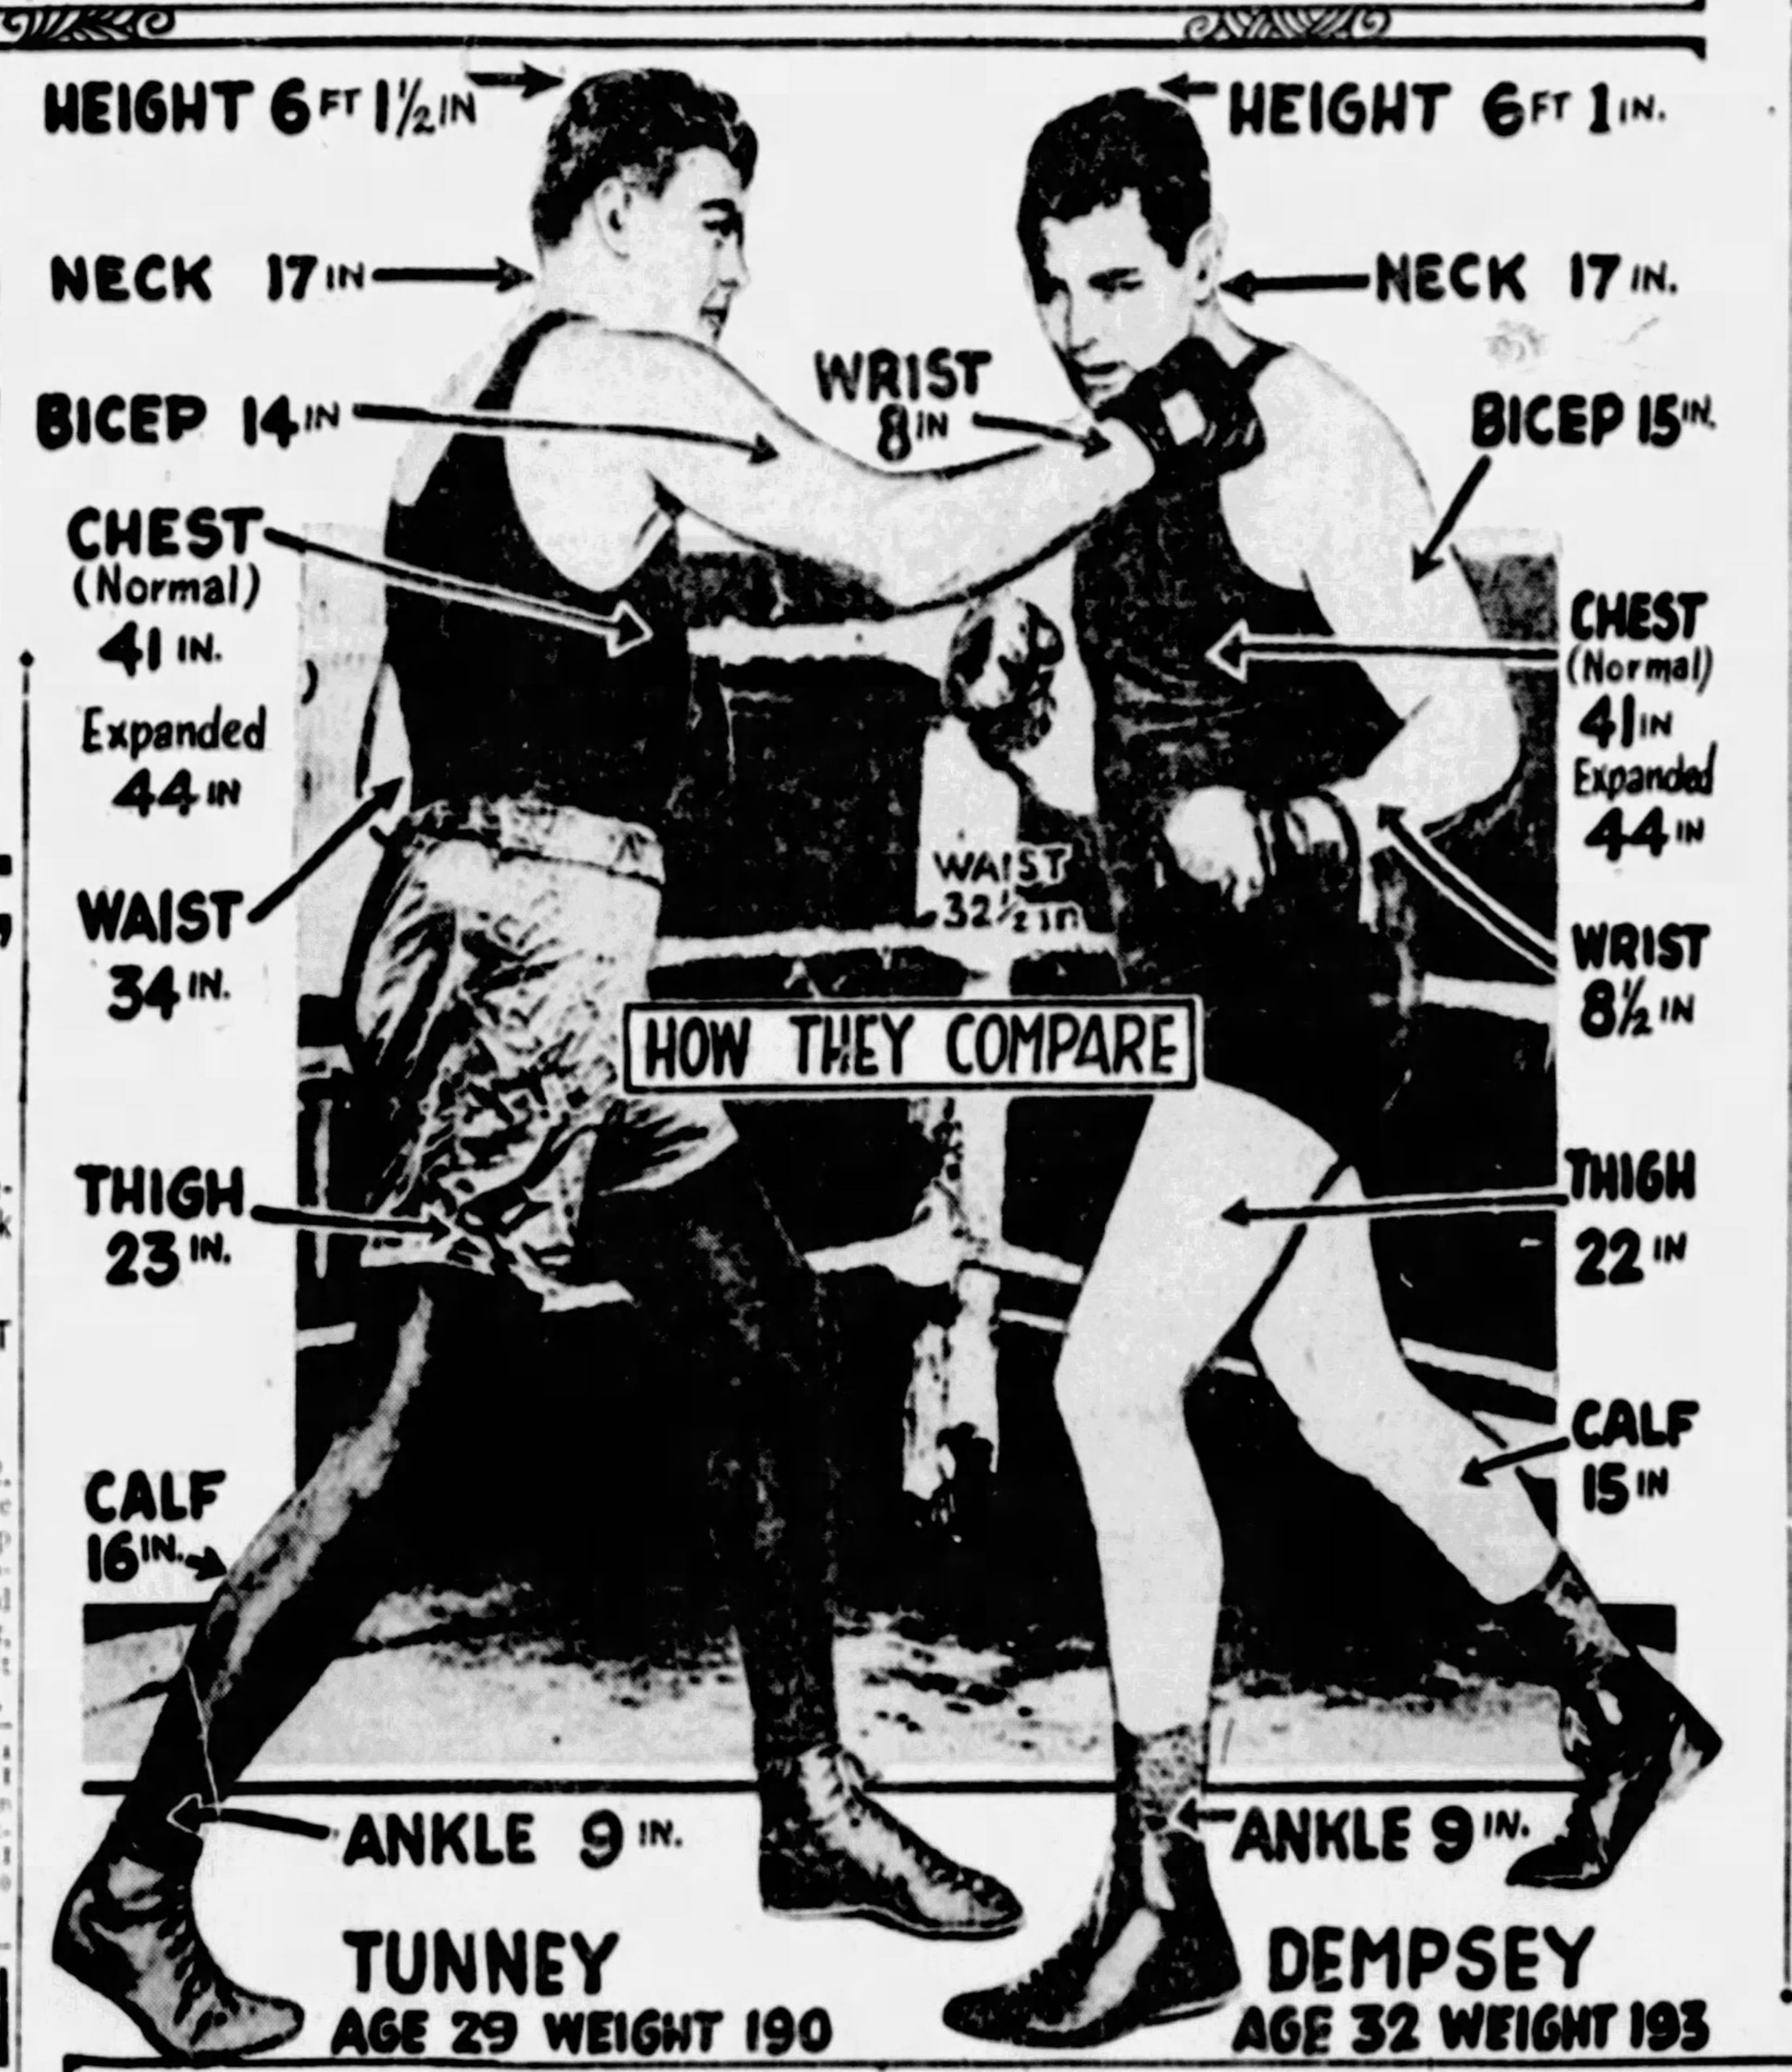
By WILLIAM GIBSON,
Manager of Gene Tunney.

LAKE VILLA, Ill., Sept. 22.—Gene Tunney will knock Dempsey out, I believe, when they meet tonight. I have been with many champions and near-champions, and never have I seen a man in such superb physical and mental condition as is the champion. Let us suppose Dempsey is 25 per cent better today than he was a year ago. Well, even that would not be enough, inasmuch as Tunney is at least 50 per cent better himself.

It is possible, of course, that the fight may go the scheduled distance of 10 rounds. But I dp not think it will. I think Tunney will put the crusher on Dempsey within seven rounds.

Tunney has youth, speed, boxing ability, health, condition and confidence. Dempsey nor anyone else can match that combination. Tunney is one of the greatest of all fighters and you will see a real master in action when he steps into the ring.

(Copyright, 1927, by Universal Service.)



MEASUREMENTS

The measurements indicate that the rivals are about as evenly matched physically as it is possible for two men to be.

SPORT COMMENT by JAMES J. LONG

THE action of the Pittsburgh baseball club in asking permission of Commissioner Landis and the city authorities to erect a bleacher stand outside the left wall at Forbes Field to accommodate those fans who cannot afford to pay the higher prices for World Series seats if the Pirates win the National League pennant and part of the Diamond Derby is therefore played here next month, is all the more commendable when it is considered that to do this will mean a finan-

Dempsey Fight Pictures at Sun-Tele

The last Dempsey fight pictures, showing this week at the Palace theater, Diamond street, will be shown to the fight fans of Pittsburgh tonight in front of The Sun-Telegraph Building, Bigelow boulevard and Tunnel street.

These, in addition to music and other entertainment, will precede the blow-by-blow account which Harry Keck, sporting editor of The Sun-Tele, is wiring from the ringside in Chicago.

The pictures were loaned tonight through the courtesy of the Harris Amusement Company, of which Eugene Connelly is an executive. Be there! No traffic trouble will bother you. Better than almost any seat in Soldiers' Field.

CHAMPION, CHALLENGER READY FOR GONG IN FIGHT TONIGHT

By HARRY KECK.

Philadelphia of last year all over again, only a little more so.

Meanwhile the fighters have spent their last few moments in camp prior to coming to the battle scene. They are in deep seclusion in the city, even shielded from the newspapermen, but reports state that all is well with both and, that they are calmly and confidently awaiting the zero hour when they will be called to the ring. They are to weigh in this afternoon, and indulge in some light calisthenics as their only activities of the day prior to the supreme test.

Special trains, extra sections of regular trains, automobiles, airplanes, interurban cars and every other known vehicle are disgorging their human freight throughout the day. Fans are piling into the town from every corner of the land. Aye, from all corners of the universe. There seems to be no end. Even big Chicago, with its wide, open streets and its unusual hotel facilities, plainly feels the pinch.

A tinge of autumn continues in the air, boding ill for those fans who dare to go to the stadium tonight without the protection of topcoats or blankets. They do say a chill wind blows in from Lake Michigan and that all the nights range from cool to cold. The

Even Money Prevails on Fight

CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—(INS.)—Even money.

That was the way most wagers on the Tunney-Dempsey fight tonight were being laid today. So much Dempsey money has shown up in the last 24 hours that Champion Tunney is no longer the favorite in the betting.

Tunney money was being put up for the most part by Easterners, while visitors from the Pacific Coast and the Middle West were placing their coin on Dempsey. New Yorkers were surprised to find so much Dempsey money in evidence.

Various angles of the betting were:

Tunney to beat Dempsey and vice versa, even money.

Dempsey to knock out Tunney, 3 to 1.

Tunney to knock out Dempsey, 6 to 1.

Dempsey to win on a knockout in the first round, 20 to 1.

Tunney to win on a knockout in the first round, 50 to 1.

Keck Predicts Decisive Tunney Victory

By HARRY KECK,
Sun-Tele Sports Editor.

CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—Amid all of the speculation about how Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney will acquit themselves in their battle in the Soldier Field Stadium tonight, permit me to submit my mind picture of how I think the bout will be fought.

Tunney has said that he considers last year's victory on points over Dempsey in the light of unfinished business and will go into tonight's battle with the idea of scoring a knockout and impressing his superiority on his critics.

I do not think Tunney means that. I think he is too smart a boxer and ring general to throw away all of his natural advantages over Dempsey and make the mistake Jack Sharkey made of trading punches with the former champion.

I look for Gene to start off very cautiously and to box his way to a big lead on points. I expect him to keep on the move, circling about the ring and keeping Dempsey back on his heels with the expert use of his educated hard left jab and to follow through with right crosses when he has Jack off balance, and in a position where the former champion can not strike back effectively. Later in the fight, if Dempsey tires under the pace, I would not be surprised to see Tunney apply force and try to win with a knockout.

TUNNEY WILL WIN.

I am confident Tunney will win, but not necessarily by a knockout. Whether or not he applies the soporific, it seems to me, depends a great deal on the condition of Dempsey. If Jack really is in as good shape as he appears to be, he should be able

SCENE OF BATTLE AND MEN WHO MADE IT POSSIBLE

Here is the Soldier Memorial Stadium, Chicago, and Tex Rickard and George Getz, promoters, who will reap a financial harvest when the 170,000 fans expected to attend wend their way into the great bowl tonight will result in a crowd of capacity proportions. unsold today, it is expected that the "last-minute" rush tonight will result in a crowd of capacity proportions. The Soldier Memorial Stadium is one of the biggest sports arenas in the world. Getz is associated with Rickard in staging the title bout. In name Getz is the promoter, but Tex is the "big boss," and his is the hand behind the throne.

NICK GOES HEAVY

"Nick the Greek," a noted plunger of New York and Chicago, is said to have wagered $50,000 on Tunney at even money. An almost equal amount of the "smart money" was the $45,000 placed by Herbert G. Shimp, Chicago horseman, on Dempsey.

COLLECTORS ON SCENE

Ninety-nine deputy collectors of internal revenue will be stationed at the stadium to protect the Government's interests in the fight, which interest is 10 per cent of the gate receipts.

GENE CALLS MOTHER

A long-distance telephone call to his mother in New York was one of Gene Tunney's final acts before retiring last night. He also wrote her a long letter.

NELSON TEX' GUEST

Battling Nelson, the first glove wielder to fight under Tex Rickard's promotion, will be a guest of Tex at tonight's battle. Nelson fought Joe Gans at Goldfield, Nev., 21 years ago in Rickard's first match.

ARRIVES BY PLANE

The longest of airplane hops to see the fight, so far discovered, was made by W. A. Straith, of Winnipeg, Man. William B. Leeds, heir to the tinplate millions, and his wife, the former Princess Xenia of Greece, broke their air journey to spend the night at Cleveland.

general tone of the crowd and setting is that of a vast colorful football assemblage on the day of an annual classic.

GATE MAY BE $3,000,000

Last-minute business at the ticket booths in the Palmer House and scattered about the town is brisk, and gives promise of shunting the receipts well beyond the $2,500,000 mark and possibly even close to the early dream of $3,000,000.

Betting continues light, although there is plenty of discussion of it. There is talk of even money on the fight, but this appears to be a myth since no record is obtainable of such wagers being laid. As the day wears on and the promised deluge of Dempsey money fails to materialize, indications are that instead of shortening, the odds on Tunney will increase and he will go into the ring a well-backed favorite, although the sympathy of the fans still is decidedly with Dempsey. The famous Nick the Greek is trying to place $4,000 on Tunney at 6 to 5 through a broker and is experiencing no little difficulty getting his money covered.

Conferences that lasted on into the early hours of last night were necessary to settle all of the bickering between Managers Billy Gibson for Tunney and Leo P. Flynn for Dempsey. The quarrel over the bandaging of hands continued longest and was most heated, Dempsey finally winning out. Tunney demanded that they bandage their hands in the ring as a precautionary measure, while the Dempsey camp held out for bandaging in the dressing rooms, with deputy commissioners looking on.

Promoter Rickard sided with Dempsey, saying he did not see why the dressing room stunt would not be O. K., and co-Promoter George Getz, at first for bandaging in the ring, where all of the fans could see what was going on. Getz later switched and Dempsey gained his point.

UNFAVORABLE TO TUNNEY.

Dempsey's argument was that time would be unnecessarily wasted while the bandages were being adjusted in the ring and there was a danger of the boxers being chilled during the long act. Last year the men bandaged their hands in the ring at Philadelphia, with rain beginning to fall. Tunney was much the cooler, and got on Dempsey's nerves as he deliberately wrapped and then rewrapped his hands. Dempsey was ready long before Gene, and was nervous as he waited for the gong to ring. Perhaps Jack feared a similar situation tonight. At any rate, his men fought a long bitter and finally a winning battle in his behalf in the conference room. This victory for Dempsey was an astonishing one and unexpected inasmuch as the articles of both men were said to contain a clause calling for them to tape their hands in the ring.

All along it was thought that Manager Flynn was merely putting up a bluff to try to get the Angoras of the opposing side when he finally succeeded in having the contract clause waived aside. There was much shaking of heads as veteran observers said it looked as if Tunney, the champion, was being given the "works."

The commission ruled that the men would be furnished 50 feet of soft wrapping for each fist, with white adhesive tape to hold it in place. The men were notified to be in their dressing rooms by 9 o'clock, so they could be ordered into the ring at once in the event of rain or a threat of it. No one but the commissioners knows the identity of the referee and the judges, which will not be revealed until ring time.

PITTSBURGHERS ARRIVE

Johnny McGarvey's Pittsburgh special train arrived this morning and put up in one of the yards near the stadium and the members of the party came down to the Loop district, where they mingled and chewed the rag with other visitors. Hundreds of other Pittsburghers came singly and in groups.

Everything is set for the big affair. The town is on its ear. The scribes are about the same way, and only the clang of the gong is necessary to culminate months of serious preparation for the biggest fistic battle in history.

The first of a series of six-round heavyweight bouts is scheduled for 8 o'clock, and the main bout is scheduled for 9:30 (10:30 Pittsburgh daylight time).

The revised preliminary card follows: George Manley, of Denver, vs. Yale Okun, of New York; Chuck Wiggins, of Indianapolis, vs. Jimmy Byrne, of Louisville; Big Boy Peterson, of New Orleans, vs. Johnny Grosso, of New York; Armand Emmanuel, of San Francisco, vs. George Larocco, of New York; Benny Krueger, of Chicago, vs. Martin Burke, of New Orleans.

O'LOUGHLIN AND BAUR MEET FOR TITLE TODAY

Dave O'Loughlin and Byron Bauer, Pitt's pair of tennis aces, will meet this afternoon at 4 o'clock on the First Baptist Church courts to decide the university singles championship.

The match was scheduled to be played last spring, but adverse weather conditions made it necessary to postpone the affair until fall.

Seats To Be Outside Field

THE Pittsburgh baseball club has made arrangements to accommodate the poor bleacherites at the World Series in event the Pirates meet the New York Yankees in this year's fall classic.

Determined not to encroach on the playing field by erecting temporary bleachers in leftfield as was the case two years ago during the Pittsburgh-Washington series, the Pirate officials have asked for and received permission to build the wooden seats outside of the leftfield barrier.

Two years ago these seats accommodated 6,000 fans, who were admitted for $1.10 per game. This year the stands will be somewhat smaller and will not accommodate as many fans as in 1925, owing to the position of the scoreboard in left.

It was the original intention of the Pirate officials to erect the temporary seats, but they were forced to await official word from Baseball Commissioner Landis to proceed with the work.

The news that the Pirates will erect the new stands should prove popular with the regular bleacher patrons, who are unable to purchase the higher priced seats. In order to obtain the cheaper variety, the bleacherites invariably are compelled to stand in line all night to assure themselves of a place in the series.

GENE FAVORITE

to stand the gaff over the 10-round route. His legs, which are heavy, may drag badly, as they did against Tunney last year and against Sharkey recently. As for Dempsey's style of fighting, his only system, despite all the talk about his altered style, will be to carry the fight to Tunney from the start. He will crouch and go in more or less flat-footed, groping for close encounters with his right glove extended to grap his opponent and lock him up so he will be able to hammer away to the body and head with his left.

Tunney himself is a good infighter and a very good defensive man at close quarters, and with his experience of last year, plus what he saw of Dempsey against Sharkey, he should be able to protect himself well in the clinches. At long range there will be nothing to it but Tunney.

If the men do not fight along these lines then I have sadly misjudged in their training gallops.

FANS in the district are not altogether satisfied with the makeup of the Heidelberg squad for the season's campaign. Of course, the team fielded by Manager Balsarini on Sunday may not be the best that is under contract to him, but it is an assured fact the backfield will have to be changed for the national open and amateur cup races.

Next Sunday the amateur champs will run into real competition in the German Sport Club. Together with the German field not suiting the Heidelberg style of play, there is the chance that the Germans being in better trim, might stop the green and gold cracks.

From a well balanced standpoint Mustard Hollow looks to be the strongest outfit in the district its attacking line shows power, while the middle line, with the forceful Sackles leading the way, can break anything that comes along.

On Saturday the Scottish clan league will swing into action with two games. Clan Cameron and Clan McPherson old rivals, will meet, while Clan Gordon of Ambridge will make the trip to Donora to meet the champion Grant aggregation. This game will be handled by George Lumsden, who will make his debut in the ranks of West Penn Valley referees.

Lumsden is welcomed into the referee ranks and his experience in the soccer playing world should stand him in good stead. He was one of the outstanding players that ever kicked a ball in this district, brilliant and resourceful.

With two victories under their belt, Mustard Hollow will meet the undefeated Pittsburgh Internationals. Knowing the strength of the Homestead crew it will be a good chance to see if White and Brennan can hold the upriver wrecking crew outside the goal area.

The first local derby of the season will be staged on Saturday when the Rovers and Celtics of Lawrenceville stage their first tilt. The Rovers are strong and the Celtics have licked everything to date. So the battle of the Strip should be worth going a long way to see.

One more week of the league games then the boys will be worrying over the cup ties. The draw for the national is out and soon the news regarding the amateur will be coming along. Then the West Penn officials state that all entries should be in for the local championships.

Thirteen games will be scheduled this week end, outside of the Chartiers Valley and Monongahela leagues, so it is very evident that soccer is going to be plentiful again this fall and winter.

LAMBERTON AWARDED MARKMANSHIP TROPHY

The last regular shoot of the Inter-City Gun Club for this year has been held, and Robert Lamberton has been awarded the Suhr trophy for marksmanship. Both Charles Huff and Dick Lamberton gave R. Lamberton a great race for the cup.

In the 100 target 16-yard event, Dick Lamberton won the cream and sugar set, with a score of 99-100. To win he was compelled to shoot off a tie with C. A. Rice, of Erie, each breaking 24-25 on the first shoot off, and Dick going straight on the second string of 25. Gus Rice dropped one target. Sid Brandon won the doubles events with 41-50, and took home the fountain pen desk set.

Cash prizes of $12.50 each were won by C. A. Rice, of Erie; Herbert Beatty, of Franklin, and A. A. Hilton, of Oil City.

the squarest, is about to win the greatest boxing title back in a square and fair fight. It's coming to him.

I'll not be at the ringside. I don't like to watch any boxing match and I couldn't stand watching this one, even though I am utterly certain of its results.

I hope with all my heart that the victory is a quick one and that no one is injured.

When Jack wins his championship back—a feat never before accomplished in the history of the heavyweight title—it will be because he has worked as no dethroned champion ever worked to fit himself for the comeback. He will win, not because of any break of luck or depreciation in an opponent.

Jack Dempsey is himself again. Watch him go.

o'clock tonight, I will be entering on the very apex of my fighting career.

Let me sum up what I believe to be my strength against Dempsey; my hitting power has increased at least 15 per cent. I am bigger, stronger and heavier than I was a year ago at Philadelphia. In boxing ability I have improved 30 per cent. In confidence and ring poise I have all of the sense of power of a young man, in his prime, who has won the world's heavyweight championship, finds it something to be treasured and is determined to hold onto it with the last ounce of his fighting strength.

I sincerely hope that Jack Dempsey has improved over his Philadelphia showing and will give me a fight worthy of his splendid past record.

May Delay Verdict Day

By ED FRAYNE,
Universal Service Staff Correspondent.

CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—Chicago sat in judgment on the six-man decision today, and the great jury of fight fans returned a favorable verdict.

The last-minute precaution of the State Athletic Commission in ruling that the verdict of tonight's championship contest between Jack Dempsey must first be submitted to them has met with general approval.

Under the new plan announced late yesterday the commissioners have reserved the right to overrule the referee and two judges. If the three officials fail to reach a verdict satisfactory to them, they will refuse to allow any verdict to be made public. The public will be forced to wait until the following day, when the commissioners will meet in special session and announce an official finding. Or, as they expressed it, a "proper verdict."

The move is in line with the determination of Illinois to safeguard the match against all possibility of scandal. Although such a procedure has never been known in boxing before, it was generally agreed that it will protect the public against any chance of wilful or accidental mistake.

MISTAKE RECALLED

A mistake made by an announcer in a preliminary bout at the Mills Stadium last week caused the adoption of the six-man plan for the championship bout. John (Red) Dolan had decisively defeated Don Davis, according to Promoter Jim Mullen, and both judges and the referee had voted him the decision. To the amazement of everyone, the announcer walked over and raised Davis' hand.

Upon investigation, it was learned that the announcer had made a mistake in totaling the cards of the three officials. Under the Illinois law the bout is awarded to the boxer who has won the greatest number of rounds. The judge and referee merely indicate their finding on the winner of each round, and it is the duty of the announcer to add up the figures. This particular announcer had proved a poor mathematician.

The incident awakened the commission to the possibility of such a situation in the big fight. If such a blunder should be made in the excitement of a close finish tonight, it would precipitate a scandal that might easily destroy boxing in this state. Under the traditions of the Queensberry sport, the first decision stands. There have been very few instances where even official bodies have attempted to reverse them, no matter what the circumstances.

Mrs. Jack Big Boss in Fight Affairs

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
Universal Service Motion Picture Editor.

CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—"Gene Tunney is the heavyweight champion of the world, and he will have to fight when he steps into the ring. People aren't paying $3,000,000 to see a pleasant little boxing match. He will fight me blow for blow and not back into a corner as he did in Philadelphia. This will be an offensive battle, not a defensive one," said Jack Dempsey in the last interview he granted any newspaper reporter.

I had motored to Lincoln Fields with Estelle Taylor, his wife, for her final good-bye and an early supper with Jack before he went into retirement at the Morrison Hotel to get ready for the battle. Jack had promised me in Hollywood that he would give me the last word—you see I am a woman as well as a reporter and this little chat was in accordance with our agreement.

Estelle, dressed in a symphony of greens, dined quietly at the Dempsey training quarters on a meal supervised by Mrs. Leo Flynn. Mrs. Flynn made the tea, bought the supplies and otherwise lent her watchful eye to their preparation else anything not good for prize fighters should creep into this final dinner.

The nervous strain of these last hours before the fight are agonizing, Estelle admitted, although she was cheerful and outwardly calm when she kissed Jack goodbye and told him that she knew he would win. I knew that she was quivering and very near tears when she said:

"Win or lose, Jack, I will be waiting for you, but it will be victory I feel sure."

HANDS TAPING PRIVATE

Jack, always like a big awkward boy when he is with Estelle, listened to her words of love and confidence with a smile on his face. His expression bore little or no resemblance of the fierce Manassa mauler described by Damon Runyon, Warren Brown, Eddie Frayne, Gene Fowler and the other real sport writers.

Then suddenly, like a dark cloud in a peaceful sky, his whole expression changed, and with a brow black and lowering, he said:

"You may tell your readers for me that my hands will be taped in my dressing room. Mr. Gene Tunney and twenty of his friends can be present when my hands are wrapped, but the job will be done in the privacy of my dressing room and not in the ring.

"I go into the ring to fight," said this Jack that Hollywood has never met, "not to have my hands taped. The Illinois Boxing Commission says that all prize fighters' hands shall be bound in the fighter's dressing rooms and I shall abide by that law or else there will be no fight."

Estelle sitting on his knee replied: "You are right. Promise me you will not weaken."

JACK OBEYS ESTELLE

I listened to Estelle with something akin to admiration and wonderment. Most people think she is just a motion picture actress. A pretty girl with deep dark eyes who has fallen in love with a popular prize fighter. Estelle is no mere pretty girl; she is a woman of brains, and let me tell you Jack Dempsey doesn't make a move without consulting her. I have spent the last twenty-four hours with her and I know whereof I speak.

If Jack wins, as Hollywood hopes and prays, much of that success can be laid at the door of his wife who has been untiring in her efforts to see that he gets a square deal in the matter of referee, boxing commission and with the judges.

Hollywood's motion picture stars have both beauty and brains; that's what makes them such a devastating combination.

ROBERTSON HERE FOR BOUT WITH ELKHART

Homer Robertson, accompanied by his manager, Solly Snyder, arrived in Pittsburgh yesterday from Boston for his fight with Indian Jack Elkhart at Duquesne Garden tomorrow evening. The Boston flash appeared to be in excellent shape and will complete his training at the Y. M. C. A. on Center avenue.

Elkhart is expected today, and, according to reports from Chicago where the hard-hitting Indian has been training, he is in top notch shape.

have I known more perfect co-ordination.

My only worry is on the point of whether I can get away to a good start.

I'll guarantee that the man Tunney meets tonight will not be the same man that he fought a year ago in Philadelphia.

I was just a bird that night who went out with the thought of landing one or two punches and ending the show. I tried no defense, figuring I needed none; that is, figuring that way until it was too late for me to try one.

And I just went into that fight without any campaign mapped out. This time it will be different.

I want nothing in life more than to get back that old battered crown. Tonight all that I have to toss into a prize ring goes into the effort to whip Gene Tunney, cleanly and decisively. And become once again what I was for seven years: "Jack Dempsey, champion."

Red Mason Pens Tunney Hot Message

James (Red) Mason, veteran local boxing manager, will not be present when Gene Tunney and Jack Dempsey meet in Chicago tonight for the heavyweight championship of the world. This will break a long attendance record for Mason, as he has been at the ringside of every heavyweight championship fight since Jack Johnson and Jim Jeffries met at Reno, Nev., on July 4, 1910. Mason will remain here to handle his boy, Tug Phillips, in a bout against K. O. Ferry at McKeesport tonight.

Mason last night wired Gene Tunney his best wishes for a victory and added: "If you had acted as Dempsey did in war time, it would be the kaiser instead of Tex Rickard who would be holding the fight in Chicago."

This morning Mason received the following telegram in reply from Tunney: "Many thanks for your telegram. My eye is completely healed. Gibson and Bronson join me in sending best wishes.

'GimmeBeef,' Jock Wails

By JESS M. CARVER

"I'VE been reading these papers a lot recently," quoth Coach Jock Sutherland of Pitt last evening, "and I see where the boys are claiming that the fight is crooked, that baseball is on the fritz and that there are even indications that the World War was fixed. It's getting so that I'm afraid to start practice each day for fear they'll accuse me of feeding the boys knockout drops and let Thiel win this ball game we are going to play Saturday."

The quiet Scot cracked one of his smiles, not so rare when you know him, and pulled out a piece of paper upon which were written the weights of his players. He had a lot of figures and dope, but the thing that seemed to be worrying him was that no matter how he twisted his combinations, he was unable to make his first team average more than 170 pounds.

That isn't a lot of weight for a college varsity to carry. True many teams carry less, but there are a flock of 'em that carry more too. Of course the Pitt team this fall is going to employ a lot of open plays, tricky formations and will have a fine aerial attack.

But still Jock would like to have a lot of beef, and he is sounding his new battle cry far and loud—"My Kingdom For Some Beef."

DUKE FROSH PLAY

The Duke freshman team will be the first frosh outfit in the Tri-state district to get into action. The Dukelets are to meet the Cathedral Academy eleven of Erie at that town Saturday afternoon while the Duke varsity is opening the season with St. Bonaventure at Olean, N. Y.

The Dukes, according to Manager of Athletics John Carstairs Holahan will leave early Friday morning for New York state and will be back in town Sunday evening. Coach Layden will not make any announcement regarding the makeup of the squad that is to travel Oleanward until after practice tonight. Twenty-two men are to be taken on the jaunt.

Carnegie Tech has finished most of its work for the opener at Youngstown Saturday with Westminster and will taper off with a light signal drill today and another tomorrow. The varsity will leave for the Ohio city Saturday morning. A special train is to accompany the team with the Tartan rooters and band on board.

THROUGH the SPORT LENS

by HAVEY BOYLE

CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—Gene Tunney, the heavyweight champion, meets Jack Dempsey, former champion, in a 10-round bout here tonight. "Who will win?" is a question that is today attracting the attention of almost half the population of this country and not a small part of the population of many other countries. It seems to me that this is one of the most interesting phases about the big fight—the great difference of opinion as to the winner, which is at the bottom of the great interest shown throughout the nation.

Havey Boyle.

It is interesting because it shows how quickly well-fixed impressions in the public mind are subject to great change.

A YEAR ago after many of us had seen Tunney decisively defeat Dempsey there was general belief that Dempsey was through for all time, that certainly, he showed himself to be an inglorious inferior to the inspiring Tunney. A year ago while there were many who held back in giving Tunney great praise there was no one who disputed that Dempsey was very very bad. In fact, Tunney's prestige was disturbed by the general opinion that, after all, he had defeated a mediocre man.

IF I remember correctly, I said shortly after the Tunney bout, when the talk was loud that Dempsey was through and that he never would have a chance in any future meeting with Tunney, that persons who talked this way discounted the value of the ballyhoo. I believe I pointed out then that in a year many things could happen which would bring back to Dempsey some of his lost prestige. I had in mind then, not a successful comeback against Sharkey, so much as I had in mind the powers of boxing experts to disagree violently in their opinions as they watched Dempsey and Tunney work. A year ago you could hardly find one man willing to hazard a guess that Dempsey ever would defeat Tunney. No sane man after having seen the bout in Philadelphia could give Dempsey a look-in in a future bout with Tunney, but since then there has been the usual talk of poison, Dempsey's ill-condition, innuendo that something was wrong in Philadelphia, and countless other stories which have had their expected effect in casting considerable doubt in an issue which last year after the first fight held only one definite answer, that being that Tunney was the unquestioned superior of Dempsey.

IN THIS I have been a prophet, yet the blessing of such prophetic powers is a little mixed, since, truth to tell, the very things that I predicted would happen to arouse doubt once again as to Tunney's once clearly-defined superiority, have caught me in a net, so to speak. In other words, I have read so much about the causes I foresaw which would build up Dempsey again in the public eye, that I find myself unwilling to be very positive that Tunney will win tonight.

A year ago I would have staked the family candelabra which my ancestors brought from Ireland on Tunney's ability to defeat Dempsey, that was after I had seen Tunney's superiority demonstrated so vividly in Philadelphia, but since then Sharkey the Terrible drew a herring across the trail, and since, then, too, the experts in Chicago have scared me with great ghost stories of the man-eating Dempsey who is now swallowing a sparring partner for the piece de resistance, and finishing up with a dessert of another sparring partner.

SOLDIER LEADER FOR HEARST MATCHES

"Rifle competition for Hearst trophies has War Department approval and hearty support. Corps area commanders directed to co-operate. Arrangements as in previous years, details being arranged through commanding general of Sixth Corps Area. These competitions of great value."

Maj. Gen. Charles P. Summerall, chief of staff of the United States Army, gave official approval of the William Randolph Hearst trophy matches for 1926-27 in the above telegram to the Hearst newspapers. This word gives the matches the official stamp of the War Department and assures the co-operation, as in previous meets, of the facilities at the command of the Army. Gen. Summerall's statement at the end of the telegram gives his estimate of the value of these matches to the nation as a whole.

As indicated in this message, the details of the national rifle competition are being worked out under the direction of Maj. Gen. William Lassiter, commanding the Sixth Corps Area.

Because of the large number of entries in the last competition for the William Randolph Hearst trophies, the matches will be sectionalized this year, trophies being awarded winning R. O. T. C. units in colleges and universities, high schools and military academies in each section. There will be Eastern, Western, Middle Western and Southern divisions.

SPORT COMMENT

cial loss to the Buccaneer owners.

It has always been the contention of President Barney Dreyfuss that those fans who patronize the bleacher seats during the regular season should be given an opportunity by special arrangement to see the games of the World Series when the prices of the regular bleacher seats are beyond their minds.

It was for the purpose of providing such opportunity for those who could not afford to pay the higher prices that he had the temporary seats installed in left field for the big series here in 1925.

ONE objectionable feature of the 1925 arrangement was that the bleacher structure started on the field itself and extended over the wall, thus encroaching on the playing area. The result was that the playing space in that part of the park was reduced considerably, and several batted balls that might have been caught if the fielders had had more room crashed against the wire screen in front of the temporary seats.

This time President Dreyfuss has found a way in which to provide $1.10 seats for the poorer fans and at the same time avert any reduction in the playing space.

It is his intention to have the new bleacher stand start at the top of the port wall and extend backward over the unoccupied city property behind.

The fans in these seats will therefore be outside the playing field proper, but they will be afforded as good a view of the game as in 1925 and there will be no handicaps for the outfielders in chasing balls batted to that territory.

It is proposed to have the new bleacher extend from the scoreboard to the big exit at the end of the right field grandstand.

IT may be news to the fans that this sportsmanlike provision for the baseball lovers who cannot afford to pay the lofty World Series prices means a loss to the Pittsburgh club, but the figures for 1925 bear it out.

There were approximately 6,000 seats in the temporary bleacher two years ago, and the cost of erecting them averaged $1.14 per seat, or a total of $6,840.

Counting an intake of $1 (exclusive of war tax) for each seat sold for the first two games, the total receipts was $12,000.

That left $4,080 to be divided equally between the Pittsburgh and New York club owners, or $2,040 for each club.

Out of each club's share 50 per cent must be turned into its league's treasury, so that for the first two games the Pittsburgh club received only $1,020.

THE players got no share of the receipts at the sixth and seventh games of the series played here, as they participate in the spoils of only the first four games. All that came out of the temporary bleacher receipts of $12,000 at the sixth and seventh contests, therefore, was the commissioner's share of 15 per cent, or $1,800, leaving $10,200 to be divided between the owners of the two clubs.

That meant $5,100 for each club, and as each club had to give 50 per cent of its share to its league treasury, the Pittsburgh club's share was only $2,550.

Adding this to the $1,020 received from the first two games, it will be seen that the Pirate owners' share of the entire temporary bleacher intake during the series was only $3,570, plus whatever sum was obtained in the salvage of the lumber used in constructing the stand that cost $6,840.

This year the receipts will be lighter, as the proposed new stand will seat fewer persons than that of 1925.

Get That Firm Flesh "Pep" Be a Winner

To Put On "Stay-There" Flesh
INCREASE ENERGY AND POWER

To at once increase energy and put on firm "stay-there" flesh, thousands of thin, nervous, rundown folks have turned to the new tablet form of true yeast-vitamines known to druggists as Mastin's Yeast VITAMON. This supplies a proper dose of vitamines and is so highly concentrated that results are quick and wonderful.

Nine out of every ten people working inside most of the time fail to get enough oxygen into their lungs or enough health-building nourishment from their foods, and as a result they become thin, sunken-cheeked, hollow-chested, rundown and underweight.

Such folks will find this simple test well worth trying: First weigh yourself and measure yourself. Next take Mastin's VITAMON—two tablets with every meal. Then weigh and measure yourself again each week and continue taking Mastin's VITAMON Tablets regularly until you are satisfied with your gain in weight, firm flesh, strength, nerve force, "pep," energy and improved appearance.

Mastin's VITAMON Tablets mix with your food, help to digest and provide the health-giving, strength-building nourishment that your body must have to make firm tissue, strong nerves, rich blood and a keen, active brain. They will not upset the stomach or cause that bloated feeling, but on the contrary, are a great aid in overcoming indigestion. Pimples, boils and skin eruptions seem to vanish as if by magic, leaving the complexion clear and beautiful.

Mastin's VITAMON Tablets are easy and economical to take and they keep indefinitely. So remarkable are the benefits, that entire satisfaction is absolutely guaranteed or the small amount you pay for the trial will be promptly refunded. Be sure to remember the name—Mastin's VITAMON—the original and genuine yeast-vitamine tablet. There is nothing else like it, so do not accept imitations or substitutes. You can get Mastin's VITAMON Tablets at all good druggists such as May Drug Co. Stores all over Pittsburgh.

PROFANE LINGO TABOO IN GO TONIGHT

By Universal Service.

CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—Jack Dempsey may abuse Gene Tunney to his heart's content tonight, so long as he expresses himself with fists. There will be no goat-getting conversation, however, it was made plain by George W. Whiteside, attorney for Tunney.

Under the Illinois rules, Dempsey will render himself liable to disqualification if he uses abusive or profane language, according to Whiteside. The lawyer made public through Universal Service the 13 points on which the contest may be decided.

Whiteside has insisted that the referee must be instructed to disqualify either contestant on the following counts:

1—Hitting below the belt.

2—Hitting an opponent who is down, or who is getting up.

3—Holding an opponent, or deliberately maintaining a clinch.

4—Holding and hitting.

5—Butting with the head or shoulder, or using the knee.

6—Hitting with the inside or butt of the hand, the wrist or the elbows.

7—"Flicking" with open gloves.

8—Wrestling or roughing at the ropes.

9—Purposely going down without being hit.

10—Striking deliberately at the part of the body over the kidneys.

11—The use of the pivot blow or rabbit punch.

12—The use of abusive or profane language.

13—Failure to obey the referee, or any physical action that may injure a contestant, except by fair sportsmanlike boxing.

In the case of all minor fouls, the referee has discretionary power. On unintentional fouls, he is supposed to give at least one warning.

LEHIGH'S LINE SHOWS WELL

BETHLEHEM, Pa., Sept. 22.—(AP.) A fairly good line but a backfield which as yet has given little promise is forecast for the football team at Lehigh University, which opens the season against St. John's College, Brooklyn, N. Y., on Saturday afternoon, September 24.

Head Coach Percy Wendell and his chief assistant, Charles Eastman, the latter a former Harvard star, are confronted with a hard task to develop a representative team at Lehigh. No more than 36 members comprise the squad at this time.

Through the courtesy of Gardiner Simes, one of the backfield candidates, Coach Wendell was able to start practice a week earlier than the usual date and the advantages of this early start are pronounced. Eighteen players, together with the coaches, were the guest of Simes at the country home of his parents on Long Island.

In selecting a first string eleven, Coach Wendell used Burke, a veteran, and C. Lehr, a member of last year's frosh team at ends. Kirkpatric, a member of last year's varsity squad, and Miller are being used at tackles. The guards are Moore, a former frosh lineman, and Ben Levitt, who was transferred from the backfield. Jack Levitt, a brother of the guard, and both products of DeWitt Clinton High, of New York, was placed at center.

The backfield has Porky Flynn, very small and light in weight, at quarterback. Art Lehr, Lehigh 175-pound varsity wrestler, is a keen contender for the center position, as is Calano, a frosh tackle last year, who has been converted into an end, and Schenck, a tall and rangy athlete, who looks good in the backfield. Joe Mullany is being groomed to do the kicking.

The schedule follows: September 24, St. John's College, at home; October 1, Ursinus, at home; 8, Princeton, away; 15, Swarthmore, at home; 22, Villanova, away; 29, Muhlenberg, at home; November 5, Bucknell, at home; 12, Rutgers, away; 19, Lafayette, at home.

HAGEN AND ASSOCIATES BUY ROCHESTER CLUB

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sept. 22—(AP.)—Announcement was made today that Walter Hagen, internationally famous golfer; John H. Ganzel, Robert Harlow and associates have purchased the Rochester International League baseball club from John L. Hicks and William Gilbert, who operated the club during the season just closed.

Hagen is American professional golf champion, Ganzel was manager of the Rochester club from 1909 through 1914 and Harlow is a former newspaperman and for five years Hagen's business manager.

WOOSTER LOSES PAIR OF VETERAN TACKLES

WOOSTER, O., Sept. 22.—With Bob Stoll, veteran tackle out of the game with a broken bone in his right hand, and with Bishop, sophomore, who was being groomed for a tackle berth called to his home in Pittsburgh by the illness of his mother, the tackle situation at Wooster has become a big problem for Coach L. C. Boles to solve. Part of this will be solved if Ted Humphreys, lineman last season, returns to school. Humphreys may return the last of the week.

Although he returns with Christian and Naylor, Boles will still have plenty of work to get these men ready for the opener here with Ashland, October 1.

Gamblers Here Wary of Fight

Pittsburgh gamblers, or those who are still in the city and have not joined in the general exodus of the sporting men to Chicago where Jack Dempsey will attempt to lift the crown of heavyweight champion from the brow of Gene Tunney tonight, are making a quiet time of it when it comes to wagering. They are making their wise money doubly so by keeping it right down in their pockets—for the most part.

What betting of a serious or semi-serious nature has been made has a fair Tunney favor, though not better than a tepid six or seven to five. There are many who are wagering small sums, five or ten dollars on a sentimental hunch and taking Dempsey as their choice.

Hotel lobbies, for the most part deserted of those who are wont to back their opinions with cash, are productive of a lot of vociferous ideas, but it's hard to get a bet, unless one is willing to give long odds. Few seem to think there will be a knockout—unless Dempsey lands—and while the boys all seem to be pulling for Jack, they are still leery of putting up money.

Stories having to do with the fight being fixed and "in the bag" have had quite a lot to do with the backwardness of bettors. Folks are willing to bet on the merits of the men alone, but the rumors and counter rumors that have been flying thick and fast for the past couple days are making all extremely cautious.

Many gamblers are remembering the situation as it existed prior to the Dempsey-Sharkey fight. Sharkey was an 8-to-5 favorite up until an hour before time for the bout to start, when the odds suddenly shifted until Dempsey entered the ring an 11-to-10 favorite.

It is very probable that any serious wagering will be held off until an hour or two before the fight. And maybe there won't be any then.

176TH SOLDIERS SET FOR AMATEUR BOUTS

All is in readiness at the Oakland Armory of the One Hundred and Seventy-sixth Field Artillery for the boxing show to be put on just preceding the blow by blow returns from the Dempsey-Tunney championship battle in Chicago. Five good bouts and other entertainment have been arranged to entertain the fight fans while waiting for the big Chicago classic to begin and reception of the returns from the ringside over the powerful receiving set and special amplifiers of the Pittsburgh regiment.

The armory program will begin promptly at 9 p. m., daylight time, and an invitation is extended through these columns by Col. William G. Dunlap, commander of the regiment, to attend this show which is the second free entertainment feature on the fall athletic program of the local unit. Seating arrangements have been installed to provide for a capacity crowd within the big drill yard of the General Logan Armory. In case the weather is too inclement for an outdoor show, the big armory audi-

STUFFED HERON GIVES COUNTRY CLUB THRILL

The Snake Meadow Club near Danielson, Conn., has a lifelike stuffed heron mounted on a clump of alders on the club's hunting grounds. Members get the price of their membership back every time they watch visiting sportsmen shoot at the stuffed bird. Spying the spurious heron, the visitor crouches all athrill to get out of sight. Then he sneaks up within gun range, blazes away and makes a dash for his game. The look on his face when he sees the bird still on its perch provokes loud guffaws from his hosts hiding behind nearby bushes. That clears up the mystery.

BIG FIGHT ATTRACTS BRITISH SPORTS INTEREST

LONDON, Sept. 22.—(AP.)—The Dempsey-Tunney fight in Chicago tonight is attracting great interest in British sporting circles, but so far as known little or no betting is being done on the event.

Yesterday's afternoon newspapers made a big front page display, using large captions over special articles sent from Chicago. The readers are treated to latest statements and predictions by the two boxers, the fears and anxieties of the promoters and the possibilities of trouble during the fight.

The correspondents give details of their ringside arrangements for a round-by-round story and the news agencies are making special plans for quick transmission of the fight stories.

Cool, Cloudy Forecast For Bout

CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—(UP.)—Cool and cloudy was the government weather bureau forecast today for the Tunney-Dempsey heavyweight championship fight tonight. Forecasters did not anticipate rain.

The temperature—expected to be around 55 degrees at Soldier Field Stadium tonight—will probably improve visibility and will not be low enough to cause discomfort to spectators. There should be no fog.

Radio experts said the weather would allow excellent reception of the fight broadcast. No electrical disturbance was expected and tonight should be one of the best for reception since last winter.

PIRATES AND GIANTS INVITED TO THEATER

An invitation has been extended to the Pittsburgh Pirates and the New York Giants to attend a special baseball night program at Loew's Aldine Theater tomorrow night. The players will be seated in boxes draped with pennants and flags. Special novelties will be introduced by the actors for the benefit of the Aldine guests.

Miller, Possible Referee, Has Fine Record

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 22.—Davey Miller, the foremost candidate for the job of refereeing the Jack Dempsey-Gene Tunney bout, has officiated in eight championship matches. Here is his refereeing record:

Benny Leonard vs. Rocky Kansas; Benny Leonard vs. Ever Hammer; Benny Leonard vs. Pinky Mitchell, and five bouts in which Joe Lynch, former bantamweight champion, defended his title. He refereed two bouts between Lynch and Joe Burman and also bouts between Lynch and Pal Moore, Jack Sharkey and Midget Smith.

Miller refereed for Gene Tunney four years ago at Chicago. He awarded Tunney a decision over Jimmy Delaney, since deceased.

Dempsey is also familiar with Miller's work. Miller handled an exhibition between Dempsey and Alex Trambitas when Dempsey held the title.

RUTH NEAR RECORD

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—(INS.)—George Herman Ruth, the noted pill punisher of the New York Yankees, is smashing homers so hard and frequently these days that he bids fair to break his record of 59, made in 1921. The Babe's fifty-fifth of the season, made against Detroit yesterday, was a tremendous wallop.

PROMOTERS EXONERATED

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 22.—(AP.)—A. D. De Weese, boxing promoter, and James Campbell, who boxed under the name of Jimmy Blake, were exonerated in Municipal Court here yesterday of manslaughter charges growing out of the death of Charles Harold Williams, 17, who died after a bout with Blake at Bell, near here, recently.

Marquis Scorns Fight to Rush to Gloria

By Universal Service.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—"Hank," otherwise known as the Marquis De La Falaise de Coudray, returned again from France on the French liner Paris, so anxious to get back to his "Glorious Glyoria," in Hollywood that he wouldn't even accept an invitation to the "Battle of the Century Notes" in Chicago.

The Marquis is forced to take semi-annual trips to his native country because of the quota law, which permits him to remain here as a visitor for half a year at a time, though the marchioness maintains their residence at Hollywood most of the year.

Also on board the Paris was Irene Bordini, the actress, wife of Ray Goetz, the producer. Miss Bordini has, quite strangely, returned from France without the "naughty" farce she went to obtain. She has arrived at the conclusion that really good "naughty" French farces are written exclusively in New York.

Another arrival was Miss Aileen Hamilton, who has been dancing in Europe with Georges Carpentier, Whilom prize fighter, now, according to Miss Hamilton, the logical contender for the tile held by the late Maurice Mouvet.

FIGHT FLASHES

CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—(AP.)—The greatest gathering of newspapermen in boxing history will "cover" the Dempsey-Tunney battle tonight. More than 1,200 press tickets have been issued, but less than 400 of these provide for seats in the four ringside rows, where 146 telegraph wires will carry stories of the fight to all parts of the world. The highest previous total of newspaper experts accommodated at a fight was 750, for the Carpentier-Dempsey bout of 1921. The count was 600 for Dempsey-Firpo, 150 for the first Dempsey-Tunney match and 250 for the Dempsey-Sharkey contest.

LONDON, Sept. 22.—(AP.)—Popular interest in the Dempsey-Tunney fight at Chicago tonight grew more intense throughout Great Britain today as the time for the fight approached and "dope" on the contest from all sorts of experts and others both in Great Britain and America was the principal feature in this afternoon's papers.

Honors were even in the preliminary wrangling of the fight managers with the boxing commission. Dempsey won the argument for six feet of adhesive tape about his gauze bandages instead of only four feet as Tunney wished. Tunney won the verdict for a larger ring, 20 feet instead of 18, but this was largely due to Tex Rickard, who brought the Dempsey-Sharkey ring here from New York, and had it set up again before the controversy over the size of the battleground got very far.

Ticket brokers, the legitimate ones who made their purchases at Rickard's box office windows in small lots, were unloading their tickets early today at cut rates. Only one regular broker with offices in several big hotels were holding prices firm at the face value, with hardly any transactions except in the $40 class. The other brokers were letting these go for $25.

Members of the Tunney camp are said to have wagered very little on the chances of their champion to win the big fight. The Dempsey retinue, on the other hand, pooled more than $50,000 on the challenger, most of it raised by Manager Flynn, but some at least contributed by every single person in the Dempsey crowd. They got it down at even money.

PARIS, Sept. 22.—(AP.)—Gene Tunney, as a former Marine, is an overwhelming favorite among the American Legionnaires here to retain his title of world's heavyweight champion against Jack Dempsey tonight.

While the respective war records of the two fighters have much to do with the sentiment in favor of Tunney, there are many who base their opinions on a belief that Gene is too clever for Jack. The decision to adopt a 20-foot ring also has strengthened the Legionnaires' idea that Tunney will win.

Popular sentiment among French boxing fans and in the regular American colony in Paris, however, regards Dempsey as the probable winner, and the Legionnaires have had plenty of opportunity to place their money.

CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—(AP.)—A new plan for crashing into ringside seats at the Tunney-Dempsey scrap tonight was published today. It called for the purchase of a bona fide $5 seat, ordinarily entitling the holder to see what he could see from about two city blocks away, and also a "phony" ringside ticket, with which Chicago is said to have been liberally flooded. Then for admission the good ticket would be presented, with the stub of the counterfeit later handed to the usher.

CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—(AP.)—Jack Kearns, former manager of Jack Dempsey, but last year listed as a nemesis accountable in great measure for the sorry exhibition Jack made against Gene Tunney, hove into Chicago today to witness the second edition of Dempsey vs. Tunney.

Kearns came in without any ulterior motives, he said, intending to occupy a ringside seat tonight merely as a spectator.

FIGHT OPINIONS

CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—(AP.)—Opinions of 73 representative boxing writers gathered by the Associated Press on the outcome of tomorrow's heavyweight championship fight revealed a substantial majority favoring Gene Tunney.

Out of this array of critical talent, 39 expressed themselves as confident of a Tunney victory while 24 picked Jack Dempsey to regain the title. Ten refused to go on record one way or the other.

While most of the experts confined themselves to an unvarnished choice, the following reflect some of the more detailed views:

Warren Brown, Chicago Herald and Examiner—"I can't pick them when there's so much money involved. It's too uncertain."

Harry Keck, Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph—"I pick Tunney to win the decision on points because of his superior boxing ability."

Jim Doyle, Cleveland Plain Dealer—"Tunney should be a 4 to 1 favorite, but I will take a chance on Dempsey."

Bob Edgren, New York Evening World—"Dempsey by a knockout in eight rounds."

Ed Dickerson, Grand Rapids (Mich.) Herald—"I cannot see how a man who was so decisively outpointed a year ago can come back far enough, at his age, to win over a younger man who has been improving himself in the meantime. I expect to see Tunney knock out Dempsey by the eighth round."

Sec Taylor, Des Moines Register and Tribune—"I pick Tunney to win, perhaps by a knockout."

Harry Bullion, Detroit Free Press—"I pick Dempsey. He is 25 per cent better than last year and 25 per cent improved over his form against Sharkey."

Ed Hughes, Brooklyn (N. Y.) Eagle—"Tunney figures to win decisively, but my suspicions are such that I would not be surprised to see anything happen."

Hype Igoe, New York World—"On form Tunney ought to be a 10 to 1 favorite, but string with Dempsey, the long shot, nevertheless. I'm playing the 'hunch' on the old gladiator."

Ned Brown, New York World—"Tunney by a knockout."

Harry Cross, New York Herald-Tribune—"Tunney figures to win. Dempsey, like Bill Tilden, is too old to come back."

Jack Farrell, New York Daily News—"Dempsey by a knockout."

Pat Frayne, San Francisco Call—"Dempsey—to stay 10 rounds and a good chance to win."

Harry Hochstadter, Chicago Post—"Tunney, by decision."

James B. Gould, St. Louis Star—"If Dempsey's better, so is Tunney. Gene should win without trouble."

James R. Harrison, New York Times—"If it's on the level, Tunney will win."

W. O. McGeehan, New York Herald Tribune—"Tunney all along."

William Morris, New York Evening Post—"In view of what happened in New York in the Sharkey-Dempsey and Paulino-Delaney bouts, how can you pick anybody here?"

Harry B. Smith, San Francisco Chronicle—"Tunney to win. He's faster than ever and Dempsey is too slow."

Ed Bang, Cleveland News—"It's a toss-up. Any man who can hit like Dempsey never can be counted out in advance."

Ed Cochrane, Kansas City Journal-Post—"Tunney will win."

Wilbur Wood, New York Sun—"I'm not picking for the reason that you can't tell about these big heavyweight fights. Otherwise I would favor Tunney."

Opinions of other well-known ringmen, fight managers and promoters were:

Tom Sharkey—"I picked Tunney last year. I have changed my mind this time."

Johnny Dundee—"Dempsey will knock out Tunney."

Willie Ritchie—"One has to pick Tunney to retain his crown."

Tom Jones, veteran promoter—"It looks like a Dempsey night to me."

Jimmy Coffroth, promoter—"I am not picking anyone. I'm friendly with both and not betting at all."

"Bull" Montana—"I feel that Dempsey will win."

Packey McFarland—"I believe Dempsey will win with the wallop."

Jimmy Dougherty, manager of George Godfrey—"Tunney will win, but Godfrey will be the next champion, if the titleholder will meet him."

Among the Tunney adherents were Benny Leonard, Johnny Kilbane, Battling Nelson, Jess McMahon, George White, Irving Berlin, Arnold Rothstein and Ike Dorgan.

California sports writers, movie stars and fans, with few exceptions, were solidly for Dempsey, including Barney Oldfield, Buck Jones, Lew Cody and several trainloads of others.

BOBCATS WILL BATTLE VETERAN W. VA. ELEVEN

BUCKHANNON, W. Va., Sept. 22.—When West Virginia Wesleyan trots into Mountaineer stadium Saturday against Coach Rodgers' Mountaineer eleven, the Bobcats will face practically the same team they met last fall and from all appearances stronger by a big margin.

Is Bear Market in Farms Over? Encouraging Facts

By B. C. FORBES

HERE'S good news:

"The bottom of the decline in farm lands seems to me has been reached. The peak has been reached and passed in the volume of agricultural foreclosures. The losses to banks and to individuals following the 1920-1921 deflation have spent their force. I believe that when the facts concerning the change, the improvement, that has taken place become more widely understood, things will pick up gradually but substantially.

"Neighborhood buying of farm land has already set in by men who are in a position to handle additional acreage. I am convinced that now is the time for anyone who contemplates buying a farm to go ahead and do so. Also, it is a good time for tenants who can become owners to buy, just as it is the right time for young men who want to start in as farmers to take advantage of conditions before prices rise materially."

This gratifying statement does not come from a Wall Street man eager to send share quotations higher but from Eugene Meyer, commissioner of the Federal Farm Board, who made a tour of investigation throughout the Northwest, the Pacific Coast and the Middle West, particularly the corn belt. It was Mr. Meyer who was mainly responsible for the practical assistance extended agriculture by the War Finance Corporation and later for the prompt, effective assistance rendered when cotton broke so disastrously last year, as well as in 1921.

SINCE returning from Europe I have been trying to get the pulse of business conditions in this country. It has been difficult to draw definite conclusions, things appear to be so uneven. Therefore, I eagerly buttonholed Mr. Meyer on meeting him while he was visiting New York this week.

MR. MEYER went on:

"Nebraska alone will get at least $150,000,000 more for her corn and wheat and livestock than last year. All over the country livestock prices are better.

"TAKE the one item of cottonseed about which you hear very little. For every pound of cotton there are two pounds of cottonseed. This year some 7,000,000 tons of seed is bringing from $15 to $20 a ton more than last year, or at least $100,000,000, all told. And as cottonseed oil—the oil is the product of this seed—is in competition with animal fats, the higher price has a helpful effect upon the market for animals.

"Although wheat is down for the moment, the outlook is for fairly good exports. We have, on the whole, a better balanced agricultural situation than last year.

"OWING to bad lending and bad banking and postwar deflation, aggravated by poor crops in some parts during the last few years, a lot of land was thrown on the market. Those wanting to buy land have waited and waited because for five years they have seen values go down and down and down.

"Bank troubles now, however, are largely over, although sporadic outbreaks may occur here and there.

"In my opinion the peak of the supply of land for sale at low prices has been reached and now is the time to buy. In fact, as I have already told you, the very shrewdest kind of buying—the buying of neighboring land by successful farmers—is already setting in."

DIVERSIFICATION, which was interrupted by the concentration on wheat growing during the war, has lately made renewed progress, so that there have been more shipment of cattle, hogs and sheep from the Northwest every year for the last few years, Mr. Meyer pointed out.

"The substantial extension of sugar beet growing has been very helpful, as it is a good money crop and the tops and pulp furnish food for cattle. Then there has been a big increase in dairying, which brings in money every day of the year.

"Land that can grow corn, that can feed steers which sell for 14 or 15 cents a pound, has a definite economic value under skillful operation, and this is beginning to be better appreciated," Mr. Meyer concluded.

WELL, that helps one to get a line of a vitally important phase of our national well-being, doesn't it?

BEARS' SELLING MELTS STOCK PRICES

NEW YORK, Sept. 22. Despite strenuous efforts to stem the selling wave by marking up selected shares 2 to 4 points, prices gave way on the stock market today. The discriminating character of recent buying, coupled with the disappointing nature of some of the current trade reports afforded the bears a pretext for extensive selling in which prices of many stocks melted away steadily.

Unmistakable signs of liquidation were evident in spots. New low prices for the year were made by Pathe Exchange, Briggs Manufacturing, National Bellas Hess and Foundation Company shares. Persistent selling of U. S. Steel, which fell 3 points to 151½, the lowest price of the week, had considerable weight in discouraging buying of other shares.

A 3 per cent drop in steel ingot production undoubtedly was largely instrumental in accelerating the decline of steel shares. The average for the entire industry was reported around 62 per cent of capacity, compared with 65 per cent in the preceding week, and 67½ per cent two weeks ago.

A sensational drop of 14 points in Baldwin, which sold down to 240, followed announcement that only routine business was transacted at today's meeting of directors. Other high priced specialties, which ordinarily move widely, scored the largest breaks when the selling movement gained momentum. Baldwin, Case Threshing Machine, International Harvester, Eastman Kodak and American Snuff sagged 4 to 8 points. Selling of seasoned dividend paying railroads was effective in forcing down Atchison, Atlantic Coast Line, Norfolk and Western, and Chesapeake and Ohio to the extent of 2 points or more.

Although banks called about $11,000,000 in loans early in the afternoon, the market continued well supplied with only a light demand.

NEW YORK CURB MARKET

NEW YORK CITY, Sept. 22.—(AP.)—The curb market all through the day was what might be called without outstanding feature in the industrial groups, losses being sustained in many issues in the early trading without special reason for selling, while a demand developed before midday, causing recoveries of many of those losses, with some issues then moving up to new high records.

Railroads, however, came into prominence, special interest being attached in Alabama Great Southern, both the common and preferred shares advancing 4 points and making new high records. New York Central also was in demand, first dropping over a point to 165 and then making a brisk advance. Bunker Hill Sullivan was the most active of the mining issues, having a further gain of 5 points to 115.

Warner Pictures were in demand following a show of strength yesterday and rose over a point. Celanese had a decline of about 3 points. Royal Baking Powder continued the decline which started after it made its recent high record at 339, and made a further loss of 3 points to 292. Tubize Silk dropped 3 points and about the same amount of loss was sustained in Deere & Co.

Some of the public utilities were in moderate demand, but movements were generally within a narrow range. United Gas Improvement, after advancing over a point to 118, had the gain turned into a loss.

Some of the oil stocks showed a strong tone. Indiana Pipe Line moved up a point and British-American Oil gained about a point. Carib yielded over a point under moderate pressure.

A transaction of Washington Railway and Electric at 283 was recorded at an advance of 101½ points from the last preceding sale made several months ago.

Club Aluminum and Trico Products were admitted to trading today, the former selling at 24⅜ and the latter ranging from 31 to 31¼.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22—(AP.)—Following is the official list of transactions on the New York Curb Exchange, giving all stocks and bonds traded (000 omitted in sales column in bond list):

NEWS AND VIEWS

Baldwin Meeting Routine.

The usual monthly meeting of Baldwin Locomotive directors today was a routine affair and there was apparently no effort by either the Fisher Brothers or Arthur Cutten of Chicago, to force the issue and seat their representatives. President Vauclain said only routine business was transacted and that no special matters were discussed. In reply to an inquiry as to business of company, he said: "While we are not making any money, we are not losing any."

Mid-Continent Passes Dividend.

Directors of the Mid-Continent Petroleum Corporation passed the quarterly dividend of 75 cents a share on the common stock, due at this time. The company issued the following statement: "With present overproduction of crude oil and the low prices for the refined products, the earnings of the company for the year, while very good under present conditions, are less than they were for the same period last year. Company is in a strong financial position and it is the desire of the directors to keep it so. When conditions in the industry are such that earnings are not sufficient to make expansions and at the same time pay dividends without impairing the cash position of the company, the directors are of the opinion that in the end it will be to the advantage of stockholders temporarily to withhold payment of dividends."

Under the title, "The Age of Miracles," the Boston News Bureau comments as follows: "Believe it or not aggressive buying has actually developed in the copper shares. Many a faint-hearted investor had long ago despaired of ever seeing coppers participate in the bull market now raging in the general run of industrials. It would require but slight encouragement to start a real movement in copper securities inasmuch as, to use a trite expression, they 'have been sold to a standstill.' The ease with which they respond to buying orders gives evidence of the fact they are not being carried on margin in brokers' offices. They are owned outright awaiting the day when a decent price for copper will have restored their earning power. If the holders of copper stocks could see a rising price for the metal, an old time boom in these specialties could be engineered without the slightest difficulty. A start has been made, the 'coppers' are eager to 'go.'"

West Texas Oil Fields.

A Houston (Texas) dispatch to the Wall Street Journal says: "Showing of sulphur water in Yates pool may affect the success of the shutdown movement. Heavy rains in that district have flooded the country and news sources are cut off. Appearance of water, while displeasing to operators of the section, has resulted in a more optimistic feeling on the oil situation here. General opinion among best authorities is that the Pecos district oil recovery is grossly overestimated. The Gulf Coast, which had many larger and better wells, will have produced some 150,000,000 barrels in the past 27 years to January 1 of next year."

California Oil Statistics.

California production of crude oil in August totaled 19,279,131 barrels, against 19,319,021 barrels in July, according to the American Petroleum Institute. This is a daily average of 621,907 barrels in August, compared with 623,194 in July. June production averaged 613,781 barrels daily. Ask Stamp Tax Repeal.

Board of Governors of the Associated Stock Exchanges of the United States will ask Congress to repeal the stamp tax on securities and to abolish the capital gain and loss provision of the federal revenue act. Action to this end was taken at the quarterly meeting of the board in Philadelphia. Briefs outlining the basis of protest will be filed with the chairman of the ways and means committee of the House and with the chairman of the committee of finance of the Senate. Standardization of listing requirements of all member exchanges is recommended by the board and to further this purpose a pamphlet has been prepared outlining the recommendations and furnished to chairmen of the listing committees. B. Preston Schoyer, member of the Pittsburgh Stock Exchange and a governor of the Associated Stock Exchanges, is in attendance at the Philadelphia meetings.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Sept. 22—The cotton market opened firm today at an advance of 12 to 18 points on buying evidently encouraged by relatively steady Liverpool cables and reports of low temperatures in eastern belt sections.

December sold up to 20.96c and March to 21.26c, but as the price approached the 21-cent level for December offerings appeared to increase, the market later easing off under realizing by recent buyers and local and southern selling. By the end of the first hour prices were down 16 to 18 points from the best and at about yesterday's closing quotations.

Private reports of frost at some points in the eastern and central belt, apparently created no immediate apprehension of damage and there probably was some selling on expectations of heavy ginning returns from the census bureau tomorrow.

The decline extended to 20.66c for December and 20.95c for March later in the morning, making net losses of about 11 to 18 points on the general list. There was Southern as well as local selling on this setback, but the volume of offerings tapered off toward midday. The market became quiet and prices rallied 9 or 10 points from the lowest on covering.

SUGAR MARKET.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22—There were no sales in the raw sugar market early today and prices were unchanged at 4.93c for Cuban, duty paid.

The issuance of 112 September notices had a depressing effect in the raw sugar futures market at the outset and first prices showed losses of 1 to 4 points. The London market also was disappointing, but after the early selling had subsided a steadier tone developed and prices regained part of the loss on covering and Cuban support. Prices at midday were net unchanged to 3 points lower.

The refined withdrawals continued in liberal proportions, but new business was light. Prices were unchanged at 5.90c to 6.10c for fine granulated.

NEW YORK BOND MARKET

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—(AP.)—Activity and strength of a few high grade railway mortgages was the outstanding development in the bond market today. Semi-speculative issues were quiet, and the recent strong demand for public utility liens appeared, for the moment at least, to have been well filled. Money conditions remained virtually unchanged, but the current high prices seemed a little more successful in enticing gilt-edged securities out of the strong boxes.

The undisputed leaders in the railway division were Chesapeake 5s and Chicago and Northwestern 4¾s, which sold freely at their previous highs for the year at 99 and 100⅞, respectively. Mobile and Ohio 4½s continued to attract a moderately large following, and there was brisk buying of Missouri Pacific 5s above 100.

Hudson Coal 5s were offered in round amounts, but the price remained close to yesterday's final figure. Other industrials attracted little attention.

The foreign group was dull and featureless. Australian obligations were easier. Little business was done in the federal government division.

Wall street was interested in news of forthcoming new issues, such as a $30,000,000 loan to the State of Prussia, reported nearing the market.

U. S. TO HIT BACK AT FRANCE ON TARIFF

By Universal Service.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—The United States is prepared to immediately declare retaliatory rates against French imports unless that nation rescinds discriminatory duties against American products, it was learned in a high official quarter.

It was stated that this will be done shortly, since the French have shown no disposition to temporarily suspend the tariff under which German goods are permitted to come into France at rates anywhere from 50 to 400 per cent lower than those upon American goods.

It was pointed out that France should suspend the discriminatory tariff before proposing a new treaty as is now the case. It was explained that while treaty negotiations are under way German goods will be going into France at discriminatory rates and American commerce with that country will be materially harmed. It was stated that the parleys would necessarily last two or three months during which French merchants could lay in German stocks sufficient to last them many years.

The State Department announced that no reply had been received to a note of Tuesday in which the French were warned of the consequences of persisting in maintaining a discriminatory tariff scale. Officials suspect that France will attempt to send a mission here to "negotiate the matter," rather than make a direct commitment in a note. But it was learned that every effort will be made by the United States to avoid this delay by pressing for action at once.

KING DELAYS SUPT. WALSH HEARING

After the grand jury late yesterday had ignored charges of inciting riot preferred against Citizens' League workers, hearing on charges by the league against Superintendent of Police Peter P. Walsh and 20 others were postponed until November 7.

The postponement was at the request of Director William L. King of the league who requested more time in which to prepare his case against Superintendent Walsh and the others he is prosecuting for conspiracy or on liquor, gambling, and disorderly house operation charges.

The throwing out of the charges against Herman Newman, Aurelia street, league investigator; Carl Fritzie, Swissvale, and James Stewart, Cherokee street, league witnesses, is regarded as an important league victory.

The charges were preferred by Police Inspector John P. Clancey following the attack on a group of league investigators at the entrance to the Cstle Garden Inn, Wylie avenue, last May.

Henry J. Lenon, radical investigator and a clerk in the office of District Attorney Samuel H. Gardner, who is said to be the mysterious "Harry Steele" who investigated Director King's past record in the West, is scheduled as the principal witness against Superintendent Walsh and Jakie Klein, who are charged with attempting to blackmail King out of Pittsburgh. Lenon, who did the investigating while on a leave of absence from the district attorney's office, managed to keep his identify secret for months. It has been hinted that charges of conspiracy against "Steele" will not be pushed by the league.

COOLIDGE TO SEE FILIPINOS

By Universal Service.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—President Coolidge will consult the wishes of Philippine political leaders, expected to come here for that purpose, before appointing a successor to the late Gen. Leonard Wood as governor general of the islands, it was learned at the White House.

Following a conference with the President, Pedro Guevara, resident Philippine commissioner here, said he would cable Manuel Quezon and Sergio Osmena at once asking them to come here for consultation with the Chief Executive.

Quezon is president of the Philippine senate and Osmena is a prominent member of that body. Both at times waged vigorous opposition to the policies of Governer General Wood.

Market Quiet Here Prices Steady

Stocks continued quiet on the local exchange, but prices were steady to firm and dealings were fairly well scattered among the various listed issues. There was no concentration of activity in any particular stock as has been the case on many occasions recently.

Several transactions in Standard Sanitary Manufacturing common were recorded in the first half of the session, with the price holding close to last night's final quotation. Demand for the stock at current levels appears to be holding up substantially, but there is not much inclination to break out of the recent trading area in which the price has fluctuated. Standard is said to be booked for listing on the New York Stock Exchange in a short time and it is expected a demonstration in the shares may take place concurrently with that event.

Pittsburgh Screw and Bolt was quiet, with stock scarce around 56. First sale today was at 56 but was followed almost immediately by a trade fractionally above that figure. Lone Star was steady, but traders did not display much interest in the stock during the first half.

Blaw Knox Steel common, which failed to make any response yesterday to announcement that the preferred stock would be retired November 1, came into the market strong this afternoon and sold up sharply on a few transactions. While only regular dividends on the common were declared at the meeting this week, there are rumors in the street that a stock distribution may be made after the senior stock is out of the way.

Dixie Gas and Utilities, which has been quiet for several days, enjoyed a little flurry, but after a few hundred shares had changed hands on a small fractional advance, the stock quieted down and remained dull the balance of the session.

Penn-Federal Corporation preferred displayed a firm tone, selling at 94¼ ex-dividend, as against a sale yesterday at 94½ with the dividend on. The common stock has been tending higher recently, although its advance has been slow. Preferred pays $7 a year.

CHICAGO BOARD

CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—With only light frost reported as a rule today in the corn belt and weather generally auspicious, corn prices took an early fresh downturn. Wheat went lower on account of rains in Australia and fine weather in Canada. Opening unchanged to ½c off, the corn market later suffered a decided setback all around. Wheat started at ⅛c decline to ⅛c advance and subsequently underwent a general sag. Oats were easier. Provisions likewise tended downward.

At noon, corn was unchanged to ⅛c off and wheat ⅛c to ⅜c down.

Taken as a whole, temperatures over the corn belt were about 3 to 8 degrees higher today than at the same time yesterday, with the exception of some points in Iowa. With the immediate serious general danger from frost apparently eliminated, free selling of corn was much in evidence, and buyers showed a disposition to wait for price breaks before purchasing to any great extent.

Liverpool wheat quotations today, lower than due, gave emphasis to reports of rain in Australia and of good weather in Canada. Bears made much also of Winnipeg advices telling of wheat yields in Alberta and Saskatchewan as high as 60 bushels an acre. Meanwhile, too, big receipts at Duluth and Minneapolis continued far in excess of arrivals a year ago.

MELLON DENIES RUMORS OF YOUNG, RATE CHANGE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—Secretary of the Treasury Mellon today stated that he would see no reason for the report that the appointment of Roy A. Young to the Federal Reserve Board would result in any change in re-discount rates. Such a report did not emanate from Treasury sources, he declared.

Mr. Young's appointment to the reserve board stimulated discussion of the action of the board in arbitrarily lowering the Chicago rediscount rate from 4 to 3½ per cent.

Also, $41,601,000 in government securities which have matured have not been presented for collection.

RUSH AID AFTER MISSION FIRE KILLS TWENTY

19 Trapped Children Die Crying in Agony

By Universal Service.

WINNIPEG, Man., Sept. 22.—Members of the Order of Grey Nuns sobbing out their prayers for the dying.

Eight brothers of the Order of Oblate Fathers working heroically to save lives of children.

Terrifying screams of trapped kiddies.

That is the story brought out of the wilderness of Northern Saskatchewan today of the death of Sister Lea and 19 children Monday night when the Roman Catholic mission at Beauval was destroyed by fire.

The news was brought out of the woods by Dr. Amyot, of Regina, who flew here in an airplane to request that doctors and nurses be sent to those who escaped with their lives.

Beauval is 125 miles through treacherous country north of Prince Albert, an isolated section of the province.

Many children were able to escape from the burning mission, Dr. Amyot reported. Those who did screamed in terror and clung to the veils of the nuns.

The fathers, headed by Father La Jaunesse, Father Ancel and Father Adam, worked heroically to save the 20 persons caught in the fire trap.

There are several buildings in the mission, Dr. Amyot said. There are about 80 Indian children sheltered there. The fire swept through the dormitory and the hospital. Many of those who died were patients in the hospital and were unable to help themselves out of the burning buildings.

The fathers and nuns worked to save the children until it was obvious that further attempts to enter the blazing inferno would be foolhardy.

Temporary hospital arrangements have been made at the mission, Dr. Amyot said, but insisted that doctors and nurses are needed to care for the patients.

The exact cause of the fire, Dr. Amyot said, has not been determined. It occurred so suddenly, he said he was told, that it was impossible to do anything but attempt to save lives.

Sees Big Crops

CARL THORPE

Harvesting of the biggest and best crop of walnuts in the history of California will be started within the next few days, according to Carl Thorpe, general manager of the California Walnut Growers' Association, who states that the growers will receive a return of approximately $16,000,000 on the crop. The harvesting will continue through October and early November, Mr. Thorpe said. Although the season's opening prices will not be set until about October 5, they probably will be lower than last year and yet yield a bigger return because of the size of the crop and the report that other growing districts have only an average output.

C. & E. I. Traffic Heavier.

T. C. Powell, president of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois Railway, says the movement of steel and other building materials, general merchandise and miscellaneous freight has improved this month, although coal loadings on the line continue backward. Southern coal continues to move over the lines and that tonnage should respond to the seasonal increase in consumption from now on. "The labor situation in our own coal fields in Illinois remains uncertain and unsettled."

The Singer Manufacturing Company earned $27.76 a share in 1926 against $24.64 a share in 1925. Net profit was $24,981,231 against $22,162,080 the year before.

Structural Contracts Decline.

Structural steel contracts the last week are estimated at 28,000 tons against 30,000 the week before and 33,000 two weeks ago. New inquiries are placed at 10,000 tons compared with 15,000 the previous week.

U. S. Freight to Offer Stock.

Pipe Prices Lower.

Competition for cast iron pipe business in the Middle West continues to bring out new low prices, 800 tons placed by Anderville, Mich., at $34.35 a ton, delivered, figures back to $25.15 a ton, Birmingham. The previous low price submitted in bids for Detroit's large tonnage was equivalent to $26.00 a ton, Birmingham.

Copper Sales Increase.

Much larger sales of copper, with all sellers participating at 13⅛ cents a pound, delivered in the East, has been the feature in the non-ferrous metal market the last week, Engineering and Mining Journal reports. MAJORITY RAPS C. & O. MERGER OPPONENTS

By Universal Service.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—Attacking the contentions of the minority stockholders' committee which opposes the proposed billion dollar Van Sweringen merger as "failing to be substantiated by the evidence in this case," the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad majority filed their final brief with the Interstate Commerce Commission yesterday.

Answering every question raised by the minority, the Chesapeake and Ohio's attorneys, Charles C. McChord and Herbert Fitzpatrick, declared the proposed amalgamation of the Erie, Pere Marquette and Chespeake and Ohio into one large transportation system "is in the public interest and necessary and essential to proper development of transportation facilities."

The commission now will set a date to hear arguments of the contending sides on the problems involved in the case before a decision is handed down.

BALDWIN COM. TUMBLES $14 PER SHARE

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—(AP.)—Common stock of Baldwin Locomotive Works tumbled $14 a share on the New York Stock Exchange today, following announcement that only routine business had been transacted at the monthly meeting of the board of directors in Philadelphia. Wall street had expected that the Fisher brothers of Detroit, and A. W. Cutten, of Chicago, would renew their efforts at this meeting to secure representation on the Baldwin directorate.

The Fisher interests and Mr. Cutten have been heavy purchasers of Baldwin stock over a period of several months, and the report persisted that they would make a strong fight to secure seats on the board. On the eve of the last meeting of directors, last month, C. R. Bitting and R. P. Shields, representing the Fishers, went to Philadelphia with the announced intention of seeking admission, but returned to New York under the impression that the meeting would not be held because a quorum could not be secured.

OFFICIAL MISCELLANEOUS.

THE construction of a cofferdam to inclose the beartrap and fixed weir for Dam No. 52, Ohio River, will be commenced on or about Sept. 20, 1927. The cofferdam to be constructed is an extension of the present Detout and Chanoine Weir cofferdam and will extend to the Kentucky shore. The height of the cofferdam will be about 18 feet above low water. Navigation should proceed in the channel between the river wall of the lock and the present cofferdam, both of which will be marked at night by red lights. Navigation interests will be advised when that part of the cofferdam between the lock and Pier No. 1 is entirely removed and the area swept. The red light now displayed on the end of the cofferdam or buoy marking the limit of channel farthest away from the lock will be moved to Pier No. 1. It may not be practicable, on account of ice and drift, always to display lights as described above, consequently pilots should familiarize themselves with the exact location of the cofferdam and navigable channel. Blueprints of the cofferdam may be seen in the U. S. Engineer Offices at Pittsburgh, Huntington, Cincinnati and Louisville, and at Locks and Dams Nos. 41, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52 and 53, Ohio River. U. S. Engineer Office, P. O. BUGS BAER Says

ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER.

CHICAGO, Sept. 22.

STUNG by Gene Tunney's latest postscript, Jack Dempsey is winding up his training by taking a home course in letter writing. Tunney's P. S. insinuated that Jack did not write his own epistles and My Dear Dempsey wants to show My Dear Tunney that he is thoroughly capable of extracting all the intellectual sap from a fountain pen. Billy Gibson is the worst sufferer from the exchange of postscripts, for My Dear Flynn is claiming that My Dear Gibson is so dumb that he cannot even pick out his own souvenir postcards.

This controversy developed so suddenly that the Western Union failed to get out a booklet of appropriate insults. Therefore Gibson and Flynn have been forced to guess their own seasonal greetings.

Both camps are making great progress in correspondence and its by-products. Even Jerry the Greek is ordering alphabetical soup and getting plenty of information with each spoonful.

Chicago seems to think that the letters are the old shillaber for the fight. Rickard made the mistake of paying Tunney and Dempsey in advance. And giving a man a million dollars is no way of making him mad enough to slug another man who only got half that plunder.

Both boys stopped traning on Saturday in order to count their money.

This gives them five days for a final check-up. The ring will be 20 feet square. Dempsey wanted a 16-foot ring to enable him to get closer to Tunney in the clinches. Rickard wanted an eight-foot ring which would permit him to stick in 10 more rows of ringside seats.

Tunney held out for a 20-footer and got it. He needs plenty of space, for a fighter has to toe the scratch while a boxer loves to heel the horizon.

The big rush of suburban fight fans has started and hotel lobbies are all reserved in advance. Every time a gong rings for the bell-boy, all the guests jump up and start shadow boxing.

My Dear Tunney's nastiest postscript is being held back in case My Dear Dempsey thinks up another letter.

Tunney saw the Dempsey-Sharkey fight and seems to think that the only foul committed in that contest was when they sold tickets for it.

ON "SPINNING A WEB"

Many a PRETTY GIRL
Who started as a
COBWEB in the corner
Of some man's HEART,
Later has grown into A CABLE that Nearly strangled his Whole FUTURE existence.
For of all the armor
WOMEN use in Their subtle ATTACKS
On the unsuspecting
MALE, that of GENTLY
CLINGING is the
Most deadly.
So some girls who Look as HARMLESS as
A little FLY, act
With the CUNNING of a Great big SPIDER,
They find a nice big
VACANT HEART, and then
They start to SPIN,
Of Course, they rarely
Know what they are DOING,
Girls who do this are Not GUIDED
By their INTELLIGENCE, but
By their INSTINCTS,
Therefore, they are Naturally beyond REPROACH.

President Should Use All His Power Against French Dictation on Our Tariff

A "tariff war" is threatened between the United States and France. The reason is that France is putting into effect a new tariff discriminating against the United States. It levies its lowest duties on goods imported from Germany and Great Britain. It levies its highest duties on goods imported from the United States—four times as high as the rates applied to British and German goods.

Now President Coolidge is considering retaliation against French goods. Immediately France is defended by a group of important American newspapers, which are internationalist and low-tariff in policy, and would be glad to see the American tariff reduced.

The country is likely to be behind President Coolidge in his determination to think first of the interests of the people of the United States and the tariff which is so largely responsible for their prosperity. Protection is not now merely Republican policy. It is national policy.

The difference between the American tariff and the French tariff is the difference between bargain prices and fixed prices. The fixed rates of our tariff are the same for all countries. In return, we expect most-favored-nation treatment from every country. That is, we expect each country to give us its lowest rates in return. All of them do, except France.

Instead of a fixed import duty on each article, the French tariff has three rates of duty—maximum, intermediate and minimum. Now France proposes suddenly to apply her maximum rates to a large group of imports from the United States unless we negotiate a special treaty with her making reductions in the duty on goods that France wants to ship us.

If we made these reductions, we should have to apply them immediately to imports from all other countries with which we have most-favored-nation treaties. THAT IS, WHAT FRANCE ASKS US TO DO IS TO BREAK DOWN OUR PROTECTIVE TARIFF.

France's attitude is, in all probability, merely a maneuvre. The French find Uncle Sam an easy mark and are trying to take advantage of him in a new manner. It is not to be believed that a nation as shrewd and thrifty as France is going to endanger six and a half per cent of her exports, largely luxuries, which come to America, when she realizes that her only gain will be to hamper us, or inconvenience us, in the matter of only a small percentage of OUR exports.

Fortunately, President Coolidge possesses a threat of discrimination with which to meet the French threat. Our tariff law allows him to increase by 50 per cent the duties on imports from any country that discriminates against the trade of the United States. He can even decree a total embargo on goods from such a country.

Nobody has suggested any reason why special consideration should be given to France, even if it were possible under our law. France continues to repudiate its war debt of honor to this country. It refuses even to pay fifty cents on the dollar of its debt.

Nor is there any good reason why the President should withhold the weapon of retaliation which Congress has given him against France. He should use it just as soon as he is informed that the discrimination in favor of British and German manufacturers in the French tariff is in actual operation. The State Department will then be in position to bargain with the French, if they insist on bargaining. We will remove our discrimination if they will remove theirs.

If there is to be a "tariff war," it will not be the United States that started it. The President cannot very well stand by and watch the foreign trade of American manufacturers ruined by tariff discrimination in the only country which does not respond to our offer of most-favored-nation treatment.

Moreover, if we desire to modify our tariff policy, we should do it of our own volition and not under threats and duress exercised by a foreign power which is less sympathetic with America and American interests than any other foreign nation with the possible exception of Japan.

Pennington to Stay

The statement of Seymour Lowman, assistant secretary of the treasury, that John D. Pennington, prohibition administrator for Western Pennsylvania, will remain here meets with the approval of all good citizens. Likewise the assertion of Dr. J. M. Doran, national prohibition administrator, that there need be no fear that political influence will have any bearing in Washington when decisions of Mr. Pennington are under consideration.

Local gossip that Mr. Pennington might be moved because of his activity against law-breakers merely is gossip—nothing else. It is so weak that it had not even penetrated to the national capital, it was said by Mr. Lowman. And that's that, as far as the reputed power of so-called "fixers" is concerned.

The situation is revealed to be as it should be—an honestly energetic administrator performing his duty as he sees it, thoroughly backed by his superiors. Whatever one thinks of prohibition, it is the law of the land. It must be enforced or we are all anarchists. If we don't like it, let us repeal it. As long as we have it we must be content to see it rigidly administered and give praise and credit to such a courageous administrator as Mr. Pennington has proven himself to be.

One Fortunate Youth

Most boys have a hard time deciding what to be when they grow up.

From juvenile leanings toward the more picturesque and active vocations of policemen, cowboys and aviators, their notions shift with the years and the discovery of fancied bents for law, medicine, business or what-not.

Even then it is difficult for them to make up their minds. And many a young man embarks enthusiastically upon a career, only to learn after much wasted effort that he isn't fitted for it and doesn't like it. Then he must about-face and try something else.

William LaMance, the fortunate youth of this discussion, established a record for quick decision as to how he will earn a living. It required exactly two minutes and fifty seconds.

William, who is 19 and the son of an evangelistic clergyman who had been an amateur boxer of parts, thought he wanted to be a pugilist; on the other hand, he thought he'd like to be a dentist.

Some successful ring encounters gave fisticuffs a strong shade over the tooth-tinkering. Then William faced the lusty Joe Sturino in a Long Island city bout when—presto!—he knew he was going to be a dentist; a knockout punch can jolt ambition as well as the jaw.

Lots of lads would like to take a right-hand wallop if it would settle their puzzling problems. They will envy William, who had

Garrett P Serviss Says:

Iron Organisms

THERE is something abrupt about the term "iron organisms." It shocks attention. What, a living creature made up of iron? Yes, undoubtedly, if the "doctors" are right, but yet a creature very unlike ourselves, only an "iron bacterium," for instance—but still, iron that, in a sense, has become alive, or at least forms the principal part of a thing manifesting the characteristics of life.

"The air carries as spores, or cysts, many iron organisms," say the wondersmith's of the research laboratories. They have names for some of these organisms, old names made up out of the ancient myth-forming tongues (now so much dragooned into the service of straight-laced science), such names as "toxothrix," attached to an organism which it appears was first described in Japan, where there exists one of the deep salients of advancing science.

At Stanford University they demonstrated the existence of the Japanese "toxothrix" in the California atmosphere by "sucking outside air through sterile culture flasks. Within five days cultures appeared, among which the curious toxothrix, described by Molisch from Japan, was conspicuous."

It is also written that "the natural occurrence of iron organisms around Stanford University seem to be related to the aeration of deep waters, either through cracks in a reservoir dam or from deep wells and springs."

But in its scientific aspect this is something for the advanced students of biological chemistry, or chemical biology. Its appeal to the general mind is confined to the startling idea of an iron organism. Although some iron is present in our bodies, and people occasionally take "iron pills," yet we do not ordinarily associate that formidable metal with life—unless we think of its life-taking possibilities when shaped into cold steel. So, the imagination is stirred by this strange term.

But what a difference in its effect upon the imagination of the story teller and upon that of the research man. It plunges the latter into new depths of mysterious region, where the atoms are governed by their strange laws, and where the master puzzle of life lies hidden, while it urges the story teller to fresh inventions of pure fantasy. To him an "iron organism" implies the possibility of an iron man. The reins are instantly dropped upon the neck of the magic horse, who flies away into the "heaven of invention"—invention unhampered by dull-eyed fact.

When scientific research brings about important reforms and improvements in the daily life of the inhabitants of this earth its interest for everybody is without rival, but when it strikes off a spark that kindles curiosity without producing any great practical results, its popular interest is confined to the imagination.

Once Overs

By J. J. MUNDY.

Be Prepared

YOU may be too satisfied and contented with your present condition.

Affairs move along pretty smoothly for you.

The present holds little for you to worry about.

Your health is good; there is no change in the management of the concern for which you work and you are reasonably sure of retaining your job.

You have regulated expenses to go within your income but there is not much of a surplus.

However, you are not worrying about accumulating money while conditions are so favorable.

If you should lose your job through some unforseen event, you might need several hundred dollars very badly.

You might be ill, laid up by accident with injuries that would take a lot of money and require many months for recovery.

If you have an ounceful of brains you ought to see the force of this argument and begin today to get that "rainy day" fund together.

Better men than you have needed it. Start now.

Sea Wind

OUT of the infinite regions of space, out of the measureless ocean's embrace, over the green, unquiet sheen of the waves comes the wind to my face. Strange are the tales of the sea that it brings, beauty and terror and wonder it sings; tales of the old mariners bold, tales of mermaid and monster it bears on its wings. Drinking deep draughts of the wind, I rejoice; wine to my soul is the tone of its voice, now harsh and wild, now sweet and mild, song of the sea-wind, the wind of my choice! Out of the measureless vasts of the sea swift comes the sea-wind, untainted and free, out of the deeps where song never sleeps, voice of the sea-wind keeps calling to me.

In California

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 22.—The night before Jack Dempsey entrained for Chicago several weeks ago, I spent the evening at his home on Los Feliz boulevard. The home, not at all pretentious, sits on a wide expanse of lawn surrounded by a clipped hedge with a steep hill rising in the rear.

Dempsey meets people well, yet there is an engaging and boyish shyness about him. He has a panther-like nervousness. He was concerned at the time about the illness of his wife, Estelle Taylor, and slipped away to her bedside several times. During the evening he called me to a side porch.

There in a hammock was the faithful and omnipresent Jerry the Greek, his trainer. He is a sly, partly bald, squat and phlegmatic fellow whose devotion and manner are somehow remindful of the loyal St. Bernard. Dempsey told me after he lost his championship to Tunney, Jerry was so despondent he was watched constantly to frustrate a threat to commit suicide.

Dempsey's home is built for comfort more than show. It has a "homey" atmosphere. On the lawn frolicked a Pekinese and the rarest sort of dog I ever saw—a coal black pug. Dempsey explained he did not keep liquor in his home, although he is not a strict teetotaler, but would like to mix us a tocktail.

It was a pinkish, sour drink, well chilled and extremely palatable—but without the customary wallop. He referred to the man who cost him his crown frequently as "Mr. Tunney" and with respect. Dempsey's love for children is always noticeable.

A little neighbor girl with charming curls come running in and plopped herself beside him. Her eyes were all for her copper bronze hero and he chatted with her in the easy manner rarely accomplished by grownups. Later in a call at another home there was a little five-year-old boy and most of the evening he sat on the ex-champion's lap.

He seemed perfectly sincere when several called him Mr. Dempsey to admonish: "Everybody calls me Jack. Mister Dempsey never sounds right. I feel embarrassed." His hotel in Los Angeles is prospering and so are several real estate ventures. His financial security is secure.

* * *

Rupert Hughes also has a beautiful home on Los Feliz boulevard and at a dinner in honor of Ray Long and Roy Howard the other evening he announced he had been up all night finishing the second volume of the history of George Washington. A third volume also will be written. It is a labor of love.

Yesterday Adolph Bernheimer took a group of us over the grounds of the fringe of Los Angeles. He built that famous hill-top Hollywood Japanese home for several millions and when it was finished sold it for a paltry sum. He is now in the second year of building his new home.

It will take, he says, 10 years to finish the job. The grounds wind around to a dizzy peak which gives a sweeping view of Santa Monica Beach and the Pacific. The serpentine ramps to the lofty height are so graded you have the feeling of walking on level ground. At each turn is a magnificent bronze set in concrete.

Mr. Bernheimer is a bachelor reputed worth fifty millions. He spends much time in the Orient and his home is filled with treasures from there. His new home will be a small affair of five rooms with a row of small guest houses on the top pinnacle. He has concentrated artistic ideas chiefly on the grounds, studded with Japanese trees and Japanese and California flowers.

And at a dinner at Dr. Frank Crane's, who is now living here permanently, were Judge Ben Lindsey and William S. Hart. Curiously enough Judge Lindsey is as lively as a cricket and Hart as solemn as a judge. Rob Wagner, pioneer writer about Hollywood, was also there.

One of the institutions of Los Angeles is the Breakfast Club. The big-wigs in the financial and industrial world go there every Friday morning at 6 o'clock and horseback ride until 7. Then they sit down to a breakfast of ham and eggs. A gentleman from Brooklyn started it and it has made him a fortune. Organizing clubs is a profitable profession here.

A Business Romance

By DR. FRANK CRANE.

Just another one of those amazing stories of the rise form nothing to affluence, stories which are so common now in America.

Many people know that the motor business is becoming quite common, but few of them are aware of how important a part it plays.

Only a few years ago, in 1912, a man by the name of Hayes had to leave Mexico and he located in San Diego, where he could be near his Mexican interests. Here he found he had to make a living, and with a second-hand Ford automobile he established a regular route for passenger traffic between the towns of San Diego and Escandido, a distance of about 50 miles.

That little industry has now expanded until it has 438 regular schedules with buses that arrive and depart with the accuracy of railroad trains.

It covers territory from Portland to Amarillo, Tex., a distance of some 5,000 miles.

It serves some 1,000 towns with its various branches. Between San San Diego and San Francisco it runs de luxe buses that serve meals, have toilets and washstands, radios and card tables.

Many people find it pleasanter to travel by bus through the country than to travel by railroad.

It is as safe or safer than railroad travel, for only one person has been killed in the last three and a half years.

It makes its own buses, it buys second-hand motors of the very best quality and makes them over, so that the buses are not run by cheap and shoddy motors.

It buys no tires; in fact, it does not own any tires, but rents all its tires at so much epr mile.

In six towns it has terminal buildings for its passengers and in two towns it owns hotels.

The man who ran a second-hand Ford and carried passengers between San Diego and Escandido 15 years ago is still the managing head of the company. It is now a public utility under the control of the state.

To increase a business from a little private automobile to a huge flock of buses operating on 438 schedules is going some. The man has scored a signal and typical American success.

THE LIFE OF THOMAS A. EDISON

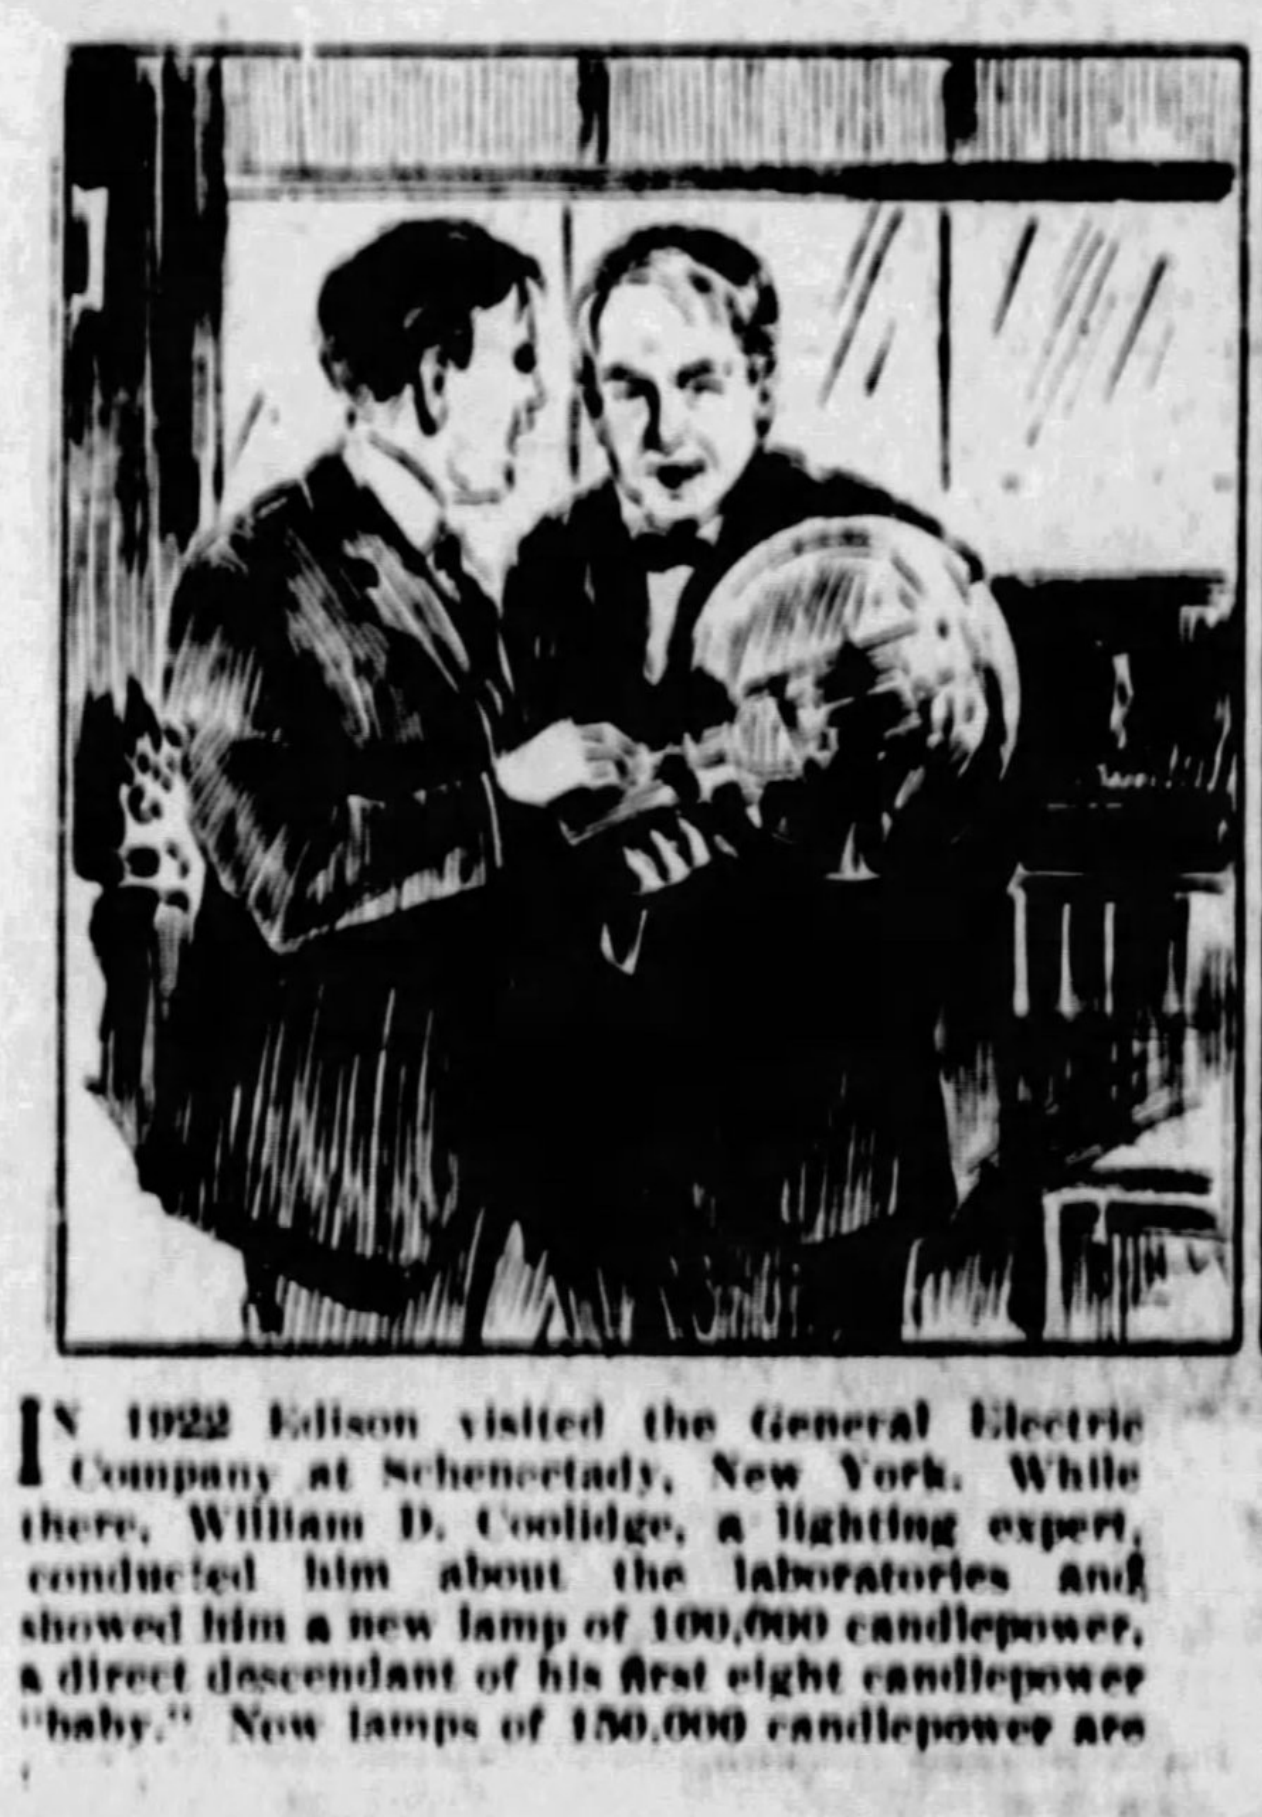
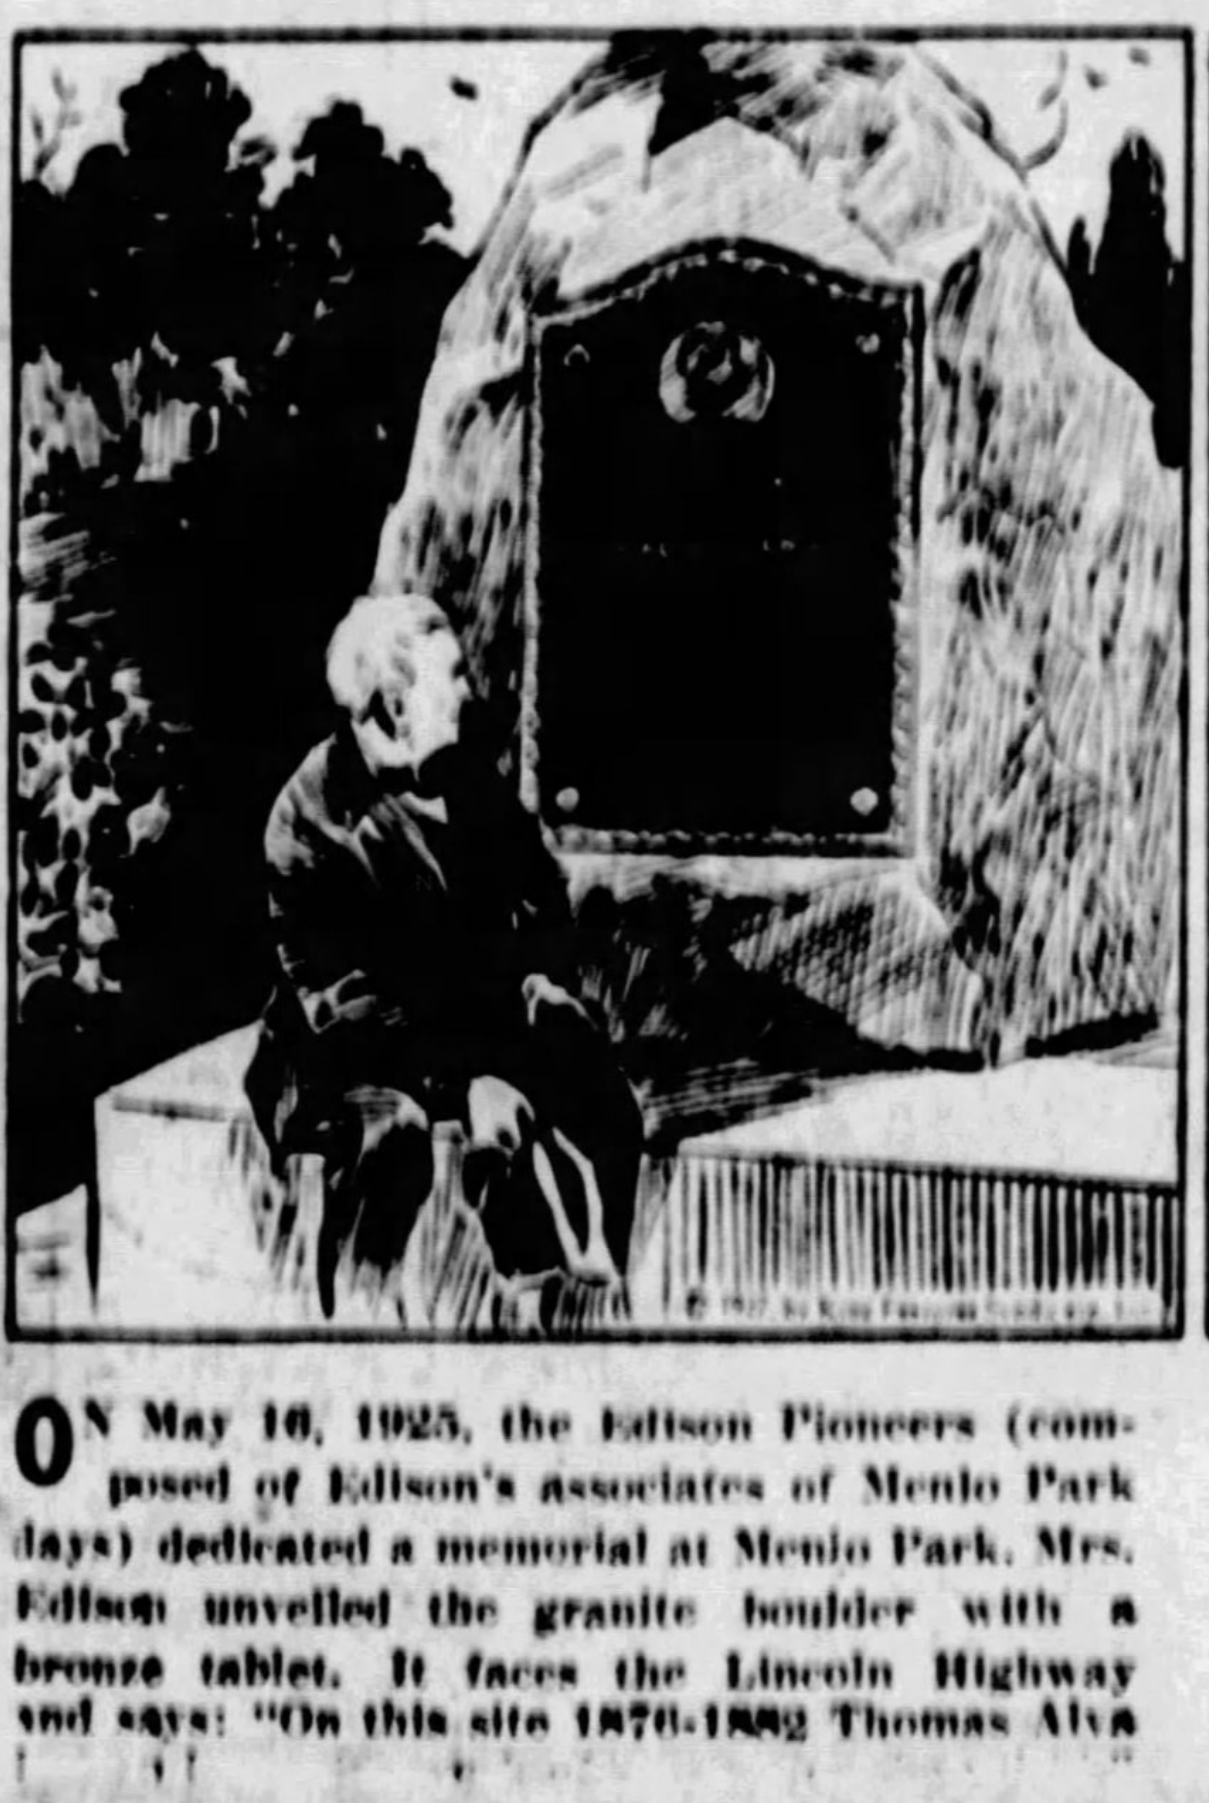
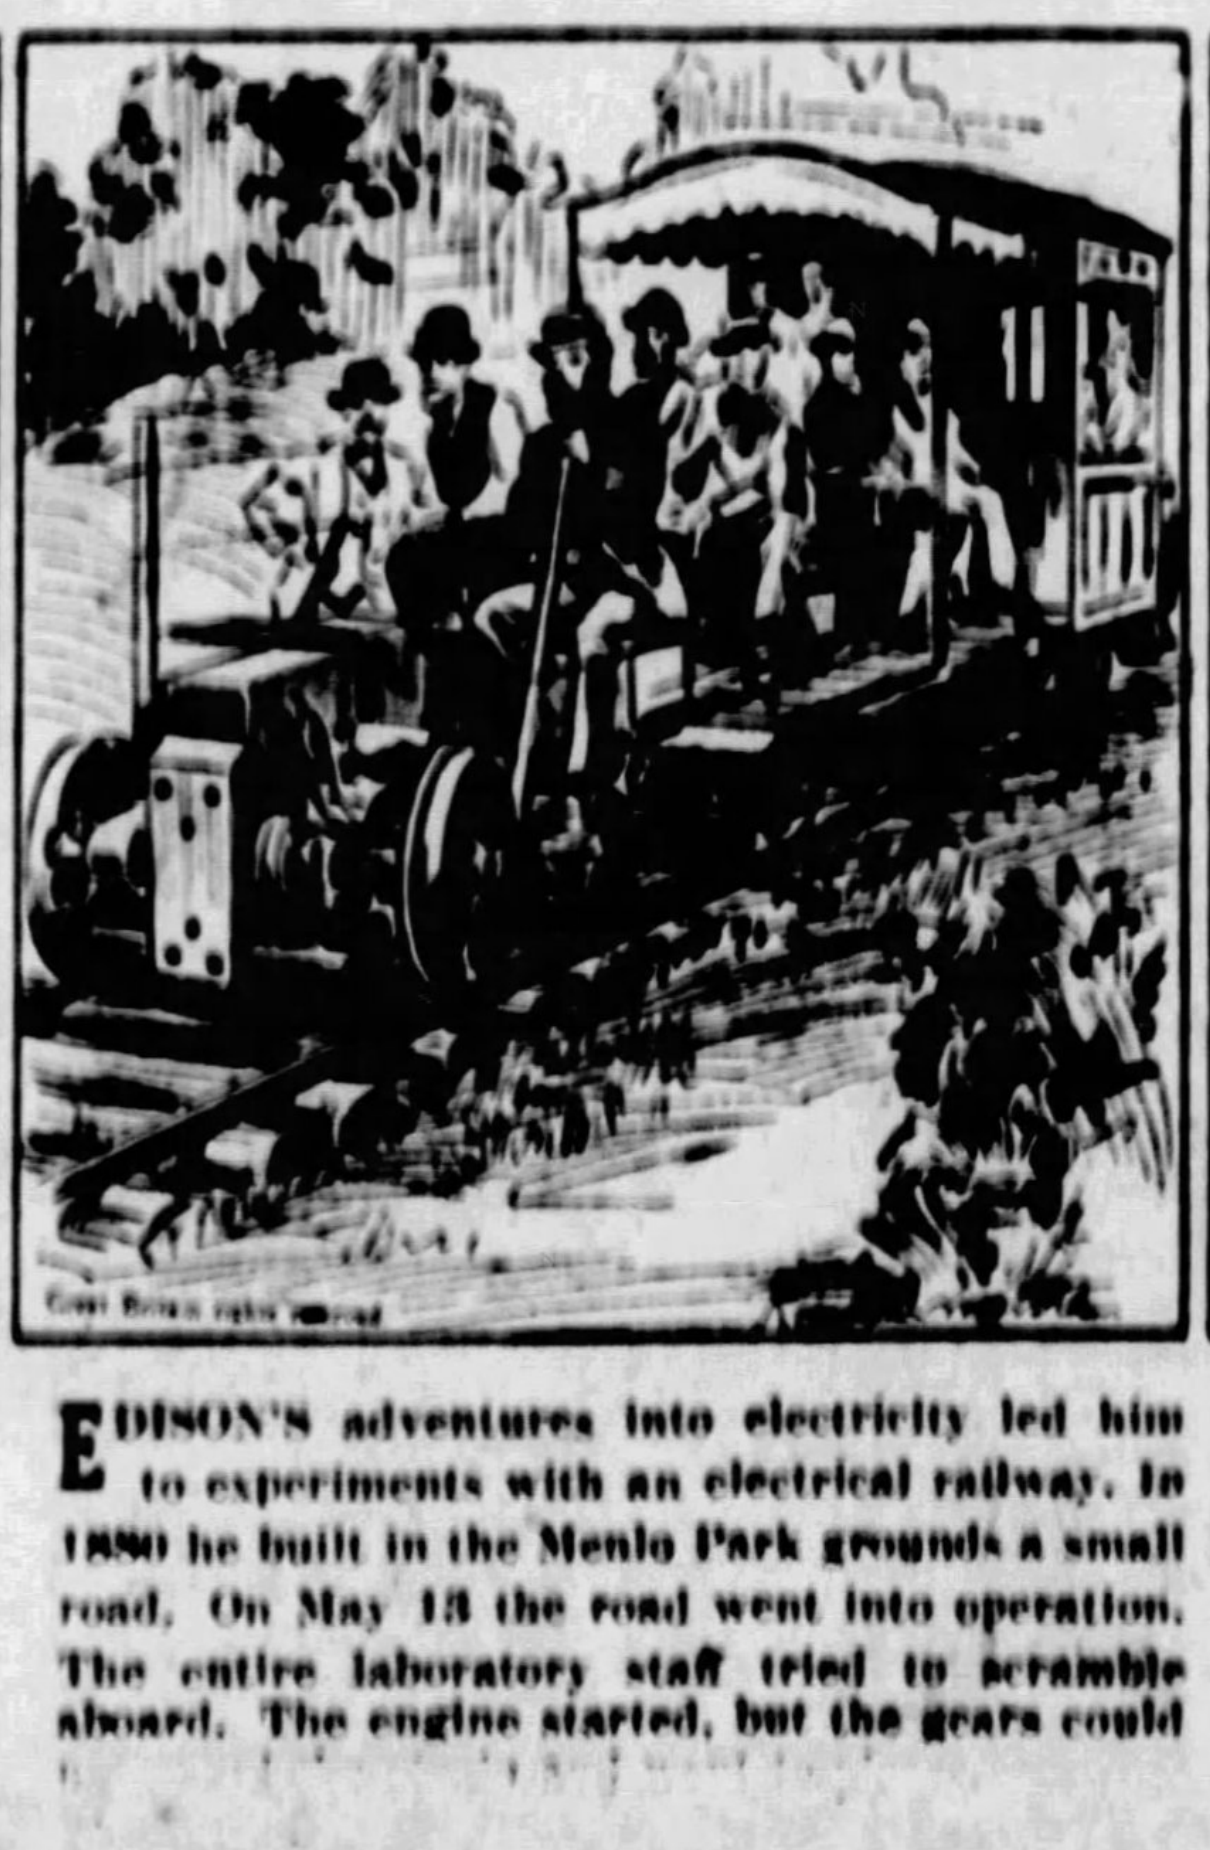
Text by Arthur J. Palmer
Drawings by Frank Kuchenmeister



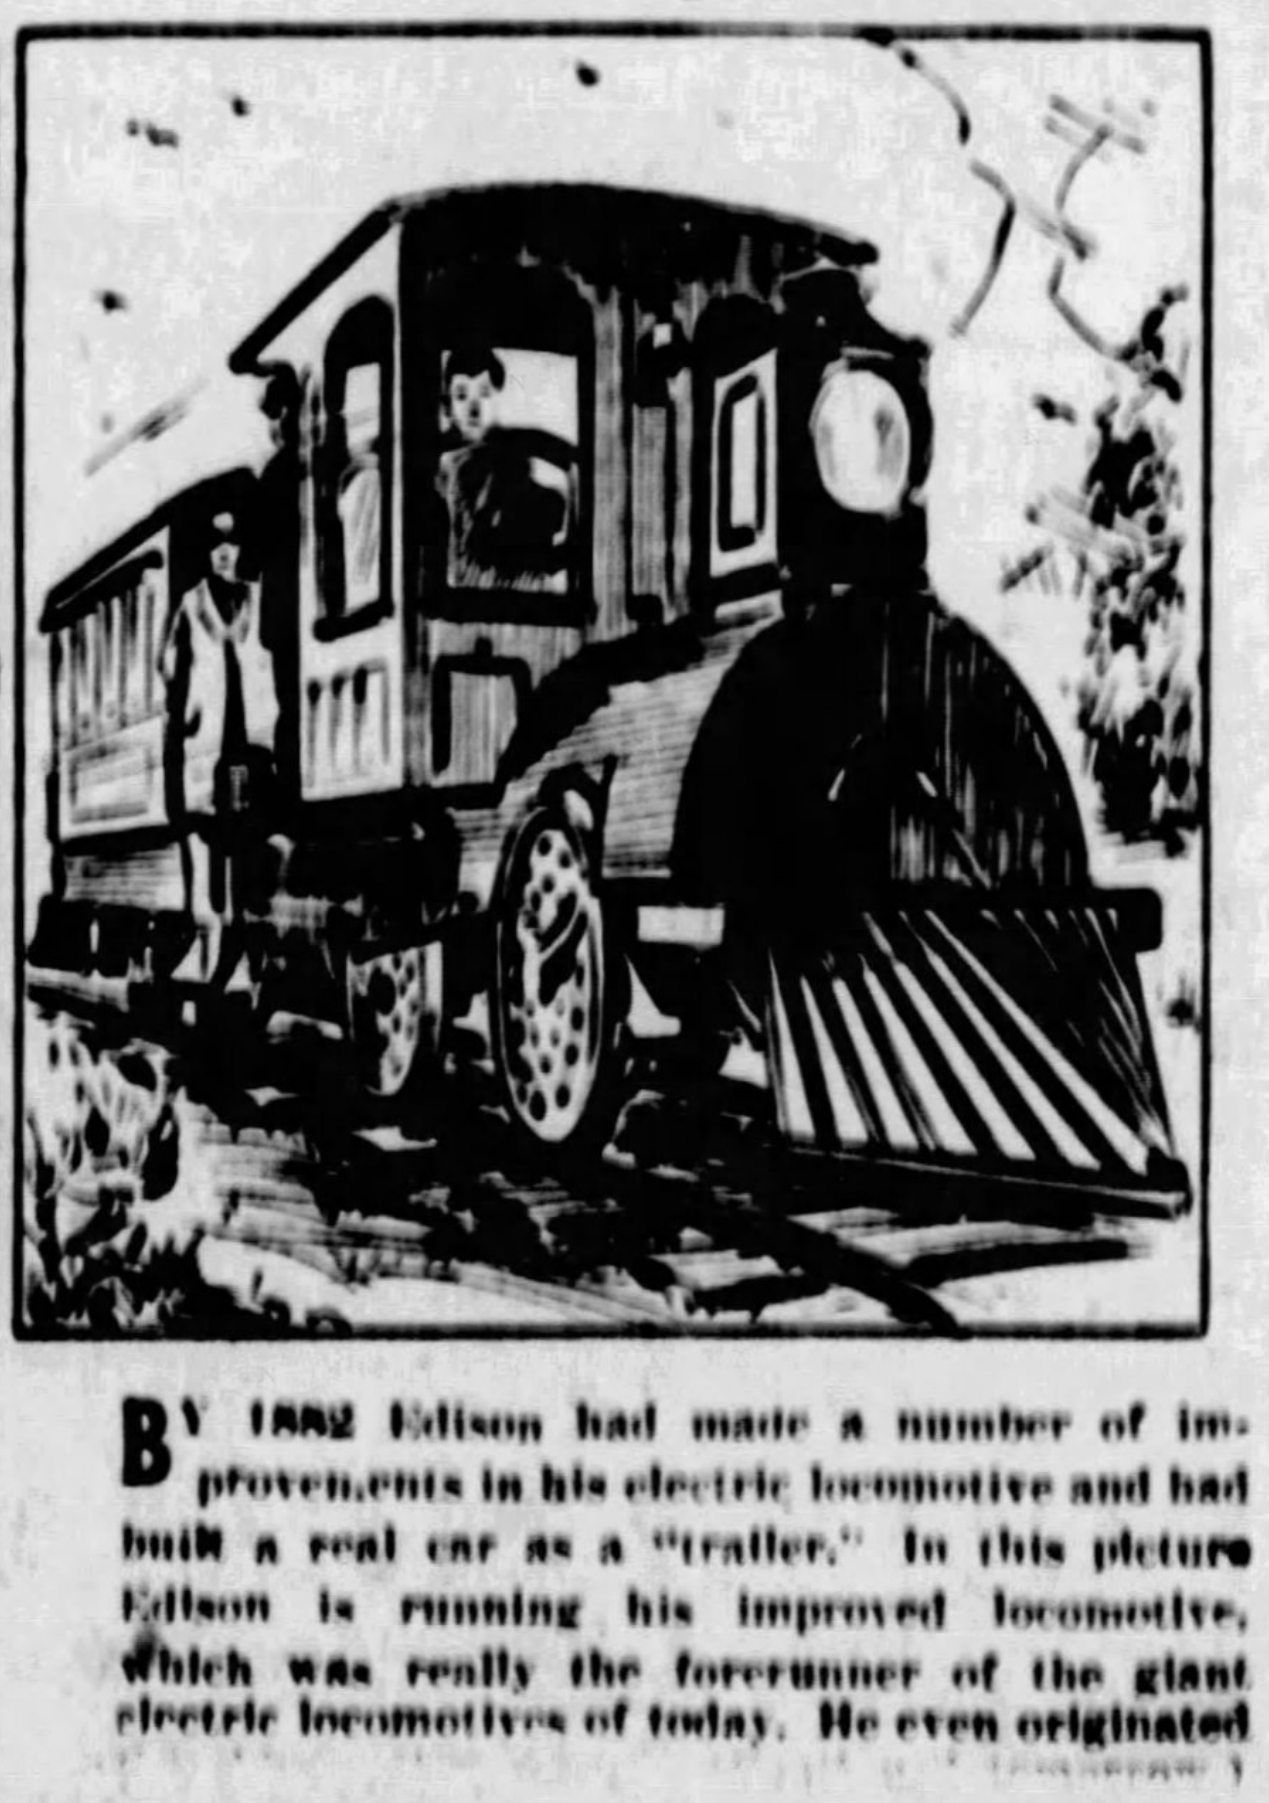
IN 1922 Edison visited the General Electric Company at Schenectady, New York. While there, William D. Coolidge, a lighting expert, conducted him about the laboratories and showed him a new lamp of 100,000 candlepower, a direct descendant of his first eight candlepower "baby." New lamps of 150,000 candlepower are



ON May 16, 1925, the Edison Pioneers (composed of Edison's associates of Menlo Park days) dedicated a memorial at Menlo Park. Mrs. Edison unveiled the granite boulder with a bronze tablet. It faces the Lincoln Highway and says: "On this site 1876-1882 Thomas Alva



EDISON'S adventures into electricity led him to experiments with an electrical railway. In 1880 he built in the Menlo Park grounds a small road. On May 13 the road went into operation. The entire laboratory staff tried to scramble aboard. The engine started, but the gears could



BY 1882 Edison had made a number of improvements in his electric locomotive and had built a real car as a "trailer." In this picture Edison is running his improved locomotive, which was really the forerunner of the giant electric locomotives of today. He even originated
